CITY OF SALEM HITS THE TRAIL

Oregon's Second Town Sends Crowds to Visit the Exposition.

TWO THOUSAND IN GROUNDS

Programme and Reception Given in Oregon State Building—Enthusiastic Address by State's Representative Men.

ing homage to the two greatest explorers in the history of the United States. The business houses, even including the saloons and restaurants, were closed with only two or three exceptions. Last night, when the tired but jubilant sight-seers returned home, Salem was once more a city, and the thread of life and business that had been abandoned for the day was taken up once more with renewed vigor.

Exercises in State Building.

The "Salem" day exercises were held in the Oregon building at 11 o'clock, John H. Albert, of the Oregon State Commission, presiding as chairman. He also delivered a short address. Mayor Frank W. Waters, of Salem, was the first speaker to be introduced, talking on the advantages and inducements offered by the Capital City. Members of the State Commission, among them President Jefferson Myers, delivered addresses of welcome and felicitations. Judge H. J. Bigger followed, speaking with much feeling and enthusiasm on the progress that is being made by Salem. J. M. Shelton commented on the fact that over 10 per cent of the population of Salem, including men, women and children, were at the Exposition. He stated that he hoped that the example would be followed by other Oregon cities. Homer Davenport, the cartoonist, related several of his boyhood recollections. Mr. Davenport was born in Marion County and resided for many years in Salem.

Reception for Ladies.

In the afternoon the Salem ladies held an informal reception in the Oregon building, punch and wafters being served on the veranda by young society ladies. At night, beginning at 8 o'clock, a formal reception was given in the building which was largely attended by the Portland residents, who were greatly delighted with the courtesies and attentions showered upon them by the ladies of Salem. Refreshments were also served at night. Mrs. J. C. Carson, hostess, was ably assisted by Mesdames R. D. Houston, H. B. Thielens, Charles E. Wadsworth, E. Hofer, R. J. Hendricks, F. W. Waters, W. B. Morse, W. E. Sherman, F. W. Durbin, D. C. Minto, J. G. Graham, W. Carlton Smith, W. F. Babcock and the Mesdames Elizabeth Lord, Gladys Farrar, Helen Calbreath, Bertha Kay, Lola Peebles, Blanche Brown, Ruth Gabrielson, Jennie Fay, Miss Dairyville and Messrs. Chauncey Bishop, Roy Bishop, Frederick Thielens, Edward Thielens, Samuel Young, Wilbur Hardt, C. J. Jessup and Herbert Junk. Mrs. W. Carlton Smith and the Mesdames Helen and Evelyn Calbreath rendered several instrumental and vocal selections at the night reception.

Santa Clara Valley Day at Fair.

SAN JOSE, Cal., June 14.—(Special.)—The Chamber of Commerce of this city will run an excursion to the Lewis and Clark Exposition at Portland July 4 and 5. Several hundred business men and their families will make the trip. The California Commission at the Exposition has been asked to set apart July 19 as Santa Clara Valley day. A supply of Santa Clara County dried fruit and fresh fruits and literature will be taken along. A cheap rate for a ten days' trip has been arranged.

Will Play Local Music.

This evening the Jones Band will play "The Rose City March" and "The Apollo March," both composed by E. M. Courtienne of this city, and dedicated to Mr. Jones. Last Monday afternoon, before the band played both of these compositions, Mr. Jones turned to the audience and said: "I have hundreds of marches which I don't care to play submitted to me, but Mr. Courtienne's compositions are so meritorious that I have pleasure in playing his music."

CROWDS TO COME

Corvallis and Independence at Dream City Today.

PARADE WILL BE FEATURE

Headed by Cadets, Citizens of Benton County Will March Through Portland's Streets 3:00 P. M. Strong This Morning.

Headed by 200 cadets of the Oregon Agricultural College, the people of Corvallis, Independence and Benton county will today arrive in Portland 2:00 strong to endeavor to eclipse the precedent established by the Salem residents yesterday in attendance and Exposition enthusiasm. It has been stated that there will be fully 2000 people at the Exposition today from Corvallis but a conservative estimate places the attendance at 2500, not including the cadet corps.

ORIENTAL WEDDING ON TRAIL.

There was an Oriental wedding on the Trail last night, which was witnessed by a crowd of several thousand people. The contracting parties were Henri Robinson, first cornetist of the Inner Band, and Princess Cornea, one of the performers of the Streets of Cairo. The ceremony occurred on a decorated platform. It was preceded by a camel procession and the knot was tied in approved Oriental form by a bewhiskered Egyptian, who muttered outlandish phrases, burned incense and scattered holy water about in a promiscuous fashion. During the ceremony Inner Band played the wedding march, thus introducing an Oriental feature into an Oriental ceremony. The couple, so the story goes, met and loved many years ago in European climes, but were cruelly parted by fate and only came together the other day by accident while Henri was doing the Trail.

Albany and Eugene Are Coming.

Citizens of Eugene and Albany will come to the Exposition tomorrow by special train and an elaborate programme has been prepared for their entertainment. With the delegation from Eugene will come several hundred students from the University of Oregon.

Come in Special Train.

A special train will leave Corvallis at 6 o'clock this morning arriving in Portland at the Fourth-street station at 9:30 o'clock. The Oregon Agricultural College cadets and citizens in carriages and on foot will fall into parade formation and march to the Exposition. Lieutenant Quinlan, instructor of the cadet corps, is grand marshal of the day and will lead the parade with his aides. Next will come the cadet band followed by the cadet corps. The Benton County and Corvallis officials and prominent citizens will ride in the parade in carriages. As the large majority of the men who come to Portland this morning on the special train will participate in the parade it is expected that there will be more than 1200 people in the parade, including the cadets. The columns will start promptly at 10 o'clock and march north on Fourth to Washington, west on Washington to Fourteenth, north on Fourteenth to Everett, west on Everett to Twentieth, north on Twentieth to Overton, west on Overton to Twenty-fourth, north on Twenty-fourth to Savier, west on Savier to the Twenty-eighth-street entrance to the Fair grounds.

March by Platoons.

The march will be by column of platoons to Fourteenth street, where it will break into columns of squads and march in that formation to the grounds. Citizens will drop out of the parade and enter through the main entrance to await the arrival of the regiment, which will march through the Twenty-eighth-street entrance to the grounds. The citizens will rejoin the column and march to the Auditorium, where the exercises will be held. As soon as the exercises are over the military body will escort the disbandment of the column. The address of welcome will be delivered by Colonel Henry E. Doehs on behalf of the Exposition management. Mayor A. J. Johnson, of Corvallis, will take part, as will the Mayor of Independence, W. S. McFadden and Dr. James Withycombe will speak and Miss Lulu Spangler, of Corvallis, will render a solo. The address of welcome will be composed of 30 cadets, who will also play.

Mrs. Irvine, of Corvallis, will preside at the Corvallis, Independence and Benton county exercises. The exercises will be assisted by the Mesdames L. F. Wilson, M. J. Wells, F. L. Miller, E. R. Bryson, G. R. Farrar, A. J. Johnson, Emory Alley, Mrs. McKellogg, M. Davis, T. Callahan, Alex. Rennie, D. P. Quinlan and the Mesdames Helen Hogan, Grace Galich, Bertha Davis, Mary Nolan, Mabel Davis, Louise Cooper, Julia Cooper, Lulu Spangler, Ison Webber, Edna Irvine, Edna Allen and Cleo Johnson. All are from Corvallis. The Administration Band will give a concert in the Oregon building in the afternoon.

To Unveil Bust of Jefferson.

UNIVERSITY OF OREGON, June 14.—(Special.)—Preparations are completed for University day, Friday, June 16, at the Lewis and Clark Fair, and a large number of students and graduates of the University of Oregon will participate in the exercises. June 16 is also Eugene day at the Fair, and it is expected that a large excursion will be run from this place.

COMING WITH BANNERS.

Corvallis Citizens Will Be at the Fair in Force.

CORVALLIS, Or., June 14.—(Special.)—The estimate is now that 1000 people will join in the excursion tomorrow for the observance of Corvallis day at the Fair. The Citizens League has guaranteed the Southern Pacific 500 fares, and

WILL BE GREAT DAY

Oregon Building Dedicated This Afternoon.

PROMINENT MEN PRESENT

Excellent Programme Is Arranged for the Ceremony—President Jefferson Myers in Charge of Dedicatory Exercises.

The signing of the treaty between the United States and Great Britain on June 15, 1846, which established the boundary line of the Oregon Country at the 49th parallel, will be fittingly commemorated today, when the Oregon building is formally dedicated and the buildings erected by the Oregon State Commission delivered to the state through Governor George E. Chamberlain. Although the United States and Great Britain were on the verge of declaring war to settle with arms the right of possession of the Pacific Coast, conservative diplomacy and statesmanship prevailed, and the treaty was signed just 59 years ago today.

Because of this historic date, which meant so much to the future of the Northwest and the deliverance of the exhibition buildings to the State of Oregon, special effort has been made to make the dedication of the Oregon building the most noteworthy event since the formal opening of the Exposition. Prominent citizens and public men from all parts of the state have made it a point to be at the Exposition today to attend the exercises. Many of the Salem visitors remained over because of this event.

The exercises will begin promptly on the veranda of the Oregon building at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, when President Jefferson Myers, of the Oregon State Commission, will turn over to Governor Chamberlain the property of the state, signifying that the work of several years has been completed and that the Exposition now stands before the world in its entirety. President Myers will preside as chairman. The dedication of the buildings will be pronounced by Rev. J. R. N. Bell, of Baker City. J. H. Albert, chairman of the building committee, will present the buildings to Governor Chamberlain on behalf of the State Commission.

Governor Chamberlain will deliver an address, formally accepting the buildings of the Oregon State Commission. Government Board and the state officials, in the New York building, at 12 o'clock, preceding the dedicatory ceremonies.

FOR THE FOURTH OF JULY

BIGGEST CELEBRATION EVER PLANNED FOR PORTLAND.

Dan McAllen, Father of the Lewis and Clark Exposition, Tells How It Should Be Carried Out.

To give Portland the greatest Fourth of July celebration in the history of this section of the country is proposed by the Exposition management. The suggestion for a great big old-fashioned celebration to take place on the Fair grounds is contained in a letter from President Gooden to Dan McAllen, the Father of the Fair. Mr. McAllen has always taken an active interest in public celebrations and has successfully managed several glorious Fourth.

Yesterday in discussing the proposed celebration at the Fair grounds Mr. McAllen said:

"I think the plan a fine one and will do everything I can to help make it a success, if the proper disposition is manifested in a letter from President Gooden to Dan McAllen, the Father of the Fair. Mr. McAllen has always taken an active interest in public celebrations and has successfully managed several glorious Fourth.

High-Wire Act Today.

A heavy wind that was blowing from the northwest made it impracticable for the "Marvelous Baums" to give their high-wire exhibition on the lakeshore last evening. The daring performance will occur today, however, weather conditions being favorable.

Independence to Close Up Shop.

INDEPENDENCE, Or., June 14.—(Special.)—All the business houses in Independence have signed an agreement to close tomorrow on account of Independence-Corvallis day at the Fair.

HOGAN MAY BE WHIPPED

ARRESTED FOR KNOCKING DOWN HIS WIFE.

Charged With Assault and May Get Lashing at Whipping Post.

Roy Hogan is the latest candidate for the whipping-post. He was arrested by Detective Hartman yesterday, upon complaint of Mrs. Hogan, and was locked up in the City Jail on a charge of assault and battery. The wife says she beat her and knocked her down because she called him from a saloon to request a few moments' conversation.

MOVING PICTURE EXHIBITION.

The Nebraska State Exhibit, with headquarters in the Agricultural building, has inaugurated the first of its daily moving-picture exhibitions.

The various series show:

- 1—Farm life from early Spring sowing through corn-cultivating, harvesting and haying, to corn-picking in the Fall.
- 2—The range, showing the round-up and branding of cattle, the riding of bucking bronchos by cowboys, and the shipping of cattle to market, where they are sold to the packing-house.
- 3—The dairying industry, showing fine herds of Holsteins and Jerseys, milking scenes, the use of the separator, the shipping of cream and the methods employed in large creameries.
- 4—The alfalfa and best-sugar industries complete.
- 5—The poultry, sheep and swine.
- 6—The Fall harvest home festivals such as the Askerben, and the State Fair. This series concludes with the only life picture in existence of the late President McKinley at the Trans-Mississippi Exposition in Omaha.
