Troubles of France and Britain

Cause Teutons to Smile. BERLIN, May 9.-The German news-BERLIN, May 5.—The German news-papers condole with Great Britain on the uncomfortable position in which she has been placed in connection with both Japan and France by the action of Ad-miral Rojestvensky. It is rather difficult to restrain the satisfaction felt in Ger-many over this check to the understand-ing between Great Britain and France, which has been the subject of woodwhich has been the subject of much thought in the present Government here. Germany's own course with respect to Rojestvensky, should be put into Tsingtau, will, it is said, be strictly in accordance with the 24-hour rule, which will be enforced as in previous cases where single ships were concerned.

WHAT DOES JOHN BULL THINK?

France Auxious to Learn Opinion

learn the sentiment in British official circles concerning French observance of neutrality. The officials here, having done their utmost, are holding Admiral de Jonquieres and other officers in Indo-China personally responsible for the execution of their orders. The newspapers do not show a menacing attitude. French naval critics maintain that Japan's real intention is to induce France to drive Admiral Rojestvensky northward, thus assisting in the execution of Admiral Togo's navai strategy.

STATEMENT FROM CAMBON.

Balfour Tells Parliament What France Has to Say.

LONDON, May 5.—The situation arising in the Far East because of the alleged violation of French neutrality in Indo-China, by the Russian squadron, and the possibility of Great Britain becoming involved, formed a subject of a question to Premier Balfour in the House of Commons today. Mr. Balfour in reply read a statement supplied to the British government by the French Ambassador, M. Cambon, as follows:

"As soon as the French government was awars of Admiral Rojestvensky's presence at Kamrauh Bay, representations were sent to St. Petersburg, with the result that under the orders of the Emperor himself, instructions were telegraphed to the Admiral, desiring him to leave Kamrauh Bay at once. TWENTY-NINE ARE DEAD

Almost Every House in Its Track Reto Ruins-Survivors Grope in Dark Among Wreckage to Rescue.

MARQUETTE, Kas., May 9 .- Follow. ing a terrific rainstorm, a tornado from the south tore a path through the residence part of this town at midnight last night, destroying almost every house in its path and causing the death of 29 and injury to 44 persons, several of whom will die.

An unusually hot and oppressive afternoon, during which the atmosphere was loaded with electricity, was followed by a night peculiar for a deluge of rain. This continued until 11:55 P. M., when the tornado, which had formed about three miles south of town, spent its full force among the best residences, dashing them into rulns, in which their occupants were entombed. It was gone in five minutes and continued to mark its path with devastation for many miles northward. The roaring of the wind and crash ing of the wreckage it swept with it was followed by a moment of silence, but this was soon broken by the groans and cries of the many injured and of the terrified survivors. Then the more courageous and cool-headed began to creep forth with lanterne, and soon every ablebodied person in town was the day of 100 persons injured. These engaged in the search for the dead and proved to be incorrect. the rescue of the injured. Dead or mangled bodies were found pinned down among piles of lumber, which had houses, some crushed beyond hope of their holding a spark of life, others pinned down by an arm or a leg, in which the bones were smashed and only a shred of flesh held them.

Cut Off From Help.

The people of the town were dependent entirely on their own resources, for all telegraph and telephone wires were down and only by sending out to neighboring towns was it possible to get help. Not until 8 o'clock in the morning did physicians begin to work to care for the wounded.

The main path of the storm was through the residence section west of the main street, and it wrecked completely every house, with two or three exceptions. Of the many modern residences, only that of R. A. Thompson remains standing. The Swedish Lutheran and Methodist Church and the Methodist parsonage were demolished. Temporary hospitals were made in the Swedish Lutheran parsonage and several residences, while the dead were taid in rows in Olaf Olson's store to juries. There were similar scenes in Loss, $100,000.

When the missing in Marquette had been pretty thoroughly accounted for, the searchers directed their attention to the surrounding country. Soon half a dozen wagonloads of dead and injured had been brought to the town from the district adjoining it on the

The sufferers tell of many narrow escapes from death. Ione Saileen, the wind. infant daughter of Charles Saileen, was lifted in her bed and carried to the middle of the street, receiving only a few scratches. Saileen and his wife were dangerously injured.

The mattress upon which the baby daughter of the Rev. Mr. Smith lay was doubled up in such a manner as to cover the child and protect it from falling timbers. In spite of the destruction of the Smith house, the entire family escaped injury. Mr. and Mrs. O. S. Elivin were car-

The tornado cut a clean swath 100 yards in width through the town's entire length. As it came at midnight, the people were caught without a moment's warning. Some of the victims were killed as they lay asleep; others, maimed and bleeding, awoke to find themselves buried in the wreckage of their former homes.

Three Famous Instruments Travel More Than Bixty Miles Over Mountains and Through Canyons to the Interior of Idaho.

manufacturers of musical instruments in the world.

Before reaching their destination—Mr. Bunch's handsome home at Garden City, idaho—these instruments had to journey over the mountains from Boise a distance of over 80 miles, of very devious, rough roadway.

Probably nowhere are instruments of this character more appreciated than at places remote from musical centers. Mr. Bunch, who was one of the carliest purchasers of the Planela when it was first introduced in the West, often found himself at a loss in interpreting a composition, and while dissatisfied with his own interpretation, could find no better authority; he was accordingly exceedingly glad to avail himself of the opportunity to secure the Metrostyle Pisnola, which furnishes an absolutely faultless guide to interpretation.

Ready to Spend Any Sum to Save Murderess From Gallows.

NEW YORK, May 9.-Gustave Tosti, acting Consul-General for Italy in New York, today said he had received instructions from his government, both from Rome and Washington, to spend $100,000, if necessary, in the defense of Anna Valenting. He declared that she had not been given a fair trial, and that the treaty between Italy and the United States, which guarantees Italian subjects the same consideration as citizens of this country, had been violated. Application will be made to the Federal courts to revise the case, Mr. Tosti said.

Appeals to Supreme Court.

TRENTON, N. J., May 9.-Judge Lanning, in the United States District Court, today refused to grant a writ of habeas corpus applied for by counsel for Anna Vaientina, who is under sentence to be hanged at Hackensack on May 12, for the murder of Rosa Salza. Counsel for the condemned woman chaimed that she had not had a fair trial, but County Prosecutor Koster, of Bergen County, denied this al-legation. An appeal to the United States Supreme Court was taken. The appeal prohably will postpone the execution some time.

Governor Will Consider Reprieve.

WASHINGTON, May 2.—Acting Secretary of State Looms is in receipt of a telegram from Governor Stokes at Trenton, stating that so far no application for a reprieve in the case of Anna Valentina, under sentence of death for the murder of Rosa Saina, had been made to him, that it appears that the courts are still open to her, but if that should not be so he will give weighty consideration to the application to the State Department, based on a request of the Italian Ambassador, that the execution of senience be postponed. The Governor stated further that his power to grant a reprieve was only for a limited time.
