Notorious Pickpockets Lodged in the City Jail.

BOTH HERE ONCE BEFORE

Berlette Sargent and Tom Howley, Known by Many Aliases, Taken Into Custody by Detectives Kerrigan and Snow.

Notorious as pickpockets throughout the United States, Berlette Sargent and Tom Howley, with numerous aliases, have again come to grief in Portland. After working the Roosevelt special on its famous circuit when the President visited this city, the noted criminals returned and were arrested by Detectives Kerrigan and Snow.

Thomas Howley.

The Municipal Court yesterday morning on charges of vagrancy, but today charges of larceny from the person will probably be filed against them. They are believed to be the men who recently robbed a passenger of a diamond pin on an Oregon & California train and another passenger of $48.

Sargent and Howley are regarded by the police as perhaps the most clever pickpockets recently operating in Portland, and their arrest is regarded as important. With them at large, the police state, no person with money or valuable jewelry was safe.

The special work of the two celebrated pickpockets is to follow crowds about depots and to operate on crowded trains. Of late many reports of robberies of money and jewelry on trains near Portland have reached police headquarters, and it is believed that these two men are responsible for many of them.

Sargent is perhaps the most clever of the pair. He is said to be a pupil of Frank Kirk, known the world over as an expert pickpocket. Sargent and Howley were arrested when the Presidential train was in Portland, being taken into custody by Patrolmen Ratz and Gibson. They were made to quit the city immediately.

"We are pretty successful in capturing these criminals who have thus far come here to work during the Lewis and Clark Fair," said Chief of Police Hunt. "First the trio of bank and diamond sneak-thieves were caught; yesterday Detectives Day and Weiner arrested Post, the burglar, and now we have Sargent and Howley, the noted pickpockets. We propose to keep these crooks from robbing visitors to Portland, and the officers are bending every energy to catch them."

Howley is said to have been a pickpocket for many years. He wears a silver plate on his skull. He was struck a terrific blow over the head once, when a man caught him searching his pockets.

WALLEN & McDONNELL.

Robert F. Macdonald Dead. The death of Robert F. Macdonald, whose burial took place Friday at Lone Fir Cemetery, marked the passing of another old-time resident of Portland. Mr. Macdonald had been a resident of the city for 24 years, during all of which time he was employed by the Smith & Watson Iron Works as a mechanic. The funeral services were held at the late family residence, 713 Albina avenue, and was attended by 200 sorrowing friends.

The deceased was born in Scotland 59 years ago. He left a wife and five grown children, three girls and two boys.
