BINGHAM MAKES ADDRESS

Ratiroads of Western Oregon, He Says. Have Not Been Fair to the Manufacturers or Encouraged Enterprises.

INDEPENDENCE, Or., June 13 .-(Special.)-The biggest jam ever experienced at the Independence Opera-House was at the meeting of the Willamette Valley Development League in the grove before the meeting, over 1200 people were fed. There were 1500 pounds of clams used, contributed by B. F. Jones and the people of Lincoin

County for the ecasio At 10 o'clock at night, when the proamme was almost completed, Homer avenport arrived and was given an ation. He delivered a talk of reasenable length, but the people would not be satisfied until he had talked till after 11.

The meeting today was of unusual interest. The locks at Oregon City, owned by a private corporation, were discussed with a earnestness that presages further action. "The people should not stop agitation until those locks are made free," said ex-Governor

L. H. Stinson, of Salem, reported that he and Representative Graham had ascertained that the law required the corporation operating the locks to pay 19 per cent of the receipts over to the state; that the 10 per cent has not been ollected; that the matter had been by them referred to the Attorney-General and that officer had given it as his opinion that it could be collected, and stated he would proceed to do it if re-quested by a state officer; that they ap-pealed to the Governor, and that official had made the request. Walter Tooze, L. M. Gilbert and I. H. Bingham ande talks along the same line.

Mrs. Edith Tozier Witherred talked in the needs of Oregon and W. H. Hollis of Forest Grove, on public own-mittee report adopted and a feature of today's procedings, was the address of I. H. Bingham, a member of the last Legislature, on transportation. The ex-Representative spoke with much earnestness, and his remarks were re-ceived with hearty applause. He said

In part as follows:

Manufacturing in the Williamette Valley is in its infancy, and that the possibilities are great no one will deny. Countless thousands of horse-power, now running to waste, invite the energy and capital of the manufacturing world to put into operation the very enterprises upon which the destiny of this country depends. As an illustration, I on the Santiam, with 170,000 horsepower. the McKenzie with 225,000 horsepower, besides the Umpqua, Rogue, the mighty Willamette and many others.

So per cent of the cost of manufacturing the lumber product will be required to pay for the cost of labor, which amounts to the spor-mous sum of $72,000,000, and if 25 per cent of the lumber manufactured should find a market in the Eastern and Middle States, and will, the rathroads would seceive more than $300,000,000, enough to construct several transcontinental lines across the continent. Another of our principal products is the cool. That product is coming fast to the coreground and we have available the great wool-producing empire. Eastern Oregon-a country that is rapidly coming to the fore,

That the milroads of Western Oregon have not been fair with our manufactories up th the present time is a matter of record. The Southern Pacific has put forth some efforts to induce immigration, but is there any in-stance where they have offered inducements capital to invest in manufacturing in the ections tributary to its lines, by guarantee sections tributary to its lines, by guarantee-ing a fair and equitable freight rate? And if you will show me the instance, will you show me where this great company has kept its word? Take for instance the juggling of its freight rates in 1903. Under Markham's administration of the

Murderer Richards Has Friends EUGENE Or., June 12 (Special.)— With the approach of the June term of court, which convenes next Monday, much interest is apparent in the case of John W. Richards, who will be on trial for the murder of Sanford Skinner and his wife on the Mohawk two weeks ago. There are many of the neighbors who know of the condition of affairs previous to the tragedy, who strongly sympathize with Richards, and who hope to see him escape the gallows by life imprisonement. It is alleged by some that Richards was driven to desperation by the repeated nots of his victims, and that while the killing cannot be said to have been justified, yet there are many mitigating circumstances which, when laid before the court and the jury, may be the means of securin for the man a second-degree verdict. The mother of Richards and the mur dered woman has retained counsel for his defense and the attorneys at least ope to make such a defense as to secure second-degree verdict for their client. At first it was the general impression that the orime had been committed with slight provocation, and that Richards was naturally of a vicious disposition and hand to get along with.

It is said that Mrs. Washburne, the rismer's mother, will give muc dence that will tend to show that the prisoner was driven to desperation and that the crime was not as cold-blooded as it would seem at first.

The state's claim, if it has any, is based upon an act of the Legislature of 1870, authorizing the lessance of $200,000 bonds for the aid of the Willamette Falis Canal & Locks Company, which built the canal at Oregon City. That act expressly provides that one condition of the issuance of the bonds is that the com-pany and its assignees shall pay to the State of Oregon 10 per cent of its net

So far as the Governor is aware, there has been no other act that releases the company-from its liability, and unless the Attorney-General finds that the debt has been cancelled, the Governor will insist that the present owner of the canal and locks pay up its deliquency.

The act appropriating the money by means of bonds also provides that the state may at any time take the canal and locks at the actual valuation, such valuation to be ascertained in such man-ner as the Legislature may determine. It is believed that under that provision ment can be made with the Government, transfer the canal to the United States as a part of the improvement of the Willamette River.

The act requires the owner of the canal and locks to keep an account of traffic through the locks and also of the expenditures for the maintenance of the ame, and to file an itemized statement of the expenditures so that the net profits may be ascertained. It has been many years, however, since any such account has been filed and there is nothing in the records here to show whether canal and locks are operated at a prior otherwise. There would seem to or otherwise. There would seem to be two alternatives in any event, for if the canal is operated without profit the state ded victim.

Throughout the trial the courtroom was should be able to take the property at low valuation, while if the business yields a profit. the state should be getting 19 recks-old haby were also regular at the profit. That section of the act, under which Curing Female Trouble Mrs. Anna Bendixen, Salem, Or., sayst "As the result of child-birth four years ago I passed into a very serious condition. It left me with a leucorrhoeal condition, backache, pain in both my sides and headache. I doctored with a sides and headache. I doctored with a number of doctors without benefit until at last, reading of so many cases similar to mine being treated successfully by the X-Radium Medical Institue, I determined to consult them. At that time I was in a very miserable condition, had pain and soreness all over the region of the ovaries, back-acae, leucorrhoes, kidney and bladder trouble, vomiting after meals, with severe bloating and rifting of gas from stomach. My periods were so painful I was unable to do any work and had to spend most of my time in bed. I was weak and very nervous, could not sleep. How thankful I am for the relief afforded by the Liquid Sunsbine treatment. I feel like a different person. All these distressing symptoms have disappeared. I can now do my own work and have gained greatly in weight. I sincerely recommend the Bi-Chemic Treatment to all suffering women.

Complication of Diseases

Complication of Diseases

Mr. Joseph Och. Pendleton, Or., says:
"From hard work and exposure to extremes of heat and cold I contracted a complication of diseases. The trouble started ten years ago and gradually increased until I became unfit for work. During these ten years I doctored with different doctors in Oregon and Washington: the hest in the profession, without benefit. When I consulted the X-Radium Medical Institute Specialists I was suffering intensely with my stomach, back and head. I had a constant pain in my stomach and over kidneys with nausea, vomiting and distincts after eating, could not retain anything I ate and was so short of breath and so lightheaded every time I got up that I could not walk without staggering. My nervous system became affected. I became despondent and felt as if some great danger was hanging over me all the time, and thought I could not get well, but thanks to the Liquid Sunshine treatment all these conditions have changed, I feel like a new man and am working every day. I recommend the Liquid Sunshine treatment to all who suffer as I did."
