Concert by Innes' Band the Musical Success of the Season.

MANY ARE TURNED AWAY

Every Bit of Space in the Auditorium Is Crowded, While Hundreds Fail to Procure Seats and Are Disappointed.

***************** Exposition Attendance, 11,904.

Reduced prices of admission on Sur day brought yesterday's Exposition attendance up to 11,904, or 5000 more then it was last Sunday. Beginning today, Washington cities will visit the Fair, and large crowds of visitors are expected. Excursionists from Belling-ham, Everett, Scohomists, Port Townsend, Port Angeles and Anacortes will be on the grounds today, together with the Nebraska lumbermen.

Last night's production of "Parsifal" to the Exposition Auditorium was successful, far beyond expectation, for over 2500 persons listened to the wonderful strains of the consecrated stage festival while fully 1500 more were turned from the doors for lack of seats. Frederick Innes, under whose leadership the music was produced, expressed himself as being particularly pleased at the manper in which Portland people turned out for the occasion, and thanked the audience for the way in which it had honored him and his associates.

The Parsifal programme has been the talk of musical circles for many days, since it was first announced that Innes and his band would undertake the rendition of several selections from the great masterpiece of Richard Wag- by the bedside and expired. ner. As a result, the number of persons that applied for admission to the Auditorium last night was all out of proportion to the number of available seats. Boxes, trunks and instrument cases were quickly brought into action, but even with the seating capacity of the house thus greatly increased, hundreds were frozed to sit on the stairs or remain out of doors. Many of those who were obliged to stay out of the hall sat on the steps or gathered around the stage entrances and listened to the music as it drifted out through the windows.

The first part of the evening's programme numbered several well-known several well-known for the members of the audience to follow out the motifs he had explained and to note the manner in which they were used throughout the selections that were played. The description was also entertaining from a historical point of view.

The Vorspiel and the Good Friday Magic Spell were produced by the entire band, and were accorded hearty applause. Feilowing these two pieces Miss Emma Part-ridge sang the Temptation of Parsifal by Kundry, her soprano notes being particu-larly well adapted for the production of this selection. The programme ended with the Procession of the Knights of the Holy Grail.

Portland musical enthusiasts who had seats in the Auditorium expressed themselves as being particularly well pleased with the production made by Mr. Innes and his band. The large size of the or-ganization, together with the expert man-her in which the members performed their parts, was particularly pleasing.

Gratified at Success.

of my audience obtained their knowledge of Parsifal from the production made by Conried in New York last Winter. I de-gire to say that there were thousands who attended these productions, and went home dissatisfied, simply because they had to listen through a large amount of music that was tiresome and uninterest-ing. While some of the finest notes that have ever been written are in this play, there remains still many that are not so interesting, and over which it is unprof-itable to spend too much time."

WITH MILITARY HONORS

Funeral of Jesse H. Robinson Is Conducted by His Comrades.

The funeral of Jesse M. Robinson, who was a member of Company 2. Captain C. E. McDonell, commanding. Second Oregon Volunteers, took place yesterday afternoon at Dunning's undertaking chapel. East Sixth street, and was conclided in Lone Fir Cemetery. The chapel was filled with Spanish-American War Veterans, comrades of the dead man when the regiment was sent from Oregon to the Philippine Islands. The casket was appropriately draped with an American flag, and there were many beautiful floral tributes from friends. Chaplain W. S. Gilbert officiated and spoke very tender words in his funeral discourse. Then the services were concluded at the grave with tape and military honors, as he had requested when he found that he was not

HOLD SCHOOL ELECTIONS

Three Suburban Districts Will Vote on Bond Issues Today.

The most important school elections outside of Portland will be held this evening at St. Johns, Estacada and in the Leuts district. In St. Johns the matter of issuing $10,000 in bonds for the erection of a 4-room addition to the present building will be voted on. While the bond issue is expected to be authorized there is some opposition to the measure on the grotinds that likewood is too much, and some want another school exected farther north. Advocates of the bond issue answer the former objection with an array of figures to show that the addition cannot be built and furnished under 19,000. They also point to the fact that St. Johns district has already a school population of 600, and is growing rapidly, and that even a rooms will hardly furnish room enough for next year. In the course of a year or two they say, the district will then be in position to erect another school/busse farther to the northward. A director and clerk will also be elected.

In the Lents school district it is proposed to add four rooms and an assembly

In the Lents school district it is proposed to add four rooms and an assembly hall to the present building, and the election of a director will have much to do with carrying out these plans. A taxpayers' meeting indorsed the building proposition and plans were adopted, leaving a proviso that the directors may make changes in the plans then adopted. It is proposed to spend this year $600 on the school building, finishing up part of the rooms and leaving the others for future contingency.

Election in the Mount Tabor districts, including No. 5, South Mount Tabor and Montavilla, is not significant. No addiincluding No. 5, South Mount Tabor and Montavilla, is not significant. No additions are to be built in these districts the coming year, although in Montavilla one or more rooms may have to be put up on the school grounds.

At Estacada there will be a vote on the proposition to bond the district in the sum of $5000 for the erection of a modern school, which is expected to

LEWIS KALLICH KILLS HIMSELF IN HOTEL.

Leaves No Letter to Reveal Why He Took His Own Life-Was Volunteer Fireman.

Lewis Kallich, a member of the Woodlawn Volunteer Fire Department, com-mitted suicide yesterday morning in his room at the Hotel Zur Rheinphalz, on Front street, by shooting himself in the head with a revolver, and blowing out his brains.

Little is known of the suicide, other than that he has a brother in Woodlawn, who has been notified by the Coroner. Kallich engaged a room at the hotel about 11 o'clock Saturday night, and immediately left the building. He returned about 2 o'clock yesterday morning, and going to his room, lay down on the bed and shot himself. Only one cartridge had been fired. Kallich dropped the gun by the bedside and expired.

No note or other evidence was left to throw any light on the cause of the act. The only article found on the body leading to the identity of the man was a small aliver shield bearing the inscription, W. V. F. D., No. 22.

Kallich was a man about 25 years old and wore fairly good clothes. The Coronar expects to hear from the brother in
