Judge Gilbert's Authority Conceded by Moody.

DE HAVEN WILL PRESIDE

Question Who Shall Try Land-Frau Cases Practically Settled by Cabinet-Point of Law Was Involved.

OREGONIAN NEWS SUREAU Wash. ngton. June 2-Indications today are that Judge Gilbert's designation of Judge Haven, of San Francisco, to try the land fraud cases in Oregon will stand. Attorney General Mondy said after the Cabinet meeting that a question had been raised as to the right of any official, either Pres ident Roosevelt, the Department of Justice or Judge Gilbert, to make such designation, but that, if anybody had that authority, it was Judge Gilbert. The Attorney-General said further than neither the President nor himself would presume to dictate or to interfere in any way with the designation of the trial Judge in the Oregon district, the only question at issue, according to Mr. Moody being whether the designation of a judge another district could be made under the law, or whether it would be necessary to appoint a judge to fill the present vacancy immediately. The President had been averse to making this appointment because of the political complications, and today's developments indicate that he will not have to fill the judgeship until after the land fraud trials.

It is understood that District Attorney Heney has taken a prominent part in the discussion of whether or not a judge can be transferred from another district to hold court in Oregon. That Mr. Heney has sided with Judge Gilbert in his contention that the law gives him authority to name a judge to preside at the coming trials is indicated by a prominent official of the Interior Department, in answer to a question whether the transfer was to be made.

"I understand," he said, "that Judge Gilbert's right to defignate the judge to hold court in Oregon has been sustained and that Judge De Haven is to preside at the trials."

The Attorney-General said he expected the question would be decided in a few days.

PLATFORM ON ARBITRATION

Lake Mohonk Conference Approves Course of Roosevelt.

LAKE MOHONK, N. Y., June 2-A platform of principles setting forth the dred people who had assembled to tional arbitration movement was adopted today by the Conference on International Arbitration. The platform follows:

Arbitration. The platform follows:

The 11th annual meeting of the Lake Mohonk Conference on International Arbitration expresses its gratification over the advance made in the cause of the pacific settlement of disputer between mations during the pastyear. Numerous special treaties of arbitration have been concluded and are now in force. The Hague Convention commands increasing confidence among civilized peoples, its purpuse and scope are better unferstood, its provisions have been resorted to with success in cases of great difficulty, as in the settlement of the North Sea incident, and we now have confident sesurance that the tribunal which it has established will become of increasing importance in maintaining the peace of the world.

The interests that contribute to the promotion of the cause are ever broadening. Those of the wags-earners are finding emphasis expression, commerce is keenly senditive to disastrous interruptions by war, whether near or remote; the promoters of religion and philanthrous realization at the histories of their astrone interruptions by war, whether near or remote; the promoters of religion and philanthropy are alarmed at the hindrance of their work by every discurbance of international peace and the sense of human brotherhood is increasingly felt and appreciated throughout the world. These signs of promise show that the long darkness of barbarism is passing away, and that the bright day of universal peace is dawning indeed.

We are highly gratified at the efforts of President Rossevelt in promoting the causes of international peace and justice, and we rejoice in his call for a second conference at The Hagye. We confidently expect that any questions of international law that are now wague or understrained will there find size

The Hagye. We confidently that are acceptions of international law that are vague or undersymines will there find wise solution. We also hope that the conference will frame a general treaty of arbitration that may more effectively meet the requirements of the situation than any special treaties yet proposed have done, and, we will be gratified of the situation than any special treaties yet proposed have done and, we will be gratified if the indefinite and clastic expectations of matters of National honor and of vital interests shall be substantially modified.

We earnestly hope that if such a treaty is proposed the treaty-making authorities of our Government will accedily effect the enactment for this country. We view the treaty now in force between the kingdome of Denmark and the Netherlands, to submit all their differences to arbitration, as presenting the bleat poward which we are moving.

The evolution of the movement for universal pence clearly points to the early establishment of an inpermational parliament with at least advisory powers as a necessary agency in its fulfillment, and we recew our declarations of fast year in reference to this. We feet that it is not now expedient for this conference to pass any judgment upon the plans of organization of such a parliament beyond the necessity for the representation of all civilized gamination of such a parliament beyond the mecessity for the representation of all civilized nations therein.

We heartily commend the work of the inter-Parliamentary Union and rejoice in the seal and efficiency of the American group of its membership. We rejoice that some striength has been given to the rause of international arbitration by the fact that no country has near yet reputitated an arbitral award. We believe that the decrees of the international court will be best enforced by the power of public sentiment and by the fact of the less of world respect on the part of any nation against whom any award may be made. The formation of public opinion is an important means for the promotion of every good cause, and we desire to encourage all agencies that will further the interests of international arbitration. Especially do we commend the awakening of the students of our universities and colleges in this important matter as well us the instruction of all the children is our schools.

Professor J, B. Scott of Columbia University was zecretary, steps were taken for the formation of an American International Law Society.

Andrew D. White, who has been rejected for one of the principal addresses and who was suddenly and unexpectedly detained, sent a letter in part as follows:

I would suggest the importance of steady work among publicists in developing the lines of reasoning which may cause the Senste of the United States to seek most earneastly some way out of the policy recently adopted by it—a policy which seems, in its present form, almost to render fotile the whole arbitration system.

The principal address of the evening was made by Professor John Bassett Moore, of Columbia University.

Above all other things, we strive to save the thousands of young and middle-aged men who are plunging toward the grave, tortured by the woes of nervous debility. We have evolved a special treatment for Nervous Debility and special weakness that is uniformly successful in cases where success was before and by other doctors deemed impossible. It does not slimulate temporarily, but restores permanently. It sillays irritations of the delicate tissues surrounding the lax and unituly expanded glands, contracting them to their normal condition, which prevents lost vitality. It tones up and strengthens the blood vessels that carry nourishment. The patient realizes a great blight has been lifted from his life.
