

MUSIC RULES AT THE DREAM CITY

Rain Does Not Keep Crowd From Enjoying the Attractions.

"MESSIAH" IS POPULAR

Oratorio Attracts Many, While Incessant Band Renders Fine Concert. Voices of Trail "Barkers" Hushed for the Day.

EXPOSITION ATTENDANCE 6466.

In spite of the unfavorable weather of yesterday, 6466 people attended the Exposition. Owing to the rain and the fact that the Trail was closed, it was thought at first that there would hardly be enough people to get into the Exposition. However, in the afternoon, when there was a lull in the rain, a steady stream of people entered the gates. In the band, which played in the Agricultural building in the afternoon and the Auditorium at night, attracted large crowds at both concerts.

By A. A. G.

Out at the Dream City rain fell persistently yesterday and at night the clusters of lights shone through the spray with an eerie radiance. November looked over the shoulder of June and it was not quite Summer. But the petty jealousy of the seasons in their foolish wrangle, while a bit dispiriting, cannot obliterate the beauty that lies within the Dream City, come rain, come sunshine, come darkness of the night. Many people, knowing this, went to the Fair and were rewarded. Those who see it in the sunshine do not get all its charm. Through the rain there is peculiar beauty in the picture that fair weather viewers lose. So those who braved the day will have something in their memory which will make less drear some other rainy day when the Dream City shall have passed away.

The throngs were large enough to keep the place alive. "The Messiah," fitting festival for a Sabbath day, drew those who feel the prayer and praise of Handel's music. In another quarter there was the sound of the band, with inns leading, and those who listened went away with cleaner minds and better hearts. As it should have been, "The Trail" did deference to the day, and the voices of its hilly burly were stifled. Everywhere was the large, restful quiet of the country, ruffled with only the sound of noble music which floated in upon it now and then. It was a good day for the Sunday outing, even though the rain fell, and a wholesome one.

BIG CROWD FROM WOODBURN

Valley Town Will Send Large Excursion to Fair.

WOODBURN, Or., June 4.—(Special.)—Arrangements for Woodburn day at the Exposition are rapidly nearing completion, and the various committees are about ready to turn in their reports. On Saturday evening a mass meeting was held at the Armory Hall, and there is no doubt but that several hundred persons will go down to the Fair.

Mayor Beebe has appointed Mrs. A. E. Austin as hostess for the day. There will be a short programme by Woodburn talent in Festival Hall. The response to the address of welcome will be by Hon. Walter L. Toole. The programme will be arranged by the Woodburn Woman's Club.

The Southern Pacific Company has made a rate of one fare for the round trip.

The hostess, who has selected Mrs. C. H. Beebe, Mrs. F. W. Settlemyer and Mrs. H. L. Gill to assist her, also will select 30 young women of Woodburn as aides, to distribute roses, etc.

SING HANDEL'S ORATORIO.

Chorus of 150 Voices Gives the "Messiah" in Exposition Auditorium.

Under the direction of William H. Boyer, a chorus of 150 voices yesterday presented Handel's grand oratorio, "Messiah," in the Exposition Auditorium. The chorus was a good day for the Sunday outing, even though the rain fell, and a wholesome one.

The production yesterday was the largest ever attempted in Portland, and, in the opinion of musical enthusiasts, was remarkably successful. The chorus was accompanied by an orchestra of 25 pieces, which added materially to the excellence of the music.

A large majority of the singers were from Portland churches, and on that account were particularly competent to handle sacred selections.

For several years past the productions of "Messiah" that have been presented in Portland have been by choruses of about 80 voices, so that yesterday's recital marked a new era in local musical circles.

The soloists who took part in the programme yesterday were:

Miss Ethel M. Little, soprano; Mrs. W. A. Bushong, contralto; William H. Boyer, tenor; and Paul Westing, baritone. Mrs. Warren E. Thomas was the organist.

The programme was as follows: Overture, orchestra; recitation, "Comfort Ye"; air, tenor, "Every Valley"; chorus, "And the Glory"; recitative, bass, "The Lord is the Lord"; air, bass, "But Who May Abide"; chorus, "For Unto Us"; pastoral symphony, orchestra; recitative, soprano, "There Were Shepherds"; chorus, "Glory to God"; recitative, contralto, "Then Shall the Eyes"; air, contralto, "He Shall Feed His Flock"; air, soprano, "Come Unto Him"; chorus, "Behold the Lamb of God"; air, contralto, "He Was Despoiled"; air, bass, "Why Do the Nations"; air, soprano, "I Knew That My Redeemer Liveth"; air, baritone, "The Trumpet Shall Sound"; chorus, "Hallelujah."

FOURTH CAVALRY DEPARTS.

Will Start for Walla Walla to Resume Target Practice.

The Fourth United States Cavalry, which was ordered to Portland to participate in the opening-day parade of the Lewis and Clark Exposition, returns to Fort Walla Walla today. The Fourth Cavalry led the parade and acted as the escort of Vice-President Fairbanks while he was in Portland.

The Fourth Cavalry has been encamped on the Goldsmith tract, near the main entrance of the Exposition grounds. All the officers, as well as the men, greatly enjoyed their visit in Portland, and regret that they have to return to their permanent headquarters at this early date. The troops were in the midst of target practice when they were ordered to Portland, which they will resume when they are once more established at Walla Walla. Although it has not been announced officially, the Fourth United States Cavalry will leave early in September for the Philippines.

Colonel E. Z. Steever, of the Fourth Cavalry, who was grand marshal of the opening-day parade, visited the Exposition buildings for the first time Saturday. There were so many things to see that he was unable to attend to his duties in connection with the parade that Colonel Steever was engaged from morning until night. Colonel Steever has made many friends since he has been in Portland.

Lake Swarms With Fish.

Although not counted upon by the Exposition management, the fish tribes in Gull's Lake are proving a very interesting feature at the Fair. The waters of the lake are literally alive with schools of carp, buffalo and black bass. At almost any time of the day the fish can be seen swimming around the Bridge of All Nations where food is thrown them by the children.

At night, when the Exposition grounds have been cleared of the visitors, the guards say that the carp are so numerous along the bridge that it would be impossible to throw a stone in the water without hitting one of them. The children, and men and women too, have great sport in throwing to the fish crumbs and pieces of bread which they eagerly devour.

Very few black bass are seen, the carp and buffalo predominating. It is said, however, that there are thousands of black bass in the lake but they are a more timid fish than the carp and buffalo. It is predicted that when the Exposition ends there will be a rush of fishermen to the lake. There is no doubt that the fishing will be excellent.

Official Hostesses for Counties.

Mrs. George W. Conser, wife of the State Commissioner from Heppner, arrived in Portland yesterday and will remain for the week. Mrs. Conser will be official hostess for Morrow County next Wednesday at the Oregon building and Umatilla County, which will be the same day at the same place. Mrs. J. W. Furnish, of Pendleton, the ladies had not decided just what form of entertainment they will offer their home guests but as many visitors are expected both from Morrow and Umatilla on that day they will feel that they are appropriately received.

Y. W. C. A. at the Exposition.

The Young Women's Christian Association has extended a cordial invitation to the general public to attend the reception at its building on the Exposition grounds tonight which will be held at 7 o'clock. The building which the association has erected on the grounds is a handsome structure and will accommodate a large number of guests. Members of the association will be extended to all. Beginning tomorrow meals will be served and the building is open as a resting place for women.

Mrs. W. H. Fairbank Convalescent.

Mrs. Wilson H. Fairbank, wife of the Executive Commissioner to the Lewis and Clark Exposition from the State of Massachusetts, who has been ill, is rapidly recovering, and it is thought that within a few days that she will have entirely recovered her health. Mr. and Mrs. Fairbank reside at the Massachusetts building on the Exposition grounds.

OREGON CITIES AT FAIR

DAYTON, DALLAS AND NEWBERG SELECT TODAY.

McMinnville, Hillsboro and Forest Grove Will Celebrate Jointly Tomorrow at Exposition.

Special agents sent to the different towns in Oregon by C. H. McIsaac, of the excursion bureau at the Lewis and Clark Exposition, report that enormous crowds are preparing to attend the Fair from all sections of the state. Today will be "Dayton," "Dallas" and "Newberg," and thousands of people from these cities will attend the Exposition on the excursion trains which will run on the Southern Pacific.

The residents of these towns and the farmers living in the immediate vicinity of Dallas, Newberg and Dayton are thoroughly aroused, and many of them are coming to the Exposition with the intention of remaining in Portland for several days. All the business houses in the three cities to be represented at the Fair today will be closed, so as to secure a large attendance. The Mayors of the three cities have issued proclamations urging the people to attend if possible, as they are desirous of obtaining a creditable representation at the Exposition as possible.

The Oregon building has been turned over to the visitors, and exercises will be held in it tomorrow. The prominent men and officials from the three cities will deliver addresses, and there will be other features such as music and social entertainments.

Tuesday will be "McMinnville," "Hillsboro" and "Forest Grove" day, and fully 1000 guests are expected in Portland from those three cities. They will also close up all the business houses. Many meetings have been held in the three cities to arouse the people to attend. Advice received by the excursion bureau indicate a large attendance.

Wednesday has been laid aside by the Exposition management as "Heppner" and "Pendleton" day, and nearly every man, woman and child in the two towns will be in Portland. The business houses will be closed. A special train will be run to Portland from Pendleton connecting with the Heppner delegation at Heppner Junction.

While the majority of the people who will attend the Exposition on these special days will return home immediately, there will be many who will spend at least a week in Portland seeing the Fair. For days the hotels and lodging-houses have been receiving communications from the residents of the Oregon towns asking that rooms be reserved, some of them stating that the writers desired the apartments for at least two weeks if not longer. Others intend to make frequent trips to Portland during the Exposition, staying two or three days at a time.

TWO ARE INJURED

Result of Blowing Out of Street-Car Motor.

WOMEN JUMP FROM THE CAR

Panic Seizes Passengers, and in Haste to Reach Safety Two Are Thrown to the Pavement and Sustain Injuries.

By the burning of the armature of the electric motor on car 11 of the Broadway line, at 7 o'clock last night, the passengers were thrown into a panic, and the wife of David E. Williams, of 730 Chalmers street, East Portland, sustained serious injuries by being thrown from her seat to the pavement, while Pearl Smith, a domestic employed at 674 Johnson street, was slightly bruised.

Mr. Williams was sitting with his wife on the front part of the car, adjacent to the motor, at the time of the accident, and claims that the motorist was responsible for her being hurled into the street, alleging that in his haste to get out of danger he pushed her from her seat. The car had just crossed Morrison street going south when the explosion occurred, and when Williams recovered from his shock he found his wife lying near the curb, suffering from severe internal injuries, besides a sprained ankle. She was taken to her home and medical attendance called, but at a late hour last night the nature and extent of her injuries had not been fully determined, although she was resting easily.

Miss Smith, who was sitting immediately after the accident, and it is presumed she was not badly injured, as she was observed walking on the street later in the evening.

HOLINESS MEETINGS BEGIN

Three-Months' Religious Campaign Starts in Paquet's Grove.

A three-months' open-air gospel campaign of the Holiness Union was opened yesterday in Paquet's Grove, Grand avenue and East Yamhill street. The meetings are under the general management of M. L. Ryan, superintendent of the Holiness College of Salem. Mrs. Martha E. Curry, Thomas G. Rogers and E. E. Sheibamer, evangelists from abroad, have arrived to take part. Mrs. Curry is from the East, where she has been conducting gospel meetings. At these meetings delegates are expected from all portions of the Northwest, and entertainment will be provided on the ground for those from abroad. The inclosure is now filled with tents, arranged about the pavilion, which stands in the center of the block. A general gospel campaign will be conducted.

The Holiness Union does not represent any particular church, but has adherents in them all. Its members believe in divine healing of all diseases of the body through prayer, and are opposed to medical attendance. The following are the general beliefs of the Holiness Union: "We believe in radical conversion; in living without committing sin; in holiness and entire consecration; in divine healing of the body as well as the soul; that we are in the last days; opposed to superstitious ornaments, such as wearing of gold and costly apparel; opposed to the use of tobacco; do not believe in angelic perfection."

Child Struck by Arc Light.

Carmela Baltano, who has only been in America one week, was struck by a falling arc light yesterday afternoon at First and Salmon streets, but was not seriously injured. She was crossing under the light at the moment it fell, and though it hit her squarely on the chest and knocked her down, she was able to walk to the drugstore of Graden & Koehler. Dr. George Wilson was summoned and removed some pieces of glass from her forehead and ear, but could find no internal injuries.

The girl, who is only 12 years old, was walking home from an Italian church at Third and Mill streets when the accident occurred. Her 15-year-old sister was struck in the face by glass.

The new Hotel Oregon, corner Seventh and Stark streets, has hot and cold running water and long-distance telephones in every room.
