NO, NO, NO; NOT

What I. H. Amos Says of the Proposition to Vote for Harry Lane.

PROHIS ARE ALL IN TO STAY

Chairman Says It Is as Absurd to Ask Paget to Withdraw as It Would Be for Williams or Lanc.

STATEMENT BY AMOS.

But if I were a Republican I'd suspect gotten up for Democratic diversion; not so much to clean up the city as to put another Democrat in office. I'd rather vote for Williams than for Lane; yes, confound it," said I. H. Amos, chairman of the Prohibition

'No, no, no: not on your life, Thus spake the confirman of all the Oregon Prohibitionists yesterday, I. H. Amos, when asked waether the foes of frewater would get aboard the citizene bandwagon, vote for Lane, the Democratic-citizens nominee and quit the camp of B. Lee Paget, their own

And other big Prohi prophets lifted up their voices in the same tone and with the same words, among them Mr. Paget himself.

And what thought the "citizens?" Forsooth they were disgusted and said the Probis were long-eared bretaren, inconsistent professing reform and yet refusing to join the ranks of reform; aspiring to cleaner things yet casting their votes where they would go to waste and rejoice the imps of liquor Unto which, one of the high Prohl oracles, F. McKercher, by name, re-marked that his people could not leave Paget if they would. And why? because the other nominees, Lane, Demscrat, and Willams, Republicae, were whisky candidates. Nor did Mr. Mc-Kerener see that there was any choice for a Prohi between the Democratic and Republican party and adverted to the epigram of a Prohibition minister, who said that there was as much difference between the one party and the other as between a pole-cat and a skunk.

Prohis Are Determined.

The citizen reformers think the Pronis a very senseless folk to hold their 500). But the Pronis retort that when the Prohi lamb small lie down with the Democratic lion, the lamb will not be inside the lion. Said Mr. Paget last evening:

"The Lane people might as well ask Williams to withdraw as myself. Lane and Williams have more in common than have Lane and I. If Williams will withdraw in favor of Lane, I will do so too. And I'm not joking, either," "Would you withdraw in favor of Williams if Lane would do the same?"

Now you're turning the sublime into the ridiculous. Mr. Paget continued.
The Municipal Association members are gaying that we Prohis are splitting the reform vote. They are doing that themselves. I was the first reform can-didate in the field and was really the logical reform candidate. The Municipal Association has taken up with the Democratic candidate and its splitting the reform vote. When it comes to give ing a reform administration, I think I am as well qualified in that line as am as well qualified in that line as Lane is. They say Dr. Lane is an expert on mushrooms, Well, I'm as able to pass on mushrooms as he on a reform gov-

Stand of Prohibitionists.

Leaders of the citizens' ticket aver that all persons who participated in Wednesday night's convention ought to support the ticket there nominated and are hauling over the coals cold-water brethren like I. H. Amos, F. McKer-cher and B. Lee Paget, who have de-clared their intention to support their own ticket from top to bottom.

"In this not as proper," asked Mr. Paget, "as for the Albee people after being defeated in the Republican primaries, to bolt to the Democratic camp?"

The citizens' ticket contains five Prohibitionists, or one-fourth of all the nominees. More anti-booze brethren would have been taken up by the citizens' convention had not the leaders of the assembly become alarmed and kept them off. This has made the "dry" brethren "sore." for they say that had the slatemakers of the convention and the "ring politicians" allowed the gathering to go its own sweet way, cold-water would have scored a mighty

"We could have stampeded that con-"We could have stampeded that convention" said Mr. Paget, "if we had gone at it aggressively. And O. P. M. Jamison, C. W. Nottingham and E. S. J. McAllister knew it. That's way they came to us and said the nomination of so many Prohibitionists must stop, else the ticket would be swamped. They feared the Prohibition sentiment of that convention was too strong for

"Yes," commented Mr. McKercher, "that's true," and added that a few ringing Prohibition speeches at the "psychological moment" would have done the business.

Support Wallace for Council.

About 200 citizens, friends and neighbors of the candidate, filled Larowe Hall, at Twenty-third and Kearney streets, last night to attest their fidelity to Hugh W. Wallace, Independent Republican nominee for Councilman from the Second ward.

Much enthusiasm was shown enthusiasm throughout the meeting, which was merely of an informal character, the main object of the gathering being to discuss plans for making a vigorous campaign. Mr. Wallace made a good impression among those present. He was the recipient of assurances of sup-was the recipient of assurances of sup-port from all sides.

A. H. Devers was president of the meeting and R. W. Wilson secretary. The following were appointed as a campaign committee: Lee Fried. J. A. Martin. A. L. Hassier, G. W. Bates and W. Ballis. all prominently identified with local commercial interests.
