FRUITS OF THE DIRECT PRIMARY. It seems to be agreed all around that the election last Saturday was neither a fair nor a satisfactory test of the direct primary.

AN UNSEEMLY SPECTACLE. The spectacle presented by a funeral procession headed by a brass band, bearing to a felon's grave the body of a murderer who had suffered the extreme penalty of the law, is not one which law-abiding citizens can be expected to regard complacently.

DRUNKENNESS IN MINORS. It is gratifying to note the successful prosecution in Corvallis of two men for giving liquor to a minor.

NOTE AND COMMENT. One evil result from the President's hunting trip is already apparent. A letter called Skip is being taken to Washington.

Everybody had a show. The newspapers did not run things, as some had feared. Organization may be as valuable in a primary as in a convention.

MISDIRECTED UNIONISM. A local illustration of the inequities of misdirected unionism is afforded in the case of the British steamer Fernide.

THE STATE CENSUS. Here is something that all parties in Oregon, Republicans, Democrats, Populists, Prohibitionists, open-town, closed-town people—every one—can join in.

St. Johns is to have a bank, and there is every reason to believe that, if properly conducted, it will be a profitable venture as well as a great convenience for the rapidly increasing population of that thriving suburb of Portland.

Civil government is to be instituted in Manchuria by the Japanese, and the administrator of the province has already been selected.

Public tributes Sunday to the memory of Schiller in various cities of this country are but further evidence of the hold his work has on Christendom.

It is not often that a man who dies at the end of a rope has the posthumous honor of a brass band at the head of his funeral procession.

A discriminating public will receive with undisguised satisfaction Nan Patterson's decision not to go on the stage.

BIRDS IN THEIR LITTLE NESTS. Countless are the schools of medicine, and to the myriad must now be added yet another, the Seattle school.

The public is not unaccustomed to see lively tiffs between representatives of different schools, but in matters affecting the medical profession as a whole its members usually present a united front and maintain the dignity of an honorable calling.

CROWN PRINCE AND BETROTHED

Character of German Emperor's Heir and of the Duchess Cecilia, Whom He Will Marry in June.

Prinze, whose rights thereto, although remote, nevertheless exist, as the wife of the great-grandchild of the late Queen Victoria. Perhaps it is due to this that he is able to speak English without the slightest trace of a foreign accent.

That his union with Duchess Cecilia is a love match pure and simple, differing in this respect from most royal marriages, which are so often based on political or strategic considerations, rather than on those of inclination, is known to every court of Europe.

WHY BIGELOW FELL.

Friend of Milwaukee Bank President Tells How It Happened.

By the way, this must not be considered a violation of the "swear-off" higher in the column.

NEW LAW AGAINST TIPS.

Wisconsin Legislature Takes Action. Governor Signs Bill.

Berlin Eats Horse Meat.

From a Consular Report. There is in the Graefswalderstrasse, Berlin, a regular restaurant, the name of which is under careful police supervision, with a veterinary surgeon in attendance to see that no animal is killed the flesh of which may be eaten by reason of disease or other cause, unfit for human food.

An Early Preference.

Lippincott's. Teddy hated the dark, and his mother was trying to cure him of his fear.
