Commissioners Appointed by the Governor.

MEET FIRST NEXT MONDAY

Two Republicans and One Democrat, Highly Recommended From Their Communities, Are Placed on the Board.

SALEM, Or., June 7 .- (Special.) -- F. W. Mulkey, of Portland; W. J. Lachner, of Baker City, and E. B. Seabrook, of Marshfield, were today appointed members of the new tax commission, created by an act of the last Legislature. They will investigate the subject of assessment and taxation and report their findings to the next Legislature, together with a draft of a law which they can recommend for adoption in ernor Chamberlain, Secretary of State Dunbar and Siate Treasurer Moore, Mulkey and Lachner are Republicans and Seabrook a Democrat. The appointment of each was strongly recommend-ed by prominent men of the communi-ties in which they live.

The communion will hold its first meeting in Salem at 12 o'clock next Monday, when they will organize by electing a chairman from among their number. They will also elect a clerk, who will not be a member of the com-mission. Each member wil receive $1000 for his services. The commission has power to fix the compensation of the clerk at any sum they deem proper, but the total expenditures are limited to $7000, so that after deducting $3000 for their own compensation the comminaton must pay its expenses, including clerk hire, with $4000.

It is generally believed that the clerk will be paid from $100 to $200 a month, the work extending over a period of nearly 13 months. Frank Davey, of Salem, is the only active candidate for the clerkship, so far as known here. The law creating the commission provides that the commission shall in-vestigate the whole subject of assessment and taxation, may summon wit-nesses to testify before them, pay the witnesses the same per dlom and travelling expenses, allowed in the Circuit Couri, keep a record of their proceed-ings and file their report with the Gov-

to be distributed to members of the last Legislature, members of the next Legislature, to the newspapers and to the County Clerks, for distribution to the people.

The state officers in whom the power to appoint the commission was vested have had the matter under considreation for some time, but have had difficulty in determining whom to appoint. There was no disagreement among the officers, but they found it difficult to gelect from among the many men who were recommended to their consideration. The law requires that not more than two members of the commission shall be of the same political party. So far as known, the men named were appointed by unanimous built up for the protection of the order's interest. He further recommended that consideration of the adoption of a level-rate plan of assessment. He

Work of the Columbians Is Reviewed by Supreme Knight Hearn in Annual Report.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., June 7 .- The rst business session of the National Council of the Knights of Columbus was chiefly devoted to the appointment of committees, the reading of reports, including that of Supreme Knight Ed-

Supreme Knight Hearn reviewed the work of the order during the preceding year. He recommended that the various state councils celebrate an annual memorial mass February 22, to commemorate the dead of the order. He recommended for consideration by offimemorate the dead of the order. He recommended for consideration by officers of all the state councils the question of obtaining greater growth for the order. He also favored the concentration of efforts on the most deserving of the charitable projects which come before the various councils.

With reference to the question of finance Mr. Hearn expressed the opinion that some changes should be made.

BOISE Idaho. June ?.—(Special.)—Judge Beatty has refused to grant the injunction asked for by a large number of farmers on the Cocur d Alene River against the mining companies of the Coeur d' Alene. The injunction was sought on the ground as alleged, that the tailings from the mills were deposited on the lands of the mills were deposited on the lands of the plaintiffs at high tide poisoning the grass and hay and causing great loss.

The Judge not only denies the injunction, but severely criticises the plaintiffs and attorneys. The opinion recites that the court in company with the attorneys visited the scene and found the channel of the river was not choked, but was deep enough to "float a battleship," and no such conditions prevalled as alleged. Continuing, the opinion says:

The wild assertions of complainants are leged. Continuing, the opinion says:

The wild assertions of complainants are without justification. They cannot shelter themselves behind the filmsy veil that they believed themselves became so told. A man must hav some reason for his belief before searting it as a truth. It seems by some to be considered admissable practice in litigation to assert anything regardless of truth that will constitute a non-demurable case. It is the duty that counsel over to the courts to see that their clients present to them only the truth.

Courts will endcayor to see that no man shall succeed through misrepresentation. It must be concluded either that these complainants intended to decrive the court or were themselves decrived by their culpable negligence. In either event a court of equity would not be justified in granting the relief they ask.
