WOOD DEMANDS

Asks That Grand Jury Look Into Jury - Bribing Charge.

ECHO OF RUMELIN TRIAL

Attorney Addresses the Court, De claring Allegation Is False and Malicious and Asks for Full Investigation of Charge.

A stir was created yesterday morning in Department No. I, State Circuit Court, when C. E. S. Wood demanded that the grand jury make a full investigation of the charges made in a newspaper of brib-ery in connection with the C. E. Rumelin jury. He denounces these accusations as outrageous, infamous and false, and said action should be taken sgainst the instigator.

Judges Cleland and Sears occupied the bench when court convened, and Mr. Wood, who defended Rumelin in his recent trial, was present with a newspaper in each pocket. Judge Cleland asked, "Are there any ex parte matters."

Mr. Wood arose, and removing one of the newspapers from his pocket, addressed the court, saying: "If the court please, I have something to say in a matter which is of vital interest to me."

Mr. Wood arose, and removing one of the newspapers from his pocket, addressed the court, saying: "If the court please, I have something to say in a matter which is of vital interest to me."

Mr. Wood then proceeded to denounce an article concerning the jury bribing as maliclous and untrue, and taking the other newspaper from his pocket and holding it aloft, stated that it had also made reference to it. The attorney proceeded to read the first article, and Judge. ceeded to read the first article, and Judge Cleiand interrupted him to say that there was nothing before the court, and the court had no information whatever upon the subject and did not think it was according to procedure to hear the re-marks of counsel.

The complaint recites that the publications are untrue, malicious and likelous, and tend to injure the reputation and good name of Mr. Rumelin in the community, and were published with intent to injure him, and to create a prejudice against him and to endeavor to obtain his conviction on a charge of which duced Her as Unmarried.

Lens C. Story alleges that her husband, Seth J. Story, introduced her to female acquaintances as a maiden woman by the mame of Miss Story, and heaped personal indignities upon her when their little daughter made it known that he was her father. Mrs. Story yesterday filed suit for a divorce in the State Circuft Court. The complaint filed by Mrs. Story is of a sensational nature. It sets forth that Story, six months after marriage, asso-clated with other women, and correciated with other women, and corresponded with women in other towns and cities, inviting them to come here. Mrs.

Story asserts that her husband repeatedly urged her to lead what he called a Bohemian life, and to be a good fellow,

He grabbed for a small board, but it broke in his grasp and he fell to the table. He money, and for legal custody of the child.

Not a true bill was returned by the grand jury yesterday in the case of D. A. that it was very dangerous. He has a Paul, manager of the Sailore Union, who wife and three sons at Lents. was charged with conducting a sailor boardinghouse without a license. The complaint against Paul was made by Ben Bigelin, harbor master, who alleged that Paul boarded several sailors, and this the latter denied. His attorney, Raiph Citron, alleged that the Longshore-men's Union, which had a difference with the sailor boarding-house keepers, urged Biglin to act. The harbor master says this is not true, and he was only endeav-ering to perform his duty as he sees it. Mr. Paul thinks the law is unconstitutional and alleges that he will test it in the courts. He also asserts that it con-flicts with the Federal law on the same subject. Some time ago the Oregon Supreme Court construed the act for a sailor boarding-house commission, and to regulate sailor boarding-houses, and did not declare it unconstitutional. Counsel for Paul may have some new points to

Grand Jury Is Busy.

The grand jury is still engaged in in-ulring into street contracts, and yester-ay afternoon the members took a trip o South Portland and viewed the Piret-street fill and some other improvements in that vicinity. Fred D. Matthews was a witness before the grand jury yesterday morning, and related what he knew in a general way concerning street work in South Portland. His evidence is said to have been unimportant.

Joseph Young Indicted.

Joseph Young, a saloonkesper at Washington and Sixteenth streets, who shot Kaspar Van Dran on the night of May 2, was indicted by the grand jury yesterday for assault with a dangerous weapon. His bail was raised to $10,000, and as he was unable to procure a hond in this sum. Young was arrested by Sheriff Word and locked up in the County Jail. He has hopes of furnishing the required bond soon. The witnesses who appeared before the grand jury against Young were Van Dran, Frederick Richter and F. R. Chase.

Indicted for Fraud.

Andrew Jansen, alias Andrew Steffon, was indicted by the grand jury yesterday for obtaining $300 from Kirk Hoover, a wood dealer, on December 14, 1904. Jansen represented himself to Hoover to be Herman Frad, and in consideration of $300 gave Hoover an order for 250 cords of wood said to be piled near Warren. After receiving the money Jansen ded from the state. He was arrested in the East and brought back here, and now occupies a cell in the County Jail.

Oregonians Are Healthy.

Dudley Evans, County Health Officer, Dudley Evans, County Health Officer, reports that the general health of the county is good, and that there are few cases of contagious disease. These are occasionally not promptly reported, and Mr. Evans urges immediate attention and reports in such instances, as a safeguard to others. He states that he has appointed ex-officio assistants throughout the county to keep him advised of what is going on in various localities, and finds that it is of much assistance to the work of the office.

Admitted to Probate.

The will of Mary McDermott, deceased, disposing of property valued at $20,000 to her daughter, Esther McDermott Cooke, was admitted to probate in the County Court yesterday, James P. Cooke is

Mr. Wood then demanded an action against the parties responsible for the reports, which, he said, had been shown in open court were untrue.

District Attorney Manning asked: "Do you want a full investigation of this whole affair by the grand jury"

"I certainly do," answered Mr. Wood.
"Then you shall have it, Mr. Wood, said the District Attorney, and the incident closed.
