VOL, XLV.-NO. 13,878.

PORTLAND, OREGON, THURSDAY, JUNE 1, 1905.

PRICE FIVE CENTS.

IS CITY'S GUEST

Comes to Speak at

Opening of Fair.

REPRESENTS MR. ROOSEVELT

Fourth U. S. Cavalry Escorts

Him Through Streets.

CHEERED BY GREAT THRONG

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Warren Fairbanks Arrive to Attend Today's

Ceremonies at the Great

Centennial.

VICE-PRESIDENT FAIRBANKS TO-

DAY.

9:30 A. M .- Vice-President Fairbanks and President Goods will be conducted by an escort of cavalry from Mr. Goode's residence to Sixth and Montgomery, where the parada

10 A. M.-Rides in carriage with President Goods in parade from Portland Hotel to Exposition entrance,

Twenty-eighth and Thurman streets.

Congressional committee and other guests walk from the New York

1 P. M .- Delivers address on cere-

1:30 P. M.-At conclusion of opening ceremonies goes to New York building,

7 P. M .- Guest at dinner at New York building in honor of Vice-Presi-

9 to 11 P. M .- Guest of honor at reception in pavilion annex to New York

He who may be President and who is the personal representative of the executive head of the Nation, Charles Warren

Fairbanks Vice-President of the United States, is the guest of Portland. And he cames not alone, but accompanied by many others who rank high in the councils of the Government. Joseph G. Cannon, the veteran statesman and the Speaker of the House of Representatives, a man who, it is said, may also be the James A. Tawney, who cast the deciding vote that made possible the Government appropriation which allowed the Lewis and Clark Exposition to open its gates;

these and many others, friends of Oregon honor to the effort of Portland and the

The train bearing the Vice-Presidential and Congressional party did not reach the Union depot yesterday morning until $ o'clock, owing to a delay in the running time and change in the hour of leaving Seattle. But the hour to spare added to the numbers gathered to do the guests of the state honor, and when the train at last drew into the station, the cordon of Captain Bailey's finest had a strenuous time in keeping a clear passage for the Met by President Goode.

visitors to pass to their carriages.

with other guests, for refreshments,

dent and Congressional committee.

building.

state.

EXPOSITION OPEN TO WORLD TODAY

Lewis and Clark Fair Is Ready for Crowds.

PROGRAMME IS COMPLETED

Impressive !naugural Ceremony Begins at Noon.

DIGNITARIES IN PARADE

City Is in Gala Attire, Visitors Are Arriving in Great Throngs, and Even Exhibit Palaces Are Almost Ready.

THE DAY IN A NUTSHELL.

8 A. M .- Exposition gates open 10 A. M.-The parade starts from the Portland Blotel and marches to the Exposition grounds through the Twentyeighth-street and Thurman-avenue en-11:30 A. M.-Arrival of parade at the Exposition grounds.

11:45 A. M.—Salute of 18 guns in homor of the Vice-President by the Eighteenth Battery, Field Artillery, U. Nonn-Opening ceremonies commence, at conclusion of which all butiflings will be open to the public and a centennial sulute of 100 gune will be fired by the Firet Battery, Field Artitlery, Oregon National Guard. 2:30 P. M.-Concert by Administration Band in grand bandstand. 7 P. M .- Dinner at the New York and Congressional committee, by the Exposition directorate.

7:30 P. M.-Concert by Innes and his band in the bandetand. 8:30 P. M.-Fireworks on post Gulld's Lake, 9 P. M.—Invitation receptor An Pa-vilion annex of the New April habilding to Vice-President Fairbank, and Couresolenal party.

11 F. M.-Expection gates close. ******************

Today at noon the Lewis and Clark Centennial Exposition will be formally opened to the world. The Exposition is ready to to the world. The Exposition forey detall of the arrangements had been dispensed with before 6 o'clock last evening and every ceremony and every function

The city, too, is in gula attire and ready to do its part on a scale befitting the magnitude of the day. Decoration in evidence in nearly every store in the city and on a large percentage of the residences. The showers kept back many corations, which, however, will appear this morning As far as the state of readiness of the Exposition is concerned, little will be found incomplete. Only in several of the exhibit palaces are there any unfinished details, and these are of mere portions of exhibits. The percentage of completeness was announced officially last night as being H per cent, a truly remarkable record.

State of the Weather.

That important adjunct, the weather, was still unsettled at a late hour last night. Clouds hovered over the vicinity. with now and then a break which let the startight through, bespeaking of fine weather to come. Daylight, however, will find the elements settled. Promises of intermittent bursts of sunshine form the best prophecies the Weather Bureau could make last evening.

But after all, the weather does not matter. The occasion is one which rises above any captices of wind or rain. Thousands of people will tise with the lark and prepare to participate in the big demonstrations of the day, impelled by a range of motives from curiosity to patriotism. Thousands of visitors there are, too, in the city, and some of these have come from the ends of the earth.

It may be regarded as fortunate that there have been no suggestions of delay in any part of the programme. Vice President Pairbanks and his official party reached the city early yesterday, and are in excellent spirits for the arduous duties of the day. All of the other speakers have reported as being ready. Then all details of the big parade have been arranged, the plans for the opening ceremonies arranged—and, in fact, nothing reexcept to carry these details ectivity will begin with the assembling of the great military parade. This will move premptly at 16 o'clock from the Hotel Portland. Riding in the great move promptly at 16 e clock from the Hotel Portland. Biding in the great pageant will be Vice-President Fairbanks. Expention President Goode and other speakers Leaving the starting point, the column, with nearly a mile of troops, representing every branch of the service, will move down Sixth street to Alder street, where it will turn off and wend its way to the Presenting grounds.

Military Parade at Ten.

its way to the Exposition grounds.

An hour and a half will suffice for the trip to the grounds, allowing for possible delays. No time will then be lost in placing the official party at the grandstand, on Lakeview Terrace, and at 12 o clock noon. President Goode will call the multitude to order. The exercises that follow, will be impressive and stir-

Opening Ceremonies at Noon

Following the opening prayer and the addresses of the day, President Goode will transmit a message to President Roosevelt, informing him that the Portland Ex-will be moments of suspense as the vast concourse of people listen with strained ears for the first peals of the Government chimes. The ringing of these chimes will be President Roosevelt's first response to the message sent to him. He will set the bells in motion by pressing the solden key in the East Room of the White House, where he will be attended by his Cabinet and other dignituries of the Nation and of foreign countries.

foreign countries.

As the inspiring notes of "America" (Concluded on Page 14.)

CONTENTS TODAY'S PAPER

The Weather, Showers South to west winds YESTERDAY'S Maximum temperature, 69 deg.; minimum, 58. Precipitation, 0.09 of an inch.

The War in the Far East.

Particulars of naval battle Page I.

Rojestvensky, badly wounded, prisoner in Japanese hospital. Page 1.

Two more torpedo-boats reach Vladivostok.

Page 1.

panese only lose three torpedo-boats. Page 1.
Crar calls council on future course. Page 3.
Russian papers denounce bureaucrate and demand immediate reforms. Page 2.
Japan will insist Russia treat her as equal in peace negotiations. Page 4.

Foreign. Anarchist throws bomb at King Alfonso and President Loubet, but they escape injury.

Morton will resign as Secretary of Navy and Bonaparte succeed him. Page 2. Lorenz turns state's evidence in postal fraud trial. Page 2.

Hill lines supreme in Northwest under agreement with Harriman. Page 3. Pederal Court decides Chicago strikers are subject to it. Page 4.

mittee reports on Equitable affairs. Page 2.

Chicago carlines propose terms of sale city. Page 3. Victims of Gunnises tunnel disaster rescued.

Partific Coast League scores: San Francisco 3, Los Angeles 1; Cakinno 2, Tacoma 1; Fortland, wet grounds. Page 6.

Pacific Coast. Rhea-Creek dwellers rush into the path of the cloudburst near Reppher. Page 5. Lewiston Council grants franchise to proposed electric road. Page 5.

State employes at Salem will sue for pay warrants. Page 5. Judge Chadwick ineligible as Washington Railroad Commissioner. Page 5.

Commercial and Marine. Effect on woot market of Oriental naval-battle. Page 15.

May grain deale wound up at San Francisco. Page 15. Chicago corn Jumps 9 cents. Page 15, Steamer Dalles City damaged by collision with Charles R. Spencer. Page 6.

Lewis and Clark Exposition. Today the Lewis and Clark Centennial Expo sition, commemorating the great expedi-tion of Captains Lewis and Clark, opens to the public. Page 1 ice-President Pairbanks arrives to repre-sent President Roosevelt at the opening of the Expession. Page 1.

pening-day Exposition parade will move promptly at 10 o'clock this morning, passing from center of city to grounds. Page 10.

ortland may expect showers today, but with plenty of sunshine in between Page 10. cusands of strangers crowd the city to witness opening crremonies of the Cen witness opening tennial. Page 11.

reet railway lines will run one car ever minute today to handle the Expositio crowds. Pagy 10. blice in large numbers will clear etree and protect public during opening parade of the Exposition Page 10. Uncle Jos" Cannon. Speaker of National House of Representatives, here for the opening exercises. Page 10.

the streets. Page 11. Gooding, of Idaho, arrives with his take part in the opening cere-today. Page 11.

overnment buildings and exhibits are com-pleted and ready for inspection. Page 11 ernor Mead, of Washington, and his staff have arrived to attend the opening ceremonles. Page 10.

normen Page 10.
ngressman James A. Tawney, of Minne soin, is here with the Congressions note, is here with party. Page 11, edication of the Washington state building occurs tomorrow with appropriate ceremonies. Page 11.

Portland and Vicinity.

ayer Williams addresses enthus crowd of East Side voters. Page 14. crowd of East Bide voters. Page 14.

Standerous circulars concerning Mayor Wittiams to be circulated by "citizens" committee. Page 16.

Miss Mary Robinson testifies that A. B.
Hood and wife gave her drugs and took her money. Page 14.

Paper mills of Pacific Coast are consolidated through signatule financial deal. Page 14.

Police record for Mary Money.

Police record for May shows comparatively small number of arrests. Page 14. Bianket franchise amendment would give street railway companies advantages of a trust. Page 9.

Captain of Admiral Nakimoff Describes How He Lost Ship in Battle.

HIT BY MINE OR TORPEDO

Remnant of Fleet Surrendered After Circling Enemy Had Poured in Terrible Fire, Causing Hopeless Confusion.

LONDON, June L-The Daily Telegraph's Tokio correspondent says three Russian warships of the Inamend. Kulas Souvaroff and Aurora types, respectively, have arrived at Hamada, on the west coust of Houshlu, Japan and will probably be cuptured.

LONDON, May 31.-The Daily Mail's Tokio correspondent says that the Ceptain of the Russian cruiser Admiral Nak moff, who is now a prisoner, relates the following story of the battle between the

"We first saw the Japanese at 6 o'clock on the morning of May 27, when suddenly and unexpectedly we encountered the enemy's fleet as we were moving to the east of Tsu Island. They steamed toward us and opened fire. "Only 30 minutes after the firing began, a sudden shock was felt under the Admiral Nakimoff and she began to sink with great rapidity. My belief is that she either struck a mine or a torpedo. My crew numbered 600 men, a majority of whom went down in the ship, as there was no time to get the men on deck. "Mywelf and a number of survivora aided by lifebelts, swam to a small launch and about 10 o'clock in the morning we went aboard a fisher-boat. All of the officers were sent to Shimonosekt.

In Circle of Gunfire.

"In the engagement fought off Liancourt Rocks the Russian battleships were surrounded by Japanese ships, which circled about them, pouring in a terrible fire, and they almost immediately fell confusion. Seeing their slight, Vice-Admiral Togo signaled from the battleship Mikasa a demand to know whether the Russians were ready to sur-render. Our ships complied with the de-

Other accounts of the battle describe the roar of the cannon as so terrible that houses were shaken at Yamaguchi, 28 miles distant, and the people supposed it was an earthquake.

The Japanese fleet suffered little. The battlesnip Asahi was often hit, and suffered the heaviest losses, but did not quit the firing line, Admiral Kamimura was sent southward for the purpose of beginning battle with a small squadron. He, however, allowed Figs. flowers and hunting everywhere: a small squadron. He, however, allowed atores closed and hippy employes throng the Russians to pass him. Then Rear-Admiral Uris broke in upon them from Okf Island and passed across the head of the third line, raking them again and again.

Great Work of Submarines.

Japanese submarine boats the correspondent says, proved most effective. The armored cruiser Viadimir Mono-mach holated the white flag during the battle, and with a hundred of her crew surrendered.

The repair ship Kamtchatka was badly hit early in the battle. Her steering gear was so disabled that she could only circle round and round. While she was in this condition a shell hit her engines. completely disabling her. Fifty-six of her crew took to the boats, but these were barely lowered when the Kamtchatka lurched. Her bows rose in the water and she sank with a tremendous roar. Her captsin was killed and three officers were drowned and two were wounded, while the fate of the others is uncertain. One of the Kamtchatka's officers, while in a boat, crew took to the boats, but these were the Kamtchatka's officers, while in a boat, saw the Japanese close around the Rus-

BESET WITH RING OF FIRE Russians Broke Formation Early in Battle, Then Were Lost.

LONDON, June 1.-The Tokio correspondent of the Dally Telegraph sends an interesting description of the naval battie from a correspondent with the Japas suprememly terrible, the guns of nearly fifty warships firing. Togo's vessels, this correspondent says, maneuvered with perfect precision. For a time both bel-ligerents gave shot for shot, but, with a hostile squadron on each side and another ahead of him, Rojestvensky was practically defeated within a few hours and was caught in a trap which had been waiting for him since be left Madagascal He displayed hesitation in his tactics and this resulted in the utter confusion of the Russian fleet. An infernal concentration of fire reached its senith at 2 o'clock in the afternoon. As the Russians advanced in the direction of Vindivostock, a Japanese squadron was lying between them and their destination and the doomed Russians were o'clock in the afternoon a cruiser of the Admiral Nakhimroff class and the rapair ship Kamtchatka foundered after their upper works had been shattered. The Russians broke in utter disorder lost their formation and went six-zag. The Japanese closed in and pressed them towards the Nagoto coast. The fight lasted until 7 o'clock in the evening. The Togo risked nothing and lost nothing Darkness brought a glorious night with mooth and transparent seas. The Russlans were edging northward with the powerful Japanese fleet in a horizon line across their bows, forming an effective barrier.

Then, when under searchlights and the cover of the big guns of the warships, the Japanese torpedo flotilla began like lousts to sting and sink the enemy, the Russians continuing to return gunfire. At 2 o'clock in the morning the fighting was fierce and intense and no rest was

"With dawn of Sunday the Japanese fleet came into still closer range. day long the battle continued and by evening was raging off Northern Nagoto. The Russians were powerless to offer any effective resistance."

ROJESTVENSKY IS IN HOSPITAL

Togo Reports He Only Lost Three Torpedo-Boats in Battle.

TOKIO, May 31.-(1 P. M.)-Admiral Togo reports that all the captured ships sent to Sasebo have arrived, and that their crews have been landed. Admiral Rojestvensky has entered the Naval Hos-The report that Vice-Admiral Enquist was captured proves to have been a mistake, caused by the misinterpretaon of wireless telegrams.

Admiral Togo also reports that two Rusian hospital ships, which accompanied Admiral Rojestvensky's fleet into the Straits of Corea, May 27, were suspected of a violation of The Hague Convention, and besides, owing to the greatest necessity for strategic protection, he detained them temporarily and convoyed them to Nebogatoff May Report to Czar.

By direction of the Emperor, Admiral Ito has instructed Admiral Togo to allow Vice-Admiral Nebogatoff and other Russian officers to transmit a report of the battle and a list of casualties and prisoners to the Emperor of Russia. The fficers of the battleships Orel and Nikolai I and the coast-defense ships Admiral Apraxine and Admiral Seniavin are to be permitted to return to Russian upon giving their parole.

The damages to the Japanese fleet, Adniral Togo says, were slight. Only three torpedo-boats were lost. No warships or destroyers were sunk.

Mikado's Thanks for Victory. The Emperor has issued the following rescript to Admiral Togo:

(Concluded on Page 3)

KING ALFONSO

Anarchist's Bad Aim - Saves Monarch and President Loubet's Lives.

FIVE PERSONS ARE INJURED

Spanish Sovereign and French President Have Miraculous Escape. Three Young Men Are Arrested on Suspicion.

PARIS, June 1.-An attempt to assasinate King Alfonso was made at midnight. as His Majesty drove with President Lou. bet from a gala performance at the Grand Opera-House. A bomb was thrown by an anarchist, and exploded with deadly effect near the royal carriage. As if by a miracle, both the King and President escaped uninjured, but fragments of the lastle seriously injured five persons, killed or maimed a number of cavalry horses forming the escort and knocked out a childs' eye. The King and President retained their presence of mind His suite to make inquiries as to the condition of the wounded. The person who is believed to have thrown the bomb has been arrested with two others who are

King Alfonso and President Loubet had been cheered along the entire route to the opera by enthusiastic crowds, the young monarch having completely gained here. The gala performance comprised "Samson and Delilah" and "Maladetta."

When the King and President Loubet entered the building, surrounded by a rilliant staff and followed by nearly the entire diplomatic corps and superior officials, the house, which was composed of the elite of French society, rose and The performance went without a hitch.

His Majesty chatted gaily with President Loubet during the intermissions, and at the close of the performance the orchestra again played the national hymns of the two countries, and the King and President arose to leave.

Cheered by Dense Crowds.

They proceeded down the grand stairase and arrived at the gally illuminated and decorated Place de l'Opera, where the royal carriage awaited them. The King and President took seats side by side, and the vehicle started off, surunded by several squadrons of cuirassiera toward the Avenue de l'Opera.

The space around the Opera-House was ieared for 200 yards, but the avenue was packed with a dense throng which, while Presidential party, admired the charming scene, the decorations extending as far as the Palais Royal. When the King's carringe passed at a gallop, followed by others containing the diplomatic corps and the Ministers, the crowd cheered itself hearse, shouting:

"Long live the King!" and "Long live the President!" The procession arrived at the end of the Avenue de l'Opera and crossed the Place Theatre Francais, where were assembled at least 1500 persons in the Rue de Rohan, a short street forming practically a con-tinuation of the Avenue de l'Opera, right opposite the arched gateway of the Louvre leading to the Place Carrousel.

Bomb Flung at Carriage.

There, just a few yards before reaching the Rue Rivoll, a man sprang forward with his arm raised in the air and, before without uttering a word, threw a projectlle in the direction of the royal carriage The police immediately rushed toward him.

occurred. Cries from the growd were egan, the crowd surging to and fro. Sol-liers were seen to fall, but, as the flash from the bomb died out, it was observed that the King and the President had not een struck, and their carriage proceeded on its way.

The bomb had been thrown with to great force and passed over the royal car-riage and atruck the shoulder of a culrasier, and then fell to the ground, where i exploded, fragments of it striking the horses of the soldiers, causing them to bolt and throw their riders.

Several Persons Wounded.

Captain Schneider, who was riding at the right side of the carriage, and Captain Garnier, who was on the left, were both thrown. Fragments of the bomb policemen, a woman, who was seriously injured, and a child, who was struck in the eye. One hose of the escort was killed outright and six others lay about,

The force of the explosion was terrific and caused a derangement of the electric lights, which were all extinguished, adding darkness to the scene of confusion Women and children screamed, and panic was for a time threatened in the vast throng until the police succeeded in restoring order.

In the meantime the remainder of the scort to the royal carriage had close around the vehicle, which disappeared un fer the archway of the Louvre. young King was to be seen sitting beside the President. He was pale, but apparently calm. Just before appeared the King called one of the attaches to the Spanish Embassy, and sent him back to inquire concerning wounded. The carriage drove off to the Palais d'Orsay, hemmed in by troops cavalry.

The police immediately gathered in strong force and cleared the surrou streets and began attending to the wounded, who were carried to a nearby hotel.

Suspected Bombthrower Caught.

Immediately following the explosion an individual was seen to dash into the crowd, but men seized him before he could escape and turned him over to the police. the outrage. Many other arrests were made. The first person taken was a boy about 20 years of age, having an injure eye. It was not known whether his wound was caused by the explosion or by the violence of the crowd. He refused to speak.

A woman informed the police that she waw the man under a neighboring gateway talking to two men just before the cheered, while the orchestra played the explosion. He had something conical-Spanish and French national anthems. I shaped in his hand. She also declares that she saw him lighting what she no considers must have been a fuse, but at the time she says she did not pay much attention to him.

Other persons arrested on suspicion of being accomplices in the deed refuse to give information regarding the man believed to be responsible. Throughout the night excited crowds remained outside the rdons of police and soldiers drawn about the scene of the explosion where officials of the municipal inboratory are searching for fragments of the bomb.

Prisoners All Young Workmen.

At 2 o'clock this morning the Prefec of Police interrogated the men arrested, who described themselves as follows: Louis Finot, aged 22, a tallor; Marcel Hauten, aged 14, a glassblower; and Ferawaiting the passage of the royal and dinand Boler, aged II, a florist. It is not known whether they belonged to the Chief Executive of the country, is here; group which organized the outrage. They will be put through a serious interroga tion. Meanwhile they are held at the dison of the police

King Inquires Into Facts.

After they returned to the Palais d'-Orany, President Loubet remained for a considerable time with King Alfonso, who requested that he be informed of the circumstances of the event. He desired to know whether anybody had been wounded, and he expressed his intention of not retiring until completely reassured

His Majesty telegraphed to his mother informing her that he had returned to informing her that he had returned to the royal quarters without incident. President Loubet withdrew after telling the King how much be deplored the shocking attempt and congratulating him on his happy escape. Lights were ob-served until very late in the King's apart-ments. The King did not retire until informed that nobody had been seriously wounded.

The police report that Paul Gartier, s

(Concluded on Page 3.)

President H. W. Goode, of the Expesition, and Mrs. Goode, J. C. Ainsworth, Henry Ladd Corbett and L. A. Lewis, the committee chosen to represent the Exposition, and Theodore Hardee, the assistant to President Goode, were waiting under the train sheds as the long line of coaches came to a standstill, and Mr. and Mrs. Goode, Theodore Hardee, Colonel Steever and his chief of staff, Captain F. T. Arnold, boarded the private car in which were Vice-President and Mrs. Fairbanks, Mr. and Mrs. Warren Fairbanks and Fred Fairbanks. President Goods welcomed Vice-President Fairbanks and his party to the city and to the Exposition, after which formality the way was led to the carriages waiting in front of the main entrance on Sixth street. Amild a Storm of Cheers

The Vice-Presidential party, immediate. ly followed by the members of the Congressional party, headed by Speaker Joseph Cannon, passed through the crowds at the gates amid a storm of cheers and cries of welcome. As Vice-President Fairbanks emerged from under the arch. escorted by Mr. Goode, the Fourth Cavalry Band struck up the Vice-Presidential salute, while the long line of horsemen ranged on either side of the street swung their sabres to the present.

Vice-President and Mrs. Fairbanks and Mr. and Mrs. Goode were placed in the first carriage, and, preceded by the band and encorted by the troops, started in the direction of the Portland Hotel, In second carriage were Mr. and Mrs. War-ren Fairbanks and Fred Fairbanks, while the third carriage contained Colonel Stanver and his chier, Captain Arnold. Following these carriages were the t the Congressional party, headed by Mr. Campon.

The parade led up Sixth street to the Portland Hotel, where the Vice-Preside tial party, escorted by the troops, tur and drove to the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Goode, who will be the hosts of Mr. and Mrs. Fairbanks and their family dur-ing their stee in the side of the control of the co ing their stay in the city.

There were no formal functions extended to the guests of the city yesterday after-

(Concluded on Page A)

UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT BUILDING WHICH WAS COMPLETED TESTERDAY AND WHICH WILL BE OPENED TODAY AFTER THE EXPOSITION CEREMONIES