BEST MEET EVER

Crack College Athletes Contest at Salem June 10.

SPRINTS WILL BE FAST

Dual Events This Spring Show That an Exceptionally Clever Bunch of Men Will Struggle for Championship Honors.

UNIVERSITY OF OREGON, Eugene, June 6.—(Special.)—Great interest is being taken here in the big intercollegiate meet at Salem June 10. The dual meets have been carefully noted, and it is calculated that next Saturday will see the best run-ning ever done in the Northwest. "Dad" Trine's Arabians—Williams and mithson-have the medals coming in the sprints, but with Peterson of Pacific, Prie-sell and Moores of Oregon behind them, the "Agric" racers cannot take any chances. They will have to make some Williams looks the leader in the heartbreaking quarter-mile, espe-cally to those who saw his performance in the dual meet with the University of . Peterson of Pacific University and Miller of Willamette are both to be reckoned with, however, and, as the course is to be lined off into separate paths, the 440 will be run "Eastern fashion'-1. e., a desperate race from start to finish. The Northwest record of 51 1-5 sec-course also lined into individual lanes, so there can be no pocketing in this important race. Greenhaw, O. A. C.; Gatea, P. A., and Perkins, U. of O., have all made remarkable time this senson. Trine's pupil set a new mark of 2:92 1-5. but will have to do better to get the yel-low medal at Salem. This event comes early in the day, and it's outcome will give a good line on the ownership of the coveted silver cup.

For the mile, Gates of Pacific would peem to have the best chances. The "farmers" have a good man in Davouit. and Oregon enters a couple of freshmen-Wood and Mitchell-who are counted on for places. Shanks, of Willamette, has not been pushed as yet, and the wise folks are expecting him to be in the game at the finish. These men will come some-where near the mark set by Wilkins, of Williamette, in 1990.

The flat races are not the only events, by any means. Hug, U. of O.; Walker, O. A. C.; Dimick and Philbrook, P. A.; Lounsberry, W. U., will contest the weights, and some good men will have to get left. The only sure things are Stout, of Corvailla, in the discus, and Hug, of Oregon, in the shot. The jumps are more exciting, and will be equally hard-fought. Friesell is expected to shine in the broad ump, and there will be lots of others him, Peterson having about the next best record.

The high jump is the most uncertain of them all. The meet may be decided by some one failing down or coming up. Buckingham's mark of 5 feet 8 inches is fairly certain to remain, for this year at least. least. There will be no vaulters like Heater or Gilbert, but there will be sevil men over ten feet. Swan, of O. A. who vaults like a bird, has done the best work so far.

The hurdles and the relay will furnish The nursies and the relay will furnish plenty of excitement. Willamette has no good performer as yet, but the other colleges are all strong in timber-toppers. Cathey, Belden and Smithson, for O. A. C.: Prideaux, P. U.: Friesell, Moores and Kuykendall, for Oregon, will make some very pretty racing. If there is a dull mo-ment in the meet it will be because there is nothing going on C. M. McArthur, reading clerk of the House in the last Legislature, will certainly hustle them out on time. As clerk of the course, Mr. Mc-Arthur and his able assistants will keep things boiling.

Things look good from this angle for a very enjoyable athletic festival. It is not American yacht Apache arrived here definitely known here just who is to take the cup, but June 10 will be the greatest track meet ever seen in Oregon. The morning train will bring a corps of loud and loyal rooters from Eugene to split

VALUE OF RACE HORSES

Owner Sues Railway for Their Loss In Collision.

The value of racchorses known as Axminster, Cilvoco, Murat and Jefferson is an issue in the suit of Wellington D. Bandall against the Southern Pacific Company, to recover for their loss. The horses were shipped in Portland on a freight train on October 25, 1968, to be taken to Shell Mound station, Oakland, Cal. As the result of a collision near Jefferson Station, Axminster and Clivoco were killed, and Murat and Jefferson injured. Randall alleges that Axminster was worth $500 and Clivoco $5500. He estimates his total damage at $500, and sued the railway company to recover that The value of racehorses known as Axsued the railway company to recover that sum. The trial was begun before Judge George and a jury yesterday. The evi-dence disclosed inat the horses were shipped by J. D. Winter and J. H. Brannan, and the company contends that a contract was signed by the shippers plac-ing the value of each horse at $20, and that the owner cannot recover more than that amount from the Southern Pacific company. The plaintiff alleges that he never signed any such contract. C. E. S. Wood, W. D. Fenton and R. A. Leiter appear as the attorneys in the case,

Sues for Damages for Injuries

E. N. Hamleton seeks to recover $7000 from the Diamond Sand Company on account of injuries sustained on November 18, 1904, when a bucket filled with gravel fell upon him. The bucket was hoisted by a crane operated by a steam winch. Hamleton complains that the bucket fell upon him because the machinery was out of order. The trial of his suit against the company, in which Smyth & Howard, con-tractors, are interested, was commenced in Judge Sears' court yesterday. Ham-leton testified that his knee was partly dislocated, several of his ribs fractured and his spine injured. The defense is that his injuries were slight.
