JAPAN'S TERMS UNDEFINED

Neutral Powers All Stand by Roose velt in His Efforts-Europe Opposes International Conference on Peace.

WASHINGTON, June &-Peace in the Far East was the subject of another conference at the White House between the President and Mr. Takahira, the Japanone Minister. It was the third conference of the day which the President had had on this subject, M. Jusserand, the French Ambassador and Mr. O'Beirne the British Charge d'Affaires, having been callers at the White House this morning,

Accompanied by Count Hirosawa, a Japanese nobleman who is traveling in this country; by Commander Takashita, the Japanese naval attache, and four Japanese naval officers who are here on their way from Tokio to England to inspect the work on Japanese warships now under construction in British shipyards. Mr. Takahira called at the White House shortly after 9 o'clock tonight. Naturally, the President was greatly interested to meet the Japanese visitors and gave them a most cordial reception. This, however, did not last long, and soon the visitors took their departure, leaving the President and Mr. Takahira free to talk of

Even the Minister himself has no idea. what Japan's indemnity may amount to. The President was unable to give Mr. Takahira any intimation of how Russia has viewed the annihilation of her fleet, and until Count Cassini's report on his visit to the White House has been replied to by St. Petersburg, no further progress toward peace can be made in that direc

Keep Down Japan's Terms.

The President, it is believed, will endeavor to keep Japan's peace terms within reasonable bounds, and the close relations of Emperor William to the Czar, H is suggested, will enable the German sovereign to advise the Czar with a frankness that even the Washington Government could not assume.

Mr. Takahira said tonight that "Tokic is always for peace, but," he added significantly, "Russia must first realize the present situation in all its seriousness and be prepared to face it."

Russia Not Yet Ready to Accept Roosevelt's Offer.

ST. PETERSBURG, June 5 (7:45 P. M.). -The interview between President Roose-veit and Ambassador Cassini at Washing-ton regarding peace in the Par East has not borne fruit here. Foreign Minister Lamadorff has not yet visited Tsarskos-Sele, but will lay Count Cassin's dis-patch before the Emperor tomorrow, the regular audience day. The Associated Press was informed at tr the Foreign Office that Count Cassini's report places the whole conversation in a purely informal light, and it is expected that Russia's answer will be returned in a child, which, it is said, he had stolen that Russia's answer will be returned in an equally informal manner. to pursue the war is liable to cause. In deed, there are rumors that a general mobilization has already been -decided upon, and that the appointment of Trepoff was made so as to enable the government to carry it out. It is dangerous to forecast the result of the change in the situation. As long as there was vent for escaping steam in congresses and assemblies pressure did not accur late, but with the extra weight on the safely valve and with the fires of internal agitation burning hotly, there may be an explosion.

Meaning of Trepoff's Appointment as Minister of Interior.

ST. PETERSBURG, June 5.—General Trepoff went to Tsarskoe-Selo today to thank the Emperor for his appoint-ment as Minister of the Interior, and to confer with His Majesty regarding the exercise of the great powers and heavy responsibility entrusted to him by the Czar, which was published in the Official Messenger this morning. Curiously, the appointment of General Trepoff to his new post is not gazetted. Comment in St. Petersburg today is chiefly busied with speculation on the use which Major-General Rydzefsky, Trepoff's predecessor as Assistant Min-ister of the Interior, who is not a particularly strong man, and who now, like M. Yermoloff, former Minister of Agriculture, has been given a seat in the Senate will make of his new powers.

In government circles the appointment of General Trepoff as Minister of the Interior, widening the scope of his authority so that he may accomplish in the whole em-pire what he has done in St. Petersburg since January 22, is regarded as an ob vious step for the Emperor to take if he is determined not to abandon the funda-mental principles of Russian rule and transform the autocracy into a limited British cruisers and torpedo-boat demonarchy of the West European type.

It is claimed that Trepoff since his appointment as Governor-General of St. Petersburg has maintained order here, has prevented a recrudescence of the tumuits of January 22, without loss of life, and has handled the situa-tion with the needed firmness, yes without giving cause for complaint, as the late Von Piehve did, by the adop-tion of unnecessarily stringent and ar-bitrary measures.

Trepoff is one of the busiest and most energetic officials in Russia, and he requires the same long hours of at-tention to duty from his staff. The General is at his desk shortly after ? o'clock in the morning and his subordi-nates are expected to be on duty at 9 o'clock. Instead of keeping the easy hours exacted by other officeholders, Trepoff invariably works late into the night, and his secretaries take turns at an extra hour of duty early in the morning and at night. He will not remove his headquarters to the Ministry of the Interior, but will direct the af-fairs of his new position from his pres-ent chancellory in the St. Petersburg autions taken for the safety of their chief must now be redoubled, as the prominence of his new office and the feeling of the Radicals that he was appointed as dictator to put down the reform movement, will make him a mark for the Terrorists, no matter how oderately he may execute his duties. The General may find immediate em-ployment for his new powers at Mos-cow, where the Social Democrats and the Social Revolutionists are planning to hold conventions this week, simultween St. Petersburg and Tokio, and taneously with Shipoff's Zemstvo Con-Count Cassini, the Russian Ambassador, and Mr. Takabira are both convinced of give wider scope, the Mayors of all the culties in Russia baying been invited cities in Russia having been invited to send delegates and take a stand in regard to the continuance of the war.

STRENGTHENS THE AUTOCRACY All England Joins in Welcome and King and Royal Family Greet Him With Unction--Careful Precautions Taken

> LONDON, June 5 .- Alfonso XIII, the oung king of Spain, was welcomed to England today with the most elaborate ceremonies, every Jetail of which was supervised by King Edward himself. Never in the case of the reception of a national visitor has greater attention been paid to detail or more careful preparation been made for a magnificent display. If only the weather had been propitious, the reception probably would have been the most brilliant ever accorded a foreign visitor to England. A deluge of rain at Portsmouth and at London, however, marred all the spectacular effects.

> The day, which broke drearily in France, increased in gloom as the British royal yacht Victoria and Albert crossed the channel from Cherbourg accompanied by a strong escort of stroyers. Approaching the mouth of the harbor, the royal yacht passed through line after line of fighting vessels bedecked with flags and flying the Spanish ensign, a score of which fired the royal salute. The war vessels resembled phantom ships as the Victoria and Albert, emerging from the hare, passed the saluting ranks. The young king, who wore the uniform of a British general, with the ribbon of the Order of the Garter, stood on deck, evidently enjoying the

Had any one desired to injure the Spanish ruler, it would have been impossible. The route was lined with troops for show purposes, but the soldlers were backed by a force of the Metropolitan police, two deep, and at congested points the outer line of infantry had, for several paces behind it, mounted troops, mounted nolice and foot police four deep, mounted police and foot police four deep and police and plain-clothes men were scattered through the crowd along th line. Close inquiries were made at the hotels, clubs and grandstands to prevent suspicious characters from gaining acces to these places of vantage.

Splendid Spectacle at Palace.

Inside the palace afforded a splendid contrast to the uncomfortable conditions outside. In the grand entrano hall the King's gentlemen-at-arms and the yeomen of the guard, dressed in gold and scarlet uniforms, mounted goid and scaries unitorials, mounted guard, and at the top of the great stair-case Queen Alexandra and Princess Victoria, were waiting to give their welcome to King Alfonso, who stopped Just a step below where the Queen was standing and kissed the tips of her

After a few words of greeting, King Alfonso was conducted to the state apartments, and a little later, escorted by cavalry, drove to Maribor-ough House to pay his respects to the Princess of Waless The King then made formal calls on the Duke and Duchess of Connaught, and tonight dined quietly with King Edward and the royal family at Buckingham Palace.

Kings Hug on Meeting.

The King of Spain arrived in London this evening. He was welcomed at the railroad station by King Edward. Their Majesties arrived at Buckingham Palace at 4.58 P. M. The royal visitor HAVANA, June 6.—General Maximo Gomez, who is ill at Santiago, is in such enfeebled condition that it was decided today to bring him to Havana at once. A special train left here tonight in charge of Dr. Pereda to bring fube's foremost patriot here, where he can be given the best medical attendance in the island. It is reported from Santiago that General Gomez has high fever and that his condition is much weaker. CRISIS OF GIRLHOOD A TIME OF PAIN AND PERIL

diss Emms Cole Says that Lydis E Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has Sayed Her Life and Made Her Well

How many lives of beautiful young girls have been sacrificed just as they were ripening into womanhood! How many irregularities or displacements have been developed at this important period, resulting in years of suffering!

Girls' modesty and oversensitiveness often puzzle their mothers and baffle physicians, because they withhold their confidence at this critical period.

A mother should come to her child's aid and remember that Lydis E. Pinkaid and remember that Lydia E. Pink-ham's Vegetable Compound will at this time prepare the system for the coming change and start the menstrual period in a young girl's life without pain or irregularities.

Besides, the wet weather made it necessary for the two monarchs to drive to the palace in a closed carriage, so that only a passing glimpse was obtained of the Spanish King's boyish face as he leaned toward the window to acknowledge the cheers of the people. He appeared greatly pleased with his reception, standing in a natural manner and lifting his cap continuously.
