DY FOUND IN RIVER.-The body of John Schearer, a painter, was recovered from the Willamette river last night by John McGraw. It was found floating near the West Side landing of the Alna Ferry, and was taken in charge by Deputy Coroner A. L. Finley. It had been in the water about eight days, which time Schearer is known to have been missing. It is believed he was accidental-ly drowned, as there were $23 and a gold watch in the pockets when the body was found. Schearer was working as a night-watchman until his death.
