THIS IS A MODERN STORE OF MODERN BUSINESS ETHICS

JOHN GRAHAM, PORK PACKER FROM THE MISSOURI VALLEY

ONCE SAID: "Give most men a good listener, and most women enough note paper, and they'll tell all they know."

"John" might have been right—many men love to talk—but an advertising man with the least bit of tingling red corpuscles flowing thro' his veins and the enthusiasm "bump" developed in the slightest degree would be tempted to infringe upon woman's prerogative—according to "John's" idea—after a walk 'round this store and a gathering up of such a bunch of bargain items as we have to tell you of for today. The pencil would run wild, else curbed, and note paper would grow warm in sympathy. Merry Mergenthalers would catch the spirit and set the story in clicking types until this page would over-run its banks. But we desist. Many bargains must talk for themselves—to you, in person today. Quantities are small in so many instances that, should we print 'em, the mail and telephone orders would devour them greedily ere your arrival—and you would be disappointed. Yes—the people who come to the store fare best, in that they get the full meal with all the bargain desert. Today we set a generous liberal feast, but come before 6 P. M., for this store closes then—the day is done. Bargains on this page for today only—8 A. M. till 6 P. M.
