FREE LOAN SOCIETY MEETS.—The Free Loan Society lent money without interest to 56 persons during the last year and got it all back. This was the most significant fact in the reports made last night at the annual meeting of the organization. A good work has been done, and those who through misfortune, the greed of others or their own mistakes have been placed in hard straits have been relieved. The new officers of the society are: M. Ostrow, president; M. Rein, first vice-president; I. Bromberg, second vice-president; Ben Selling, treasurer: Dr. J. Shapo, secretary; directors.

Dr. S. Wise, Rev. R. Abrahamson, D. Nemerovsky, I. Dantoff, M. Max. A. Fleischman, M. Abrams, H. Goldstein and William Fest, honorary director.

FUNERAL OF BENTON KILLIN.—The funeral of Benton Killin, who died Friday afternoon, was held yesterday morning from the family residence at Thirteenth and Columbia streets. Dr. H. M. Ramsey, of St. Stephen's Chapel, conducted the services at the house, and the Boyer Quartet sang two songs. The Masonic rites were observed at the grave, the services there being in charge of Holbrook rites were observed at the grave, the ser-tices there being in charge of Holbrook Lodge, of Forest Grove, Or., assisted by the Portland Lodge. Dr. H. A. Barden pronounced a prayer at the close of the services at the grave. The pallbearers were: T. A. McBride, Dr. James Withy-combe, Tyler Woodward, J. C. Moreland, W. B. Honeyman and H. W. Scott.

DACGRIES OF THE TEMPLE.—The Summer home of Mrs. William Gray, seven miles up the Willamette River, on the White House road, was the scene of a merry gathering of young ladles Saturday afternoon and evening. The Daughters of afternoon and evening. The Daughters of that date the A. & C. R. Will inaugurate the Temple, an organization of girls connected with the White Temple, were the guests. A ramble down Tryon Creek, games of tennis and a sumptious bonfire suppor were some of the attractions. City girls who have but few leisure hours especially enjoy such things, and this is the first of several such good times planned for the Summer for the Daughters of the Temple.

WORK ON BURNSIDE BRIDGE -Superin Work on Burnside Bridge—Superintendent Fuller, of the Portland Consolidated Railway Company, announces that East Side cars will resume the use of the Burnside bridge next Thursday. Probably also by that time teams may use one side of the structure. The contractors say that if they could have secured the lumber they would have completed their work before now, but hope to do so this week. An improvement is being made to the sidewalks on the draw, which will be appreciated by the public, by the laying of the boards crossways instead of lengthways, as was done ead of lengthways, as was do

YSAYE TOMORROW NIGHT

Recital at Marquam Will Be Notable Event of Season,

The programme for the Ysaye recital tomorrow night has attracted a great deal of attention and comment, and there were many telephone congratulations yes-terday among Portland's colony of violin-ists over the fact that the great Belgian ists over the fact that the great Beigian muster was to play the Kreutzer Sonata. It was Ysaye's playing of this very number that roused the conservative New York Herald to remark: "Ysaye well deserved the almost extravagant tribute which his audience paid him. He showed himself a very Titon of the violin. All his well-remembered vivor and dash of his well-remembered vigor and dash of added to them was an increase of assur ance and a growth of pose. The crowded house fairly thundered its applause after his 'Kreutzer Sonata.' Portland may well compratulate herself upon the rare chance her music-lovers have in hearing Ysaye, especially in such a magnificen programme. The great Belgian will be assisted by the director of the Belgian Philharmonic Society, Jules de Befve, one of the best of the accompanists. The concert is under the personal direction of Lois Steers-Wynn Coman.

It is certain that Minister Barrett will It is certain that Minister Barrett will go from our midst; and this fact is one which cannot but concern us. Mr. Bar-rett, since his arrival on the Isthmus, has conducted himself both personally and officially in a manner altogether irre-proachable; he has been, as it were, a distinguished guest of the nation, one who in every circle, official and social, has in every way maintained the dignity of his position, while in his diplomatic negotia-tions with our young Republic he has been as respectful as benevolent. These characteristics, which we are glad to recognize in this distinguished diplo-mat, we also recognize in the personal condescension upon different occasions, and whose friendship we appreciate. For these reasons, we deeply regret that John Barrett is about to leave our midst.

PRIZE-POEM WINNER IS A WOMAN

MRS. A. A. LINDSLEY.

It developed yesterday that the winner of the prize for the official Lewis and Clark ballad on the Trall is not a man, but a woman. The name John Malcolm Graham turned out to be a nom de plume. The writer is Mrs. A. A.

Lindsley, wife of A. A. Lindsley, ex-State Treasurer of Washington. Mrs. Lindsley has been residing in Portland for nearly a year past.

About two weeks ago the idea of competing for the prize overtook her. She took a pad of paper, roated it so her knees and penciled the words of the prize-wigner. When she had finished she showed it to her sister, Mrs. C. C. Van Etten, of Olympia, who was visiting with her as the time. Mrs. Van Etten said it was not had, and accordingly the ballad was typwritten and submitted. Mrs. Lindeley was formerly stenographer for the Supreme Court of Washington, and came to Portland to take a similar position with a Portland concern. She power and light for the entire stretch of country east of the river, and reaching back for many miles. At the present time more than $30,900 are available for the work, and the people back of the movement are busy securing water rights along the river at the most advantageous falls.

The plan, in brief, is to found three great power plants along the river from a point west of Princville towards the mouth of the river; another point contemmouth of the river; another point contem-plated being at Kline Falls, which is one of the best water power stations that could be found in the state. It is estimated that it will take ap-proxymately $200,000 to construct the easy matter to interest Eastern capital or even local money in a sufficient amount to insure the completion of the project.

Generate Great Horsepower.

According to present estimates and plans, it is said that the power stations will be placed at a total cost of between $60,000 and $100,000. These will be able to generate more than 15,000 horsepower as built. It is the intention then to lead this light and power out over the country to the various places in need of the

The magnitude and importance of the undertaking can readily be understood when it is shown that at the present time it is necessary to hauf slab wood from Bridal Veil to the interior for use as fuel Small veil to the interior for use as fuel in the business enterprises and mills using power through that country. There is but little wood that can be reached, and the fuel question is already becoming one of importance. And without fuel, it is next to impossible to provide light, unless it is done by electricity generated by water nower.

As a side issue, more than as a primary undertaking, the construction of an electric line between The Dailes and Prineville will be attempted. It is not thought in the interior country that the Columbia Southern will never be extended to Prineville, and as an evidence of this argument's truth is the fact that Mr. Hammond is back of the electric line scheme. mond is back of the electric line scheme.
With Mr. Hammond in the scheme is associated a number of men, some of whom are well known in Oregon as capitalists, while it is said that a number of italists, while it is said that a number of Eastern moneyed men are taking an in-terest in the plan. Archie Mason, the well-known Portland contractor, is now at work securing the water rights for the new power stations. Whether or not these have been secured is not at present known, as none of the men interested will talk, but it is thought that nothing stands in the way of the accomplishment of their purposes.

IN PRAISE OF JOHN KNOX

Dr. Robert Hope Delivers Interesting

Dr. Robert Hope, pastor in charge of All Saints Episcopal Church, yesterday chose for his subject, "The John Knox Centennial." His text was taken from Psalm 77:5-"I have considered the days of old, the years of ancient times," and in reference to John Knox, whom he characterized as "the man for his times," who died with his work accomplished, he said:

past live in the high ideals of the presevents. Memorial days are becoming more and more part of the education of our people.
