

SHOOTING OF HIS FIRESIDE

Defense of John T. Dickens, on Trial for His Life at McMinnville.

POTTER RUINED HIS CHILD

When Called to Account by Father, the Seducer Was Insolent and Used Abusive and Threatening Language.

McMINNVILLE, Or., May 2.—(Special.)—Because of a father's love and protecting care for his 15-year-old daughter, John T. Dickens, of Sheridan, this county, faces a charge of murder in the first degree for killing Marvin L. Potter on the streets of this town, November 14, 1904.

Dickens is over medium height, has gray hair and brown mustache, well proportioned and of a pleasant appearance. During the morning trial he sat, by his attorneys, calm and attentive to every word uttered. He has lost the tan of an outdoor life, and his complexion is of nearly six months. The defendant has been quiet and composed since taken into custody, November 14, 1904, and has made no statement in regard to the tragedy, to anyone, aside from his attorneys.

The work of selecting a jury was completed this morning at 9:30 o'clock, nearly two jury lists having been exhausted before the required 12 persons could be secured. The jury, consisting chiefly of intelligent-looking farmers from various sections of the county, was immediately sworn in by Judge George Burnett and the case opened.

Prosecuting Attorney McNary presented the theory of the case for the prosecution. The state's attorneys will endeavor to show that the crime was premeditated, without the knowledge of ill-feeling between the defendant and the murdered man.

A hush fell upon the filled courtroom when James McCain, counsel for the defendant, arose to state the case for the defense, for it was not known upon what basis the defense would base its argument. Mr. McCain stated that there would be two witnesses to the crime, that of self-defense and that of great provocation. He then proceeded to state the setting of the tragedy.

Sad Drama in Real Life.
If the defense can substantiate its position, the circumstances that finally culminated in the shooting of Marvin L. Potter on a Sheridan street, November 14, are of a trying and degrading nature and will be rated as one of the saddest dramas ever enacted in this county. The setting given by the state for the defense is in substance as follows:

Marvin L. Potter, a man of about 30 years of age, debauched Myrtle Dickens, the 15-year-old daughter of a prominent citizen, who was proprietor of a Sheridan hotel, and when warned to desist from the course he was pursuing he agreed to remain away from the hotel for a period of six months, but when he returned he was admitted having wronged her. This he failed to do and after administering a drug to her, he proceeded to commit the crime. About this time Dickens and Potter met and had a few words, whereupon, so the defense claims, the hotel-keeper told Potter to stay away, and that he did not care to talk with him, and said:

"If you persist in talking, there must be something else, now tell me about that matter between you and my daughter."
Potter leaned against a fence and asked:
"What do you want to say to me?"
Dickens replied: "You persisted in meeting my daughter when you promised that you would not do so."
Potter then stepped forward with his hand under his coat and said:
"Go to hell, she is nothing but a little ass."
When Dickens started to reply, Potter said as he stepped forward:
"Come on, I'll fix you."

Dickens Fires Three Times.
The defendant then drew his revolver and shot Potter, who fell to the ground, and began to rise, when Dickens shot him twice in the back in quick succession. The above is in brief the case as set forth by the defense, who claim that under such provocation and circumstances the shooting must have been done in self-defense and that the act was not such that murder was the motive.

The first witness for the state was County Surveyor R. W. Jones, who began to explain a chart that had been prepared and supported to represent that section of Sheridan where the crime occurred. Owing to an inaccuracy in the chart, the witness was dismissed and the chart not used.

Dr. Anderson, of Sheridan, was called. He was the first physician to reach the victim after the shooting occurred. He stated that on hearing the shots fired he stepped to the street to ascertain the cause, when he saw Potter lying face down near the sidewalk a short distance away, endeavoring to arise. He ran to his aid and with him carried him to his office, where he was cared for until Dr. Gilstrap arrived and an operation was attempted, but the man was in too weak a condition to undergo the operation. Dr. Anderson said:

No Weapon Found on Potter.

In accordance with the teaching of medical jurisprudence, the body of the victim was searched for weapons, but found none save a small penknife.

The doctor then described the course of the bullets and produced two of them that had been removed at the post mortem examination. One of the bullets was slightly spread on one side. He also said that while carrying the wounded man to his place he saw Dickens, smoking a pipe and pale, still carrying the revolver in his right hand, walk over where he could see Potter as they took him to the office, and that he watched the wounded man closely, not being over 30 feet away, Dr. Anderson said:

"When we had taken him home he asked, 'What do you think of it, are there any chances?' I replied, 'Marvin, I believe your days are numbered,' whereupon he said, 'I thought so from the start.'"

The witness testified that Potter lived until about 3 P. M. the next day, and that before dying he said: "John Dickens shot me and got me bad."

Statement Spotted by Rain.

C. C. Linden, when called to the witness stand, said that he had a statement of Potter in regard to the shooting that he had written on paper with indelible pencil with a signature by Potter, but that the paper had been rained upon and blurred, that he could read about half of it, and that he had destroyed the original copy. At this point the defense objected to the paper filled out in any such manner and the objection was sustained.

Before the trial began Judge Burnett excluded all witnesses from the courtroom.

Doctors Gilstrap and Cook were rigidly examined, but introduced no evidence that had not been given by Dr. Anderson in the morning.

Boys Give Testimony.

Roy Simpson, a 15-year-old boy, was the first to testify that he saw the shooting. He said that he was on the crossing walk near Noyes street and saw Potter and Dickens talking, but could not understand the purport of their conversation. The two men moved about some and Dickens shot the deceased three times, very short interval occurring between the first and second shots and then Dickens walked back toward his own hotel. The boy's testimony would give the impression that there was possibly a controversy between the men at that time. Virgil Humble and Ralph Cain, two other boys, stated about the same things, but said that they failed to see the weapon.

Harry Southmair, a nephew of Marvin Potter, and Thomas Scroggins both testified that the defendant, while Potter was being carried to the office of Dr. Anderson, crossed over the street and closely observed the man as he was taken by all the while holding the revolver in his hand. There was some variation in the testimony at this point in regard to where the defendant stood and as to the reason for his standing there.

The father of the deceased was on the stand a short time, but introduced no new evidence. The testimony for the prosecution is complete, all the leading witnesses for the defense have not yet been examined. During the afternoon session the courtroom was filled to the doors.

SHOT BY A DRUNKEN FRIEND

NIGHT WATCHMAN CRATE AT THE DALLIES MAY DIE.

Frank Summers, an Unemployed Bartender, Refused to Be Arrested When Noisy.

THE DALLIES, Or., May 2.—(Special.)—Night Watchman John Crate was shot and perhaps fatally wounded this morning in the Whitehouse saloon by Frank Summers, an unemployed bartender. Summers, who was intoxicated and quarrelsome, had been taken home earlier in the morning, but returning began making trouble in the saloon. Crate, who had been summoned to the Whitehouse by a telephone message, attempted to arrest Summers. With the assistance of his brother, also an officer, Crate overpowered Summers before he was discovered by the police. Summers was immediately removed to the hospital, where he lies in a critical condition.

The two men were excellent friends. Summers' intoxicated condition alone accounts for the attack. Crate is a life-long resident of The Dalles and extremely popular as an officer. The outcome of his injuries is watched with universal anxiety.

WILL TESTIFY FOR LAUTH

Pendleton Woman Believes She Can Save Murderer's Neck.

PENDLETON, Or., May 2.—(Special.)—Mrs. Charles Alley, of this city, believes that she has evidence in her possession that will save the life of George Lauth, condemned to die for the murder of his mistress, Mrs. Lenora Jones at Oregon City, in September, 1904.

Mrs. Alley states that she was visiting at the home of Mrs. Parkes, on the southeast corner of Fifth and Main streets, about two weeks ago, when she was before the commission of the crime when Mrs. Jones, whom she knew as Mrs. Lauth, came into Mrs. Parkes' apartment to use the sewing machine. It was while the Jones woman was using the machine that Mrs. Alley overheard her tell Mrs. Parkes of a scheme by which she intended to ruin the life of Lauth, who is a cripple. She told Mrs. Parkes:

"Lauth has got quite a sum of money which he realized from his cigar store in Roseburg, when I induced him to sell it, and he is fascinated by the attention I show him, and just as soon as I can get the money I intend to leave him. What do I want to waste my time on a cripple for?"

Mrs. Alley failed to introduce her testimony at the trial because she did not think Lauth would be convicted, and did not wish notoriety. She only knew the principals in the tragedy by sight and did not want the impression spread that she was a gossip. She could not be silent any longer when she read that Lauth's mother fainted on hearing the decision, and wrote to Dimick, Lauth's attorney, last night, saying she would appear and testify at any time.

'VARSITY DAY AT THE FAIR

Fitting Celebration Will Be Given With Some Oratory.

UNIVERSITY OF OREGON, Eugene, May 2.—(Special.)—Friday, June 16, has been set aside as University Day, the Lewis and Clark Fair, President Campbell announces that the day will be fittingly celebrated. Some noted orator who can do justice to the virtues and significance of the Lewis and Clark expedition, but one of the founders of American universities.

Among the noted men whose names have been mentioned as orator for the day are Senator Robert M. La Follette, of Wisconsin, and Oswald Villard, of the New York Evening Post. There will be a reunion of University of Oregon alumni and numerous exercises in connection with the day's celebration.

Sent South by Government.

BERKELEY, Cal., May 2.—Lincoln Hutchings, a graduate of the University of California and for some years a member of the staff of the College of Commerce of the university, has been appointed by the United States Government a special commissioner for the study of commercial relations between the United States and the South American countries. He is to spend the next nine months in the southern hemisphere in these investigations, after which he will resume his work in the department of commerce.

Very Bad Cough Cured by Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

For three months Mr. Gail Woodworth of Stevens Point, Wis., was troubled with a very bad cough. He had tried everything, but got no permanent relief until he used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, which effected a cure. A great many others have had a like experience. Most cough medicines are merely palliatives—that is, they give only temporary relief—while Chamberlain's Cough Remedy cures the disease that causes the coughing and effects a permanent cure. No one can afford to neglect a cough, for a persistent cough is the first symptom of consumption, the most fatal of all diseases. This remedy is for sale by all druggists.

VOTES CAST IN RAIN

Spokane City Election May Be Invalid.

NEW LAW WAS VIOLATED

Campaign Was a Very Active One, Much Money Being Spent and Mud Slung Freely by Both Sides.

SPOKANE, Wash., May 2.—(Special.)—It is probable that the city election held yesterday, following the bitterest campaign ever made in the town's history, will be declared invalid. The last Legislature passed a law requiring that duplicate poll-books shall be furnished election officers in each precinct of a municipality holding an election. This provision of the law was overlooked in Spokane yesterday.

The announcement made today of the probable invalidity of the election created astonishment in all parties. The most prominent legal lights of the town taking opposing views of the matter. Corporation Counsel Dudley says undoubtedly the case will have to be passed upon by the Supreme Court before any binding company will accept the $450,000 bond issue voted yesterday for water works improvements.

The campaign aroused more ill-feeling than any previous political affair in Spokane's history. The Democrats won out with majorities ranging from 246 to 1190, against a normal Republican majority of 3600. It was a mud-slinging campaign by all sides, and probably never before was so much money spent by the saloon element on one side and corporations on the other.

The idea of making another campaign while the ill-feelings have had no time to subside is viewed with anything but delight, though a number of attorneys have declared there is no alternative.

GRADUATES COME TO FAIR

High School Exercises at Tacoma Will Not Be Held.

TACOMA, Wash., May 2.—(Special.)—According to the action taken by the Board of Education today, the customary High School class commencement exercises will be done away with this year, and instead the members of the class will visit the Lewis and Clark Exposition at Portland.

Not only do the petitioners point in glowing terms the advantages of such a trip to the fair, but deal a dull and hollow knock against the custom of commencement exercises in general. It is stated that the request is made not only because the graduating exercises are always a failure as an entertainment, but in that they necessitate a great amount of extra work for the students, and because they are most tedious to the students who sit on the stage, but principally on account of the expense of graduating suits for the boys and dresses for the girls.

CHARGED WITH RIFLING MAIL

Southern Pacific Baggage-Master at Woodburn Is Arrested.

SALEM, Or., May 2.—(Special.)—R. J. Kuper, baggage-master for the Southern Pacific at Woodburn, was arrested by a Deputy United States Marshal today, on the charge of rifling a mail sack and carrying a registered package containing $475.

One of Kuper's duties was to carry the mail sack from the Postoffice to the depot, and on some occasions the sack was locked by him. The theory of the prosecution is that on the day of the robbery Kuper took the sack to the depot without locking it, and then took out the registered package, after which he locked the sack and placed it aboard the train.

The mutilated registered package was recently found buried under the depot where Kuper worked. This, together with the fact that Kuper has been spending money freely of late, fastened suspicion on him. He was arrested today upon complaint of Postal Inspector A. R. Butler. He will have a hearing Saturday.

OSTEOPATHS SHOW FIGHT.

Ready With Funds to Meet Prosecution by the Regulars.

TACOMA, Wash., May 2.—(Special.)—"I cannot believe that the King County Medical Society really intends to begin prosecutions against the osteopaths and quacks, but if it does it will find us prepared for war and with plenty of funds on hand to wage it," said Dr. James F. Baldy, president of the Pierce County Osteopathic Association, who stated that the medical association would prosecute all osteopaths as quacks and dangerous to the community.

I had thought that the war between the old and new medical fraternities and the recognized osteopaths was at an end, and I hope the Seattle physicians have been misrepresented.

The State Osteopathic Association is getting to be a strong organization. We have a good fund in our treasury and if the report from Seattle is true and there is need of it, we can defend any of our members to the limit without any extra assessments.

MEAD PARTY AT ASTORIA.

Securing Data for Suit to Determine Boundary Line.

ASTORIA, Or., May 2.—(Special.)—Governor Mead, Fish Commissioner Ketchum, State Senator Welch, Assistant Attorney General McDonald and Surveyor Juasen, of the State of Washington, arrived in this city this evening from South Bend. They are securing data in connection with a suit which will soon be brought by the State of Washington to determine the boundary line between Oregon and Washington, when shown a dispatch from the Oregon officials regarding the proposed suit and Friday morning will leave up the river, making an examination as far as Portland.

The party expects to make a trip to the lower harbor and probably out to the bar tomorrow.

NATURE SMILES ON JOHN DAY

Mild Winter Is Succeeded by Favorable Spring Weather.

PRARIE CITY, Or., May 1.—(Special.)—After having passed through a very easy winter, with very little snow, storms or cold weather, and, as a consequence, no loss of stock, and plenty of hay and feed, spring has come equally as favorably. Good heavy rains are falling every week, the weather is warm and the feed on the ranges is better than expected. Night frosts have so far not injured the fruit crop or gardens, the fruit trees are literally loaded with blossoms, and everything looks very favorable at this time for the farmers and stockmen in this John Day Valley.

Seeding the ground is in progress, and will be finished in about two weeks, and about twice as much grain is being sown this year as usual. Lambing will be over in about two weeks, with a good percentage of saving.

MEET NEXT TIME AT ASHLAND

Woodmen Elect Officers and End Convention at Baker City.

BAKER CITY, Or., May 2.—(Special.)—The M. W. A. Convention was called to order at 10 o'clock today by Consul Bruce Curry, of Oregon City. T. E. Hills, of Ashland, acted as secretary. Rev. W. T. Gaudier, of Grant's Pass, J. B. Siefer, of Gresham, and W. Warell, of Albany, were appointed a committee on credentials. Judge Vaughn, of Portland, Rev. Gaudier and John Sorenson, of Astoria, were then appointed a committee on resolutions. The convention then adjourned until the next time at Ashland.

The following were elected delegates to the National convention at Milwaukee: O. B. Mount, Baker City; J. C. Colt, Summerville; Alternates, R. W. Foster, Portland; W. T. Vaughn, Portland; alternate, F. A. Baker, Salem; Rev. W. T. Gaudier, Grant's Pass; alternate, J. B. Siefer, Gresham.

The convention adjourned to meet two years hence at Ashland.

Tonight the local camp will entertain the delegates by a banquet. The work after which a banquet will be spread.

NOT EVEN HARD CIDER NOW

CORVALLIS AUTHORITIES CUT OFF POPULAR BEVERAGE.

That There Is Eight Per Cent of Alcohol in a Sample Causes a Shock.

CORVALLIS, Or., May 2.—(Special.)—The local authorities have stopped the sale of hard cider in Corvallis. Ever since the town went dry the soft drink and confection establishments maintained in the place. Occasional drunks who were arrested averred stoutly that they had tasted nothing but hard cider. The condition continued until a bottle of the cider was analyzed and an alcohol content shown of nearly 8 per cent. As a result Deputy District Attorney Bryson at once ordered the sale stopped, and the town is again dry as far as hard cider is concerned.

SLAIN BY MASKED HOLD-UPS

Attorney Is Killed at Sand Point, and Assassins Get Away.

BUTTE, Mont., May 2.—A Miner special from Missoula states that he has been advised from Sand Point, Corvallis, of the death of F. W. Schulte, an attorney from Vandalla, Mo., at the hands of three masked and unknown hold-ups. Schulte was shot through the abdomen and died several hours later without regaining consciousness. Marshal Moran pursued the robbers, capturing his gun at Sand Point, but the robbers escaped as the men disappeared in the darkness.

Members of the militia company at Sand Point are in pursuit of the murderers. There is little probability the bandits being taken, however, as it is believed the men have gotten out of the country on an eastbound freight train which passed here during the night.

Just prior to the shooting of Schulte two employees of the Humboldt mill were held up and relieved of their money and watches. Schulte was a Mason, Oddfellow and a K. of P.

KILLS HER SON WITH AN AX

Cottage Lake Farmer's Wife Goes Insane After a Fire.

SEATTLE, Wash., May 2.—Mrs. Neils Nelson, wife of a Cottage Lake farmer, attacked her 8-year-old son with an ax and fatally wounded the child. Several days ago a neighbor's house burned and the inmates had a narrow escape from death. The incident appeared to be the mind of Mrs. Nelson, who has been in poor health for several months. Finally she became crazed over the matter and this afternoon she went to the woods, armed with an ax, and attacked her son, Samuel, without warning.

"I wanted to save my children from the fire," she sobbed in explanation of her action.

GAMBLING CLOSED AT BUTTE

Sheriff Gets Orders From County Attorney, and Obeys.

BUTTE, Mont., May 2.—For the first time in years the gambling resorts of this city are closed, the order having gone forth from the County Attorney's office today for the Sheriff to close all the gaming houses at 8 o'clock. No resistance was made to the order and tonight all the big resorts of the camp are dark.

Why the order was issued is not known, as all the city's officers from Mayor John MacGinniss down to the Sheriff express profound ignorance as to the action taken, other than that gambler Charles Erickson, who was taking in a gambling house at Aquila. The coroner is investigating. It is believed a murder was committed.

GUGLIELMO WEEPS MUCH.

Governor Denies Petition for Commutation of Sentence.

SALEM, Or., May 2.—(Special.)—In accordance with the recommendation of District Attorney Manning and Judge Cleland, Governor Chamberlain today denied the petition for a commutation of the sentence of the Italian murderer, Guglielmo. The information was communicated to the condemned man he gave way to one of his sobs of weeping and bemoaning his hard fate.

The execution will take place Friday noon and all is in readiness for the event.

Pioneer of Walla Walla Valley.

WALLA WALLA, Wash., May 2.—James Peterson, a pioneer, pioneer farmer of the Walla Walla Valley, died this morning of pneumonia, after a short illness. He was aged 64 years, and leaves a widow and three children, all grown. He was a prominent Democrat and was twice defeated for the Legislature by a small majority in a district largely Republican. He was defeated for County Treasurer last year. He was a member of the first penitentiary board when the prison was established here. He was a Mason, Knight, Elk and Oddfellow.

Road to Run to Stockton.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 2.—The Sacramento Southern Railroad Company has

can do one thing supremely well: JOHN GUND another. The first is a Peerless diplomat; the second a Peerless Brewer. John Hay stands determined to keep open "the door of opportunity" in China; and the famed JOHN GUND BREWING COMPANY is equally determined to keep up the high reputation and Commanding Superiority of

GUND'S Peerless BEER

This celebrated Malt-Brew was made Peerless fifty years ago, when first produced in a Brew House of bewn logs, and it is "Peerless" still by fame and by name. Empires rise and fall; Statesmen come and go; winter follows summer, and night follows day but GUND'S Peerless is always the same, because it is brewed under the same formula, from the best hops and malting barley that money can buy, under the "Gund Natural Process." It is marvelously rich, nutritious and rejuvenating, and would gladden the heart of the most skillful diplomat in Washington.

"It is sparkling and mellow, it is snappy and clear, And your palate will tell you it's the finest of beer."

Aged for months and bottled only at the brewery. Sold at all high-class bars, but you must ask for it. Have a case delivered to your home.

SNOW FALLING IN MONTANA

STORM HAS CONTINUED DURING THREE DAYS.

Roofs in Red Lodge Have Been Broken In by Weight of the Fall.

RED LODGE, Mont., May 2.—The present storm is the worst in the history of this section, more than 20 inches of snow having fallen in the last three days. Sheremans will suffer heavy losses, as this is the lambing season.

The cold is growing more intense, and tonight the thermometer is rapidly dropping. For the first time in a year the stages leaving here have been compelled to abandon their trips. Merchants are unable to deliver goods on account of the depth of the snow. Considerable damage has been done to houses and buildings, many roofs having been broken in by the weight of the snow.

There is no sign of an abatement, and shermen are attempting to provide temporary shelter in the way of sheds for their herds.

Fined for Illegal Fishing.

OREGON CITY, Or., May 2.—(Special.)—Carl Johnson, a Clackamas River salmon fisherman, yesterday found guilty by a jury in the Justice Court of fishing without a license, fined $100, and will appeal. Johnson was recently arrested on a charge of fishing during the closed season, but a trial being had, he was acquitted of the charge on the grounds that the prosecution failed to establish the fact that the Clackamas River is a tributary of the Willamette.

Uncle Sam Mine Is Sold.

EUGENE, Or., May 2.—(Special.)—The Uncle Sam mine, in the Blue River District, has been sold on execution, being bought by J. W. Staunton, the judgment creditor for less than $6000. The mine is said to be a most promising one, and has a small mill that has been operated for a time, but difficulties came in the way of the success of the management and it has failed to pay out.

Large Graduating Class.

MONMOUTH, Or., May 2.—There are 50 candidates for degrees in June at the State Normal. These, in connection with the 14 who completed the work in February, make a graduating class for the year of 64 members. This is the largest class in recent years, and exceeds the very large class of last year by 12. All the members of the February class have been teaching, and nearly all the June class are now engaged to teach in the Fall.

Methodist Conference at La Grande.

LA GRANDE, Or., May 2.—(Special.)—The Methodist conference commenced its session here this morning. The session was opened by devotional exercises conducted by Rev. Henry Martin, of Flora, Walla Walla County. Professor Hockenberry will read an important paper during the session concerning the youth of the church. The conference will be in session several days.

Urges the Independent Telephones.

CORVALLIS, Or., May 2.—(Special.)—At a meeting last night the Citizens' League adopted a resolution setting forth that 1,000 independent telephones will soon be in operation in Corvallis and Benton County, and urging the commercial organizations of Portland and Corvallis to make efforts to obtain a franchise that would grant independent telephone connections in Portland.

Evidence of a Murder.

SEATTLE, Wash., May 2.—It is believed that a body was placed in a box half filled with quicklime and thrown into Puget Sound near Vashon Island about six weeks ago. The box when found showed the form of a human outline in the sand which it contained. The box was found by Frederick Charles Erickson at Aquila. The coroner is investigating. It is believed a murder was committed.

Salmon Sent to New York.

BELLINGHAM, Wash., May 2.—(Special.)—The first salmon of the season were taken from the traps for the Pacific American Fisheries last night and this forenoon packed in ice and shipped to New York. The trap from which fish were taken is near Hope Island and was in the water only one day before it was lifted.

Seaside-Elk Creek Line Built.

ASTORIA, Or., May 2.—The construction of the new telephone line between Seaside and Elk Creek was completed today. While the line belongs to C. C. Clarke, of Seaside, it will be connected at that place with the Pacific States Company's long-distance line.

Stormy in the Grand Ronde.

LA GRANDE, Or., May 2.—(Special.)—Very stormy weather has prevailed for the past few days throughout this entire section of country, with very cold nights, and much anxiety is felt for the safety of the fruit crop, but as yet no material damage has been done.

Italian Cruiser at Bay City.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 2.—The Italian cruiser Umbria arrived here today from South Pacific ports. She is a vessel of the second class in the Italian navy and carries 20 officers and men.
