YELLOW PERIL MERE BOGY

Baron Suyematsu Says Czar Must Sink Pride of Race and Color and Stop Bluffing, as He Did With Bogus Army.

CHICAGO, May 31 .- (Special.) -- A special cable dispatch to the Daily News from London says: Russia must have given up all idea Japanese inferiority before peace will be possible," said Baron Suyemst-au, the Mikado's confidential agent here, to your correspondent today, "While our opponents cling to any vestige of the notion that yellow is the badge of racial dishonor compared to white, we cannot expect the Carto consent to the terms of peace waich Japan can accept. Justice will be done us voluntarily only when Russian governing opinion accords us the status under existing circumstances, which would be granted as a matter of course to a great white power.

There must be neither yellow nor white, Christian nor Pagan, in the peace arrangements. Neither the color of our skin, religion nor any other ex-traneous thing shall count. We insist that the verdict be rendered on the fundamentals of the case, on the moral capacity and worth Japan has dis-played, and not with reference to ir-relevant triffes.

Russia Must Stop Bluffing.

'It is equally necessary that before entering on peace negotiations, Russia shall abandon all thought of bluffing Japan into a settlement. Back in the Japan into a settlement. Back in the beginning our enemy tried to compel us to accept conditions inimical to our future by alleging the presence of a huge army in Manchuria. In these latest days I believe, as I find instructed Englishmen and Frenchmen believe, Russia endeavored to induce us to proffer peace by marshaling a great collection of ships in the direction of our shores. I do not think at all it was ever intended that Rojestvensky should fight; but we remained silent and the armada was forged to go forward to its doom.

Yellow Peril Won't Work.

"Now rises once more the over-worked specter of the reliow peril. Possibly Russia will wait to see what effect can be produced by parading this bogy through the world. The parade is going on this morning in Europe and America. I can tell Russia it will help the Czar's cause no more than did toe mythical army in Manchuria or the far-spread fleet of Rojestvensky. There may be those who wish to rally against us with this cry, but fortunately there are others, and these very powerful, who will have none of it.

Japan is ready to make peace on the merits of the situation the moment Rusia shall abandon its alcorness and propose negotiations. In the absence of such action on Russia's part, the war will be prosecuted until Japan's plans shall be realized."

JAPAN MAY ASK A GUARANTEE

Believes Russia May Disintegrate and Be Unable to Execute Trenty.

WASHINGTON, May 31 .- (Special.) --Although willing that peace may result in the Orient, Japan may be the direct cause of a prolongation of the struggle. It developed today that Japan is contemplating the demand of a guarantee from the powers that Russia shall adhere faithfully to all articles of the treaty of peace when drawn. Diplo-mats here declare that, if such a course insisted on, it will block all nego-stions. They say that such a guarantee will never be made,

Notwithstanding the declaration from the Japanese legation that no one is authorized to make such an announcement of Japan's future intentions, the story is well circulated among the members of the diplomatic corps that the "Tankees of the East" believe Russia is on the verge of disintegration and that her promises of today, no matter how good the faith with which they are made and subscribed to, may not to-morrow be worth the paper they are written on, by reason of olcumstances which the Czar and his Grand

WASHINGTON, May 21.-While the President has discussed informally the subject of peace negotiations with members of his Cabinet and with some repre-sentatives of foreign governments at this capital, and in the near future probably will take up the matter with others in this connection, it can be said author-itatively that no steps looking toward seace have yet been taken by this Gov ernment. That such steps may be taken is regarded as quite likely, but whatever action may be taken will depend upon information not yet in hand. That a concerted effort on the part of important powers, including the United States, to bring about a cessation of hostilities in the Far East may be made very soon is reasonably certain. The result of such an effort is quite another matter. It is regarded as too soon after the great naval battle for Russia tion. HOPES OF PEACE ARE RISING

Germany Alone Would Gain by Continuation of War.

PARIS, May IL—Governmental quarters here for the first time entertain a distinct hope of peace. This hope is not strong, but it is something more than a deduction from the result of the recent naval battle. What it is based upon is not known outside of those intimately conversant with Russia's intentions, but it is significant that hope now prevails in high quarters that the peace efforts may not be futile. It is said, however, that everything depends upon a small circle very closely identified with Emperor Nicholas, who, it is recognized.

BERLIN, May 31.-Efforts are being sade in Government quarters to measure the changed situation of the belligerents in the Far East and the consequent possibilities of peace. During the afternoon the members of the Congressional party either remained about the hotel corridors or occupied the time in visits to the Fair grounds, the Heights and the other places of entertainment and view afforded by the city. All are well pleased with their trip and are enthusiastic over the opening of the Exposition, holding that it will mean more for the development of the Northwest in particular and of the entire Pacific Coast in general than any event in the past history of the section.

Vice-President Fairbanks talked for a short time last night at the Goode home, of his trip and of his pleasure at being able to take so prominent a part in the Turning to the Exposition once more, the speaker told of what he predicted as the outcome of the notice Oregon and the Northwest would receive from the Fair, and noted the almost universal interest shown throughout the East.

Many Coming From Capital.

"I have been gratified to hear so much of the Fair in the East," continued the speaker. Everyone who can get away from Washington during the Summer is planning to make the trip to the Coast and to Portland. In my opinion the Expesition will do more for the development of the entire Pacific Coast than anything that has ever been attempted in the West."

Today Vice-President and Mrs. Fairbanks, Speaker Cannon and all the men bers of the visiting delegations will par ticipate in the dedicatory programme, for lowing which, so far as now planned, there will be official entertainment pro-rided, though committees will be ap-pointed to see to it that all the guests

There is a plan on foot for an unofficial reception to be tendered to Vice-President Pairbanks and the other guests at the Massachusetts building either during the Massachusetts building either during the afternoon or on the evening of today, or on Friday, but no action has been taken definitely as yet, the decision being dependent upon the wishes of the Vice-President.

No plans have been laid for Friday, but undoubtedly the Exposition officials will provide trips and entertainments for those of the Congressional committee who may desire to have attention shown them.

Will Visit The Dalles.

On Saturday morning the entire party, or as many as can attend, will be taken to The Dalles by special train, leaving, as now planned, at 8 o'clock, where they will witness the opening of the portage road. Longfellow's Home.

Intent upon securing space to erect a replica of the home of Henry W. Longfellow, the noted poet whose name is a household word in every American family. Arthur C. Mr. Jackson, who is the president of the Maine Commission, says that he is satisfied that he could erect the building within three, weeks, provided the space is alloted him Mr. Jackson did not arrive in Portland until late in the afternoon and although he met the Exposition officials it will not be determined until later as to whether Maine will be given the necessary space.

"While I realize that we are late in making application to the officials, yet we hope to secure the space as we believe the duplication of the home of Longfellow would be one of the most interesting attractions of the Fair," said Mr. Jackson yesterday afternoon. "The home of the noted poet, which is in Fortland, Me. is visited annually by thousands of people from all parts of the world.
