FAVOR A TWO-MILL TAX
South Portland Citizens Also Denounce Taxpayers' League.
Two hundred men of South Portland sat on cracker boxes and stood upon their feet for two hours last night while the South Portland Citizens' Association was organized, the Colwell bill for a 2-mill tax for bridges and fills discussed, and the Taxpayers' League soundly roasted. The meeting was held in Terwilliger's Hall, on South First street.

WILL GET THE BANK.—St. Johns will get the bank promised by Charles Woods, of Saginaw, Mich., some time ago. Mr. Woods, who is now in the East, informed F. C. Knapp, secretary of the Peninsula Lumber Company, that he had completed arrangements to open the bank in the early part of May, with ample capital behind it. Mr. Knapp was authorized to go ahead and get the bank fixtures manufactured and put in place. A room in the Cochran building on Jersey street has been secured.

CLUBBED ABOUT THE HEAD
W. H. Wilson, the Proprietor, Runs Away, but Is Arrested, and Admits That He Did the Beating.
W. H. Wilson, proprietor of the notorious Badger saloon, Fourth and Davis streets, last night about 10 o'clock assaulted and probably fatally wounded an unknown man who was under the influence of intoxicants. The assault, which resulted from an altercation over a woman, was committed with a loaded club, the kind that were formerly carried by the patrolmen. The injured man was taken to the Good Samaritan Hospital, where little hope is held for his recovery. Wilson, who immediately took flight after the assault, was captured later.

WOODCRAFT HEADQUARTERS CARRIED WITH IT A HEAVY BUSINESS.
J. M. Woodworth, clerk of Multnomah Club, No. 77, who has interested himself in securing for Portland the location of the headquarters of Women of Woodcraft, is pleased with the result of the contest in Los Angeles. He says that it will mean the erection of a building of several stories, costing about $20,000. For several days past Mr. Woodworth, in response to a telegram from James Ruddiman, a delegate from Los Angeles, had some effective telegrams sent to the headquarters of the Oregon Development Club. He thinks that, perhaps, the offer by William Reid of a building lot for the headquarters was being secured. As Mr. Reid made this offer some time ago, it is supposed he must have repeated it in Los Angeles. For the year 1904 the headquarters of the Oregon Development Club, Stationery, $12,000.00; postage, $132.50; freight and express, $89.32; telephone and telephone, $246.40; light and fuel, $185.55; salaries of 21 clerks, $15,000.00; four heads of department, $1,000.00; $650.00; total disbursements from the headquarters for 1904, $20,000.00; receipts, $48,512.21. Mr. Woodworth thinks these figures will be exceeded considerably if the headquarters come to Portland, as the vote indicates that they will.

WILL CELEBRATE OHIO DAY.
The most prominent feature of the meeting of the Oregon Society, held in the Marquam building last night, was a spirited debate between the members who were present as to whether refreshments would be served. After about half an hour of good-natured wrangling it was decided to serve refreshments, and a committee was appointed to visit the confectioneries and return with whatever they could find.

LONG TRIP WITH DOG TEAM.
ASHLAND, Or., April 28.—(Special.)—Relatives at his home in this city have just received a message from J. Crit Tolman, who was appointed chief deputy by the new United States Marshal for Alaska, T. C. O'Connell, of the safe arrival of himself and Mr. Powell at Nome on April 27. They sailed from Seattle February 16, and after reaching Valdez, made the journey by dog team 150 miles from there to Nome, across the mountains of ice and snow.

LOGGERS DROWNED IN CHEHALIS.
DOY, Wash., April 28.—Charles Naylor, aged about 25 years, while at work in a logging camp of the Doty Lumber Company, on the Chehalis River, between here and Pe Ell, slipped from a floating log and drowned before help could reach him. It appears that Naylor, in company with another workman, came down to the river to get a drink and ventured out on a floating log, and when in midstream he slipped from the log into about 20 feet of water, and before his companion could get to him, he sank, and it was nearly half an hour before his body could be found and recovered.

DR. WISE ON CASTE
Regarding Class Distinctions He Sounds Warning.
"Cast and Class in America" was the subject of the address given last night at the Temple Beth Israel by Rabbi Wise. It was a lecture that thrilled those who listened to it and pointed out to them the danger of the present-day tendency towards class distinction and the recognition of the power of wealth and social position founded on differences of class.

REVIVAL OF DEMOCRACY
He Holds Out for the Universal Recognition of Merit Respective of Position and the Equality of Man.
