This afternoon at 1 o'clock the thirtieth biennial convention of the Order of Armory, Grand Chief, Conductor Clark presiding.

At midnight last night three special trains, carrying delegates and their friends, arrived from Missouri River points. They came over the Oregon Short Line, the Northern Pacific and the Great Northern. Fully 1300 persons were carried on the three trains, which were met by committees from Rood Division. The arrivals remained in the sleepers until this morning. Another special, from the Southern States is expected to arrive this orning.

These of the order who reached the city earlier are enthusiastic in their praise of Oregon and Fortland, and feel kindly toward the people here for their generous welcome. When the new ar-rivals go into the heart of the city this morning they will see almost every mer-cantile establishment flying their colors, and red, white and green lanterns will be observed in many windows. That Thomas Gray and not George M. Hyland was nominated at last Saturday's Republican primaries appeared evident from corrected figures in the City Audi-

Duty of Committee.

The duty of the committee is to manage

The duty of the committee is to manage the campaign. Inasmuch as nominating conventions are abolished and central committees no longer select delegates thereof, the committee is stripped of the function most important heretofore.

The squabble will probably be confined to the Republican brethren, for on the Democratic side is a willingness to let the new committeemen take the seats of the old. Democrats also elected new committeemen at Saturday's primaries. John Van Zante, chairman of the old Democratic committee is functus officio, inasmuch as the law under which it worked is entitled repeated by the direct-primary law. An attempt will be made perhaps to slide the new committee which was appointed by the city convention of 1802. That committee, though apparently functus officio, never was officially disbanded. Its chairman was C. H. Carey.

But whatever the outcome of the present dispute, Mr. Bolse said yesterday that the organization of which he is head will support the moninees of last Saturday's primaries and do all it can for their election.

Municipal Association May Run an Independent.

NO DECISION MADE YET

Executive Committee Will Meet Today and Determine Whether to Place a Nomince Against Williams in the Field.

Officers of the Municipal Association were reticent yesterday as to their intentions and said that they did not know what today's meeting would bring forth. There is no gainsaying, however, that they feel much discomfited and that influential ones are prone to boit. Before the primaries they declared unreservedly that schould Williams win they would come forth with an independent. The association was urged to stay out of the primaries, but it decided that failure to win in the nominating contest would not look well in print, and would not look well in print, and would harding get through the post-office, if the officials there saw it first.

Think Mistake Was Made.

The prevailing opinion in political cir-les is that the Municipal Association cles is that the Municipal Association made a mistake in entering the primaries; indeed, members of the association ad-mitted as much even before last Saturfrom corrected figures in the City Auditor's office, thus bearing out The Oregonian's election returns. An error was found yesterday in the footings made Saturday night in the Auditor's office, whereby Gray was credited with 102 votes less than he should have received. Besides, Gray was credited with only 18 votes in Precinct 49 in Albina, whereas his vote day's contest.

The exact figures will be known today, when the Auditor shall have finished his Leaders of the Municipal Association, constituting the executive committee, will meet this afternoon to consider what they should do about the results of the Republican primaries of last Saturday, Mayor Williams' nomination for re-elec-tion was not the dose the association looked for and its officers are wondering Sharkey, 4097; Kellaher, 2729; Wills, 207; Amand, Mn; Gray, 190; Hyland, 206; Clemens 227; Quimby, 229; Barry, 191; Manley, 209; Townsend, 1656; Heppwhether they ought to do something to take the bad taste away or simply to sit 1649; Lent, 1559; Groce, 1552; Davis,

Must Nominate Shortly.

Should the association decide to launch an independent boom for somebody, as some of its prudent counselors, who opposed the association's entering the primary fight, advised in case. Williams should be nominated, the independent must be nominated by one week from next Saturday, fifteen days before the day fixed for the election, June 5. The certificate of nomination must be signed by at least 3 per cent of the votes cast in Portland last November for presidential electors. The number of signatures necessary will be 615, inasmuch as the total vote for presidential electors last November was about 15,890. The city Board of Education held its bimonthly meeting last night, at which the mooted question of the merit system, recently, outlined by the Board, played a leading part in the transactions. It was expected that a crowd of teachers and their friends would be on band to remonstrate, but in this respect there was a disappointment, as the only evidence of opposition to the stand taken by the Board came in the shape of the following resolution from the Woman's Club, which was handed in by Mrs. L. W. Sitton, chairman of the Board, as soon as it opened its proceedings:

"Whereas, the merit system, as outlined by the Board of Education, has caused much uneasiness among the teaching force in our city schools, and believing that in such a condition it is not possible for the teachers to give their best efforts, and further believing that the proposed merit system does not outline a fair and just distribution of the advance in salaries voted at the last, meeting of the tax-payers; be it

The Lewis and Clark Exposition will be a great thing, as is generally agreed, but while there are many picasant things connected with it, there are some vexatious things. For instance, there is the case of Alice M. Porter against P. C. Matfox. The charge is using obscene and abusive language, and the case is to be tried out before Judge Hogue today.

The two persons have a lodging-house at the Fair grounds, and although they started in harmoniously, they have fallen out early in the game, and the outcome is ret to be determined.

The two disagreed over the management of the house, and, according to the complainant, her partner in the business used very ungentlemantly language toward her. Chief of Police Hunt refused to state, when requested to do so, from what source information came connecting Driver Isaacs. It is evident, however, that a brother officer accused Isaacs, as Chief Hunt remarked that he could not divulge the person's name at present, as the accuser did not wish to be known in the matter.

"Driver Isaacs positively denies ever entering any Chinese establishment, de-nies ever taking any money from them and gives an explanation of why Chinese should refer to him as 'Joe Smith,'" said Chief Hunt. "He states that some Chinese came to him shortly after the shooting affray on Second street, in which a white man was injured, and asked him to 'let un' on them. He save he told to 'let up' on them. He says he told them that he had nothing to 'let up' on, as he merely took the injured man to the hospital in the wagon and knew nothing of the case. "Isaacs then explains his connection with the name of Smith. What shall we call you? he says the Chinese asked him. He says he replied to them, 'Oh, him. He says he replied to them, 'Oh, call me Smith.'" day morning to call on Charife Law and Hang Wah. The Chinese appeared immediately. Upon being questioned, they denied everything. They even denied having any conversation with anyone regarding monthly payments Saturday night, and said the only man they ever paid was Special Officer Franklin, who patrols that beat. He receives $1 a month. This is a legitimate fee for a watchman and
