Chicago Conflict Appears to Be Dying Out, but Mobs Continue to Pelt Negro Drivers From Factory Windows.

CHICAGO, May 8 - The large departent stores and the express companies roday resumed business on almost a nor basis. Notwithstanding this apparent gain, however, there are strong indications to night that the strike will apread within the next few days, not only among the teamsters but will involve other unions as well. The drivers of the Wenig Teaming Company, a large concern chiefly engaged in delivering flour, went out today when one of their number was discharged for refusing to deliver flour to a boy-cotted house. Indian War Veterans Will Now Get Pensions.

New Pension Commissioner Compels Subordinates to Obey Orders and Carry Out Spirit of Secretary Hitchcock's Decisions.

OREGONIAN NEWS BUREAU, Washigton, May 9 .- After three years of more or less bitter contention with the Secre has decided to place a liberal construction upon the Indian War veteran act of June 27, 1962, and will hereafter allow pension claims filed under that act without requiring an endiese amount of irrelevant, evidence that does not have any especial bearing on the case.

The ludian war pension jaw was passed with a view to affording immediate relief to the remaining survivors of the early wars in Oregon, Washington and Idaho. The law provided that each claim sllowed should be at the rate of $8 a month, and all should be allowed from the date of the passage of the act.

Unfortunately the interpretation of this law fell into the hands of some one or more subordinate officials of the Pension Office, men who were sticklers for tech micalities and regarded the word rather than the spirit of the law. In one way or another these men have been able to defeat the purposes of the law in dozens of cases, and have, by adroit means, kept feserving veterans from drawing pensions to which they are undoubtedly entitled. Commissioner Ware, when at the head of the Pension Office, declared that it was his purpose to liberally interpret the in-dian War act, but he relied upon his subordinates, who pulled the wool over his eyes, and handled Indian War claims

Gardner's War With Red Tape.

From the very first, William D. Garder, a pension attorney of this city, for ner, a pension attorney of this city, for-merly pension secretary to Representa-tive Moody, has taken an interest in the Indian war claims, and it has been large-ity through his persevering efforts that the Pension Office has finally come to lib-erally construe the Indian war pension act. cases, which involved vital points of the Indian war act. When one of these cases was disallowed by the Pepelon Of-fice on technical grounds, he took an ap-peal to the Secretary of the Interior, and on every appeal the secretary reversed the action of the Pension Office and de-cided in favor of the veteran. It has been the intention of the secretary, from the start, to allow claims of Indian war vetstart, to allow claims of indian war ver-erans on as slight evidence as is consist-ent with the law, and he has repeatedly instructed the Pension Office to that ef-fect. But it has only been since Vespa-sion Warner became commissioner and took the reins in his own hands, that the secretary's instructions have been took the reins in his own mans, that the secretary's instructions have been carried out. Mr. Warner knew of the manner in which understrappers were assuming the duties of pension commissioner, and he very soon gave these subordinates to understand that he and not they was running the Pension Office.

When the ledian war act first went into effect, the Pension Office held that no claim should be allowed unless the Donovant, who was killed by Eldridge shout three years ago on a passenger train on the same road. Eldridge was recently acquitted of murdering Captain Donovant.

Today's tragedy grew out of the murder.

The next snag encountered was in the case of Mary E. Carnahan, of Clatsop, widow of Hiram Carnahan, who served six months and 16 days in the Cayuse war. The claim was rejected by the Pension Office because the records of the War Department did not show service in that war, or that he was need for his War Department did not show service in that war, or that he was paid for his services. This proved to be another technical objection, for the rolls on file in the War Department are not originals, but are certified copies of the original rolla, and were filed by the Governor of Oregon in 1855 to show service in claims filed by soldiers of this war for bounty land. Hiram Carnahan, as shown by the Pension office records, had received a bounty land grant in 1855; he had to show service to obtain that 180 acres of land, yet the Pension Office would not allow his claim because of technical objections. Finally the Secretary of the Interior upset the objections, and under his latest decision survivors of the Cayuse war will be able to obtain pensions at 18 a month. be able to obtain pensions at $8 a month, either by showing service on the copies of their rolls in the War Department or upon showing that they have obtained bounty lands on account of service in that war.

Above all other things, we strive to save the thousands of young and middle-aged men who are plunging toward the grave, tortured by the woes of nervous debility. We have evolved a special treatment for Nervous Debility and special weakness that is uniformly successful in cases where success was before and by other doctors deemed impossible. It does not stimulate temporarily, but restores permanently. It allays irritations of the delicate tissues surrounding the lax and unduly expanded glands, contracting them to their normal condition, which prevents lost vitality. It tones up and strengthens the blood vessels that carry nourishment. The patient realizes a great blight has been lifted from his life.
