Off Honors of the Day.

Portland members of the United States Revolver Association held a shoot on their range on Portland Heights yester-day afternoon. Considering the stormy weather and unfavorable conditions all the scores made were excellent.

Captain of Police J. T. Moore, who is one of the best revolver shots in Portland and Oregon, made the highest score. Joseph Willins, who was a close second to Captain Moore in the shoot yesterday, is very adept with a revolver. He is said to be one of the best shots in Port-

The present members of the association hope to greatly increase the membership of the organization in Portland within the next two or three

These special trains will travel on pas-senger train time and will be burried to Seattle, where racing begins at the Meadows. Aiready Secretary Adams, of the Multnomah Fair Association has received letters and telegrams from horse-men who wish to unload their horses at Portland. Judge Skinner is another clever horseman. His work in the stand last year at Irvington was beyond criticism. He is eminently fair and impartial. Until a couple of months ago he owned a stable of very good horses and he knows the racing game backwards. It is said of both Skinner and Egbert that they of both Skinner and Eghert that they can scent a job farther than a Government mule can scent an Indian. Fred Mulhoiland will again be the starter. New Way to Load Ballast.

A new plan of loading ballast into a vessel was tried on the French ship Ber-engere in San Francisco harbor last week. Four hundred tons of rock were trans-ferred from a barge into the hold in five hours, counting in a few delays. By a belt system placed in the barge, the rock was swept into buckets attached to a re-volving chair passing between the ship and the barge. The experiment was de-ciared satisfactory, and it is though that with the apparatus in perfect order 100 tons can be loaded in an hour.
