

SHOOTING RIVAL

Business Jealousy Is Stated as Probable Cause of the Tragedy.

VANDRAN BADLY WOUNDED

Joseph Young Calls Him Out of Saloon and Fires Four Shots After Vandran Returns to His Bar.

K. Vandran, proprietor of the Washington Cafe, located at 40 Washington street, was shot and perhaps fatally wounded at 1 o'clock this morning by Joseph Young, aged 41 years, the proprietor of the saloon adjoining Vandran's resort. Young immediately surrendered himself to the police. Business jealousy is supposed to have been the cause of the shooting.

There were but two or three men in the saloon at the time of the affray. Young entered Vandran's place of business and requested the latter to step out on the sidewalk, saying he desired to say something to him. Vandran immediately complied, and they were upon the outside of the saloon for about ten minutes. At the expiration of that time Vandran again entered the saloon, closely followed by Young.

"I'm not running any d— bluff," Young was saying. "I mean what I say."

Those in the saloon saw Vandran smile sarcastically and pass toward the end of the bar. He stopped about midway toward the front of the room and began removing glasses from the counter. As he stooped to place the glasses beneath the bar, Young leaned over and fired two shots in quick succession. The bullets narrowly missed Vandran and smashed into the bottles back of the bar. Vandran started to run toward the end of the counter as though to escape. Young fired a third time, the bullet striking the victim in the left arm. Vandran slipped at the end of the bar and started to fall, and as he did so Young fired the fourth time. The bullet entered Vandran's body directly above the heart and glanced upward. Vandran screamed and dropped to the floor.

Henry Schneider, a musician in the band of the Fourteenth Infantry, located at Vancouver Barracks, who happened to be in the saloon, started to run toward Young as if to effect a capture. Young promptly drew another revolver from a pocket and covered the musician. In another instant he placed both weapons on the saloon bar and told them to send for the police.

At this juncture, passing police officers, who had been attracted by the noise of the shots, entered the saloon. To these Young surrendered himself. A hurry call was sent in for the police ambulance, and Vandran was removed to Good Samaritan Hospital, where he was at once placed on the operating table. Examination revealed that his wounds were very serious, probably fatal.

Those who were in the saloon at the time of the shooting declare that Young and Vandran did not quarrel when upon the outside, or if they did it was in low tones. Young refused flatly to make a statement to the police last night. After his arrest he did not speak except to give his name and age. It is alleged that the two men have had trouble for some time past, business jealousy being given as the cause. Employees of the two resorts would make no statement last night, beyond stating that there had been trouble between the men.

Young had been drinking before the shooting took place, and it was overcome by the influence of liquor, and took matters coolly after the deed had been committed. He even smiled as he was being searched at the police station. His manner indicated that the shooting had been premeditated. The two revolvers which he handed over to the police were exactly alike, and absolutely new, evidently having been purchased recently. They were fired from one revolver. Young not using the other except to cover, for a few seconds, the men in the saloon.

Illinoisans Hold Meeting.

The Illinois State Society held another of its meetings at night at the Chamber of Commerce Hall. More than 300 people were present and a pleasing evening was spent. The purposes of the society were discussed and plans for the work to be done during the progress of the Exposition were talked over and at the close of the evening a great many visitors added their names to the membership roll. Miss Hazel Minor entertained those present with a recitation and Mrs. Abigail Scott Dunway spoke briefly on the work to be done by the organization and what it could accomplish during the year. At the close of the program a social hour was spent, during which refreshments were served. The next meeting will be held on the first Wednesday in June.

Ad. Men's League Has Banquet.

The Portland Ad. Men's League gave an informal dinner at night at the Chamber of Commerce Hall. The menu was arranged in a novel series of conundrums. The league was formed for the purpose of fostering a spirit of comradeship among the advertising writers of this city and to raise the standard of the calling and thus enhance the value of the work done by them.

Third Ward Indorses Candidates.

The Third Ward Independent Political Club, at its headquarters, Front street, between Burnside and Couch streets, last night indorsed J. P. Sharkey and A. N. Willis for Councilmen-at-large, and a candidate for Councilman of Third Ward. About 300 members of the meeting and several rousing speeches were made, especially by the candidates mentioned, and Judge George J. Cameron.

Deserter a Trainwrecker.

Harry Gisaell, arrested by Detective Vaughn as a deserter from the United States ship Buffalo, has been identified as one of a quartet who derailed and attempted to rob a Southern Pacific passenger train south of Albany, Or., several years ago. He was convicted and sent to the penitentiary for four years. He is held pending instructions from the Navy Department at Washington, D. C.
