both the Columbia and the Snake Rivers. While no statement was made at the meeting as to the prospects of floating the stock for the company, it is under-stood that there will be no difficulty in the sale of the amount necessary to finance the scheme and provide for the boats in a short time.

Another meeting has been called for Thursday next, at which time further details will be considered.

THE CHAMPIONSHIP GAMES

Effort Is Being Made to Hold Them Judge Van Reynegom, of San Francisco in Portland.

The national amateur champion games may yet be secured for the Fair. Yesterday Dicertor of Athletics H. W. Kerrigan received a telegram from J. E. Sullivan, of the Amateur Athletic neid in Chicago during July, but the arrangements were knocked out, so that the place of meeting is now in the air. Sullivan has proviously expressed himself favorable to holding the meet here, and if suitable arrangements can be made, the games may take place furnish working girls with a home that will be surrounded by respectable and Christian influences. The house is a three-story, 13-room structure, and 20 girls can be accommodated at one time. The rooms are large and well ventilated. A wide porch opeus from the reception hall. The rooms will have single beds. Wholesome food and sainliary and clean surroundings will be provided for the girls. Mrs. Arents will be in immediate charge, and an ef-fort will be made to give the girls a tride haven of rest after the day's work. Cap-tain Arents is confident that in Portland there is need for such a home as it is pro-posed to provide. It will be especially there is need for such a home as it is pro-posed to provide. It will be expectally needed during the Fair, when the rent for rooms will be naturally higher than usual. The Portland home will be the third of the sort opened and conducted by the Volunteers. It may be said that pic-tures, magazines, good books and furni-ture that can be used will be gladly re-ceived for the benefit of the home.

HOWARD GOULD WILL PLAY Recovers From Surgical Operation and T. J. Randolph, all of Lewiston. The meeting was called for the consid-eration of the plan to form the Open-River Transportation Company. 14 is the intention of the business men of the dis-rifet tributary to the portage road to form such a company, which will budid boats to operate on the upper river, between Cello and the head of navigation on both the Columbia and the Snake Rivera staged. The reappearance of Mr. Gould will undoubtedly be greeted by a large house, as he is considered not only one of the most accomplished artists in his profession on the boards of the Pacific Coast, but in addition possesses a personality that has greatly endeared him to the people of Portland.

There will be 16 competent players in the cast-with Miss Creighton, including Howard Gould, prominent among whom are John Davies, William Brewer, Joseph Thompson, Miss Lillian Muclo, Miss Kate Summers and Frances Van Reynogom, the last named being a daughter of here, and if suitable arrangements can be made the games may take place a load in a satisfactory manner over grades as heavy as the ones traversed, or still worse ones. It now remains for the car to be tested for high speed and continuous service be-probably of greater interest to more people than any other event which will take place at the Pair. To secure these games will be decidedly worth while and as the results are carired in full in the Associated Press report, the Fair will receive considerable prominence through this medium. There is only one national athletic set of games and that is held by the A. A. U. But national context or no, beginning with today there will be a continuous run of athletic entertainment at the Fair. Today the Portland High School and the Hill Military Academy play theid final game for the interscholastic basehall championship. If Hill wins, another game will be necesary to finish the series, which will be played later is the series. Pacific Oregon lines, L. R. Fields, and T.

Keep Order at Depot.

Wholesale arrests of hotel-runners. hackdrivers, expressmen and what-not are to be made by the police, unless better order is maintained at the Union Depot in the future upon the arrival of trains, and at wharves upon the arrival of steamers.

ore than persistent are the 200 or more agents of various hotels and firms who gather at the depot and at docks, and every person who steps from train or beat is literally pursued by from six to 12 of these men, and no amount of ex-planations or pleadings to be let slone will avail until one gets beyond the range "runners.

Hundreds of complaints have been made to the police by those who have been harassed upon their arrival here, and the warnings of patrolmen detailed to the various beats where the trouble occurs have thus far falled, it is claimed, to make thus an inner of the tenner, by make the offenders cease. Prior to the opening of the Lewis and Clark Exposition, there were but a score or so of "runners." Now there are more than 200, and they gather at train and boat arrivals and make life a burden for all who are not desirous of hotel accom-modations, or who do not care to em-ploy a carriage or express wagon.

Each hotel and all of the express com panles, as well as the individual hack-man and expressman, is represented. Some of the larger houses employ as many as four or five agents to meet each The result is a howling mob of train. men, each attempting to reach the ear of every person who comes from the train

WILL ASK FOR A DEPOT East Portland Wants One on Washington and First Streets.

An agitation has been started in East Portland to induce the Southern Pacific Railway Company to establish a regular depot on East First and East Washington streets. Hundreds of people leave the trains at this point every day, and yet there are no accommoda tions. Dr. C. H. Rafferty said yester day, in speaking of the matter: "It is strange that the East Side has no convenient depot. Every little place of 50 inhabitants along the Southern Pacific lines is provided usually with a depot, where passengers can get on and off trains, but the East Side, with its many thousands, has no facilities of this sort. I think that the railroad company will provide a depot if the people will generally join in a request for one." Some definite steps will be taken in a short time to hay the need of a depot before the manager of the company. The Southern Pacific Railway Com-pany owns the land along the west alde of East First between East Washington and Morrison streets. It is though that a passenger depot at East First and Washington would be satisfactory to the public. If the railroad company can be convinced that it should be lo
