TEXANS VISIT THE FAIR Take Rides About Town in Autom biles to See Sights.

The Texas bankers were left to them selves yesterday. After a whole day and evening spent in formed giving and taking of compliments. So they went out to the Fair as private citizens, rode around the city in automo-biles and saw just about everything that can be taken in in that manner? It was not because the hospitality of the city was suddenly stopped, but be-cause it was thought better to show cospitality that way, In fact the number of private automobiles that were placed at the disposal of the Texans must not only have been gratifying to them, but spoke well for the people of

This important party of 100 visitors. which will be here until late this evening, will go back and tell some very pleasant things about this city and this portion of the country. Many called yesterday hot in the sun, but they laughed at that. To them it was a breezy day such as Texas wo to have in Summer. They will go back nd tell about the weather to the burnt-up Southerners, and the Fair will reap a rich harvest of visitors from the advertising thus given.
