Many Visiting Clergymen Address Congregations.

SPECIAL MUSIC RENDERED

Bishop Keator Conducts Services. Unique Themes Discussed by Pastors-Unusual Activity in Houses of Worship.

There were many visiting clergymen in Portland yesterday, due principally to the annual convention of the Episcopal Diocese of Oregon which was in session Thursday, Friday and Raturday. The election of a bishop coadjustor to relieve Bishop Merris of active duties aroused much interest in all church centers, ir respective of denomination. The an-nouncement of Rev. F. E. J. Lloyd's election to this important poor has given entire satisfaction to those interested, it entire satisfaction to those interested, it being considered that he is entirently fitted for the place. Rev. Lloyd is a man of strong personal magnetism and has a fine record as an indefatigable worker. Rt. Rev. F. Keater. Bishop of Olympia, who has been in the city for the past week, has been prominently identified in all church and other Episcopalian functions, his services being much in de-mand.

The White Temple is another church that always has fine music and the anthem by the quartet choir at the ening service was an artistic rendition.

Dr. Brougher went to Mc-Minnville to preach the baccalaureate sermon for the Baptist College last night mon for the Baptist College last night and Rev. F. H. Adams of that city oc-cupied the puipit of the Temple, deliv-ering a bright sermon on "Is It Big Enough." Dr. Brougher's morning ser-mon was on "A Word of Cheer," and he read the First Epistle to the Thes-salonians translated into modern Eng-lish. Short, of Asterio toria. A missionary meeting was held in the evening, the Bishop addressing the gathering before going to St. Mark's to attend union services. Rev. H. D. Jones, of Pendieton, was also a speaker at the evening service. This meeting was held for the purpose of stirring up in-terest in missions.

Programme at St. Mark's.

Rev. J. E. H. Simpson, of St. Mark's, planned a full programme for his church which was well executed. The morning sermon was preached by Rt. Rev. H. D. Jones, of Pendleton, who has a forceful delivery and is an eloquent speaker. A large congregation turned out to hear him. Union services at 8 P. M. brought out another large congregation. These services were led by Rishop Keator and Rev. U. H. Gibbs, of Fehdleton. Rev. H. M. Ramsey preached at 8t. Stephen's in the morning and at Ascension Chapel in the sylving. # Rev. Paul Rader Speaks.

There were delightful services at the Taylor-street Methodist, the music being especially good and the sermons most interesting. The pulpit was occupied at the morning service by Rev. Paul Rader, of South Boston. Mr. Rader is a son of Dr. D. L. Rader, editor of the Pacific Christian Advocate. He is a Congrega-Christian Advocate. He is a Congrega-tionalist and a splendid preacher, his sermon of yesterday causing much com-ment. He took his text from the 23 Psaim. "He restoreth my soul." The evening sermon was delivered by the pastor. Rev. F. Burgette Short. who apoke eloquently on "Your Opportunity." The Taylor-street Church is enjoying un-usually fine music this Summer, many prominent singers who are home for the Summer months having appeared in this choir. The presence of Miss Annie-Ditchburn was a pleasant surprise yes-Ditchburn was a pleasant surprise yes-terday and her solo. The Lord is Mind-ful of His Own, was beautifully ren-dered. Miss Ditchburn's voice has rounded out wonderfully and seems particular-ly well spated to sacred music.

Children's Day Service.

He distributed 460 copies of the picture among the congregation and these were referred to as various points of the great masterpiece were taken up by the speaker and religious leasons drawn from them. The idea is a novel one and one that pleased the congregation and held its closest attention. Next Sunday night Dr. House will take up De Vinci's "Last Supper." and after that "St. Paul" by Raphael. Munkacay's "Christ Before Pilaie" and "The Light of the World" by Holman Bunt

Ohio, preached at the invitation of Rev. Harold Oberg, pastor of that church.

Children's Day at Centenary.

The auditorium of Centenary Methodist Church, East Ninth and Pine streets, was beautifully decorated for Children's day exercises which were held there yesterday morning. In front of the altar platform was a bank of marguerites, while the grand organ and platform were decorated with green leaves, interspersed with hundreds of imitation butterflies of many colors. The programme was called "The lieurt of Gold," and was finely rendered colors. The programme was called "The lieurt of Gold," and was finely rendered by the children of the Sunday school, appropriately dressed for the parts. Miss Verona Wants was the "Angel of the Plowers," and occupied a throns on the platform, from which she issued her commands. Children representing the dandellon, apple blossoms, johnny-jump-ups, heartsease, water lilles, dulaies and roses, attired in costumes to represent these attired in costumes to represent these flowers, marched on the platform in succession, giving the parts in song and reci-tation, while Miss Wantz, "The Angel of the Flowers," attired in pure white, with her attendants seated on either side, gave the addresses with excellent effect. It was a pleasing programme, a panorama of flower sprites moving in beautiful precis-ion through the attractive drills, which called out frequent applause. A collection was taken for educational purposes. Dr. J. J. Wiggins, superintendent of the Sun-day school, was in charge. At the close Dr. Heppe, the pastor, performed the ordinance of baptism.

McComb Doing Good Work.

Rev. J. L. McComb, who achieved a great deal of credit for the success of the Chapman revival meetings here a short time ago on account of his ability as an open-air evangelist, has been doing some effective evangelistic work lately at points around Portland, and for week hast been carried on a rechost a week past has carried on a red-hot campaign at St. Johns, great interest being manifested at all his meetings. Last night Congregational Tabernacle, of which Rev. Mr. Upshaw is pastor, of which Rev. Mr. Upshaw is pastor, was taxed to its utmost capacity to accommodate the crowd in attendance, the audience being deeply moved by the earnestness of Rev. McComb's remarks, his address treating of the parable of the Prodigal Son. The meetings will continue up to and including next Sunday night.

LARGE CROWDS ON WATER

Cruisers Chicago and Boston and Destroyer Perry Are Inspected by Hundreds of Citizens During Afternoon.

"Robbers, robbers, they're robbers; don't pay the grafters; take the car, the com-pany'll get it anybow."

It was a launch war with a vengeance. Testerday was the first day on which only launches of the Payorite boathouse were launches of the Fayorite boathouse were allowed to take passengers from the Oaks. The independents, who refused to pay the O. W. P. & Ry. Co. for the privilege of landing at the float, laid off and shouted such endearing terms at the crowd on the pier for hours.

At the west end of the Morrison-street bridge it was just as bad or just as funny for the bystanders. It is probable that the case will be taken into the courts this week. The launches from Merrill's stand

Only the presence of policemen prevented several fights between launch men. In the morning the independents were threatened with arrest for trespass, but no ar-rests were reported to headquarters. Yesterday saw almost as many people on the river as last Sunday. The float at the side of the Chicago was a busy place all day. The cruiser Boston was also crowded, while the narrow little torpedo-boat-destroyer Perry had all the visitors she could hold.

The river entrance to the Exposition

The river entrance to the Exposition opened in the afternoon, and a number of leads were taken to the Fair. The river had plenty of pleasure boats upon it all day. The new pleasure launch Mayñower and the remodeled boat White Flyer made their first appearance yesterday.

When the steamer Charles R, Spencer arrived at 520 over 300 people walked over the gangplank. The Balley Gatzert, which, like the Spencer, ran to Cascade Locks, also had a big crowd on board. The large gasoline launch Gazelle, which makes a run into the Columbia, took out a capacity crowd. The steamers running
