OBJECTORS HOLD CAUCUS

Decisive Vote in General Assembly Will Be Taken Monday--Reports of Board and Committees Are Presented.

FRESNO, Cal., May 19.-The Cum-berland Presbyterian General Assembly began the day by electing a mod-erator's council of one representative from each synod to assist the model-stor in appointing committees. The stor in appointing committees. The item presenting the returns of the vote on union was referred to a special committee composed of Dr. Templeton. Rev. T. A. Wigginton, Rev. J. J. Mc-Clellan, Judge Beard and Judge Young. The committee was instructed to canvass the votes and present a full report at noon tomorrow.

The anti-unionists held another caucus this afternoon. Reporters were excluded. Judge Fussell, of Tennessee, chairman of the caucus, said in an interview:

"I can announce to you that the Cumberland Presbyterian Church will be continued intact with its present foctrines, whatever the action of the general assembly may be."
When asked if that was the decision of the caucus, he would not say it was, but invisted that the statement was authoritative. He added: "We do not believe the confession of faith of the Presbyterian Church has been revised, but it is the same as it has been for the last 400 years, which is fatalistic and predestinarian."

Rev. A. N. Eshman, a prominent leader of the association, said today that the union might as well be con-summated at once, as many would never go into it so long as a line of the Westminster confession remained, and stated that, if the union was not consummated now, its opponents would raise a campaign fund of $25.000 to de-boards and committees. The report of the committee on fra-ternity and union was mainly devoted to subject of federation among the Presbyterian and Reformer Churches, An account was given of the meeting of the representatives of the various churches at Pittsburg and the plan of federation adopted by that conference was submit-ted. In view of the relations existing be-tween the Presbyterian and Cumberland Churches at this time, the committee thinks it unnecessary to recommend any specific action with the federation plan, other than to express interest in it and to keep in touch with it.

This is the absorbing question, and not much interest was taken in the sourine business of the afternoon, which, after the standing committees had been announced, consisted of the presentation of numerous reports of boards and committees.

With reference to the pending union with the Presbyterian Church of the United States, the report declared that in view of the favorable action of a majority of the Presbyteries it was only necessary to remind the assembly of its duty to declare the result of the vote and to give notice to the Northern asin accordance with the provisions

Southern Presbyterian Assembly Not Yet Ready for Unions.

FORT WORTH, Tex., May 19.-The uestion of uniting the Reformed and the Presbyterian Churches still remains a matter of speculation. Just before the close of today's session of the General Assembly of the Presbybterian Church (South) the report of the committee on closer relations was read and circulated in printed form on the floor. The report recommended the appoint-ment of a committee to confer with similar committees of other churches as to the most advisable course to pursue in the premises. The report was ordered re-ferred to a committe of II to be appointed by Moderator Pinnkett. This committee will report back its recommendations. In speaking of the proposed federation several of the older members of the As sembly expressed themselves as decidedly opposed to a union. It is generally be-lieved that there is little likelihood of steps looking to a union of the two churches being taken by this assembly. It is probable, however, mat the question of closer relationship with the Northern churches will be taken up and, in the event that this is done, it is thought it
