

OWNERS OPPOSE

Object to the Assessment for Opening Stark Street.

THEY FILE THEIR PROTESTS

Declare That the Cost of the Extension Charged to Them Is Out of All Proportion to Any Prospective Benefits.

When the City Council meets this afternoon, one of the most important matters it will have to consider will be the report of the assessors on the extension of Stark street, together with the batch of remonstrances against the conclusions of those appointed to pass upon the damages and benefits to the property affected thereby.

In accordance with a resolution adopted by the Council March 25, Laz Ackerman, W. F. White and Enos Swan were appointed assessors in the matter of the proposed extension of Stark street westwardly in its present course and width from the west line of Twelfth street to the east line of Thirteenth street, and in an elaborate report rendered May 11, Labbe Brothers, owners of the east half of block 307, were awarded $15,500 damages less $1000 alleged benefits; A. H. Devers, an owner of the east half of the west half of block 307, was awarded $15,500 damages, it being contended by the assessors that all the property in question would be appropriated to public use by such extension.

A synopsis of the findings of the assessors was published by The Oregonian at the time they were filed with the City Auditor, and there has been a commotion ever since among the property-owners with the result that within the past 24 hours the Auditor's office has been flooded with remonstrances and protests from all directions, upon the basis that the assessment of damages and benefits is excessive, and that the property will not be benefited by the extension. The following is a complete list of those whose holdings are involved in the supposed benefits, many of whom have already remonstrated, and it is expected that others will follow suit as soon as the facts become known:

CHANCE FOR PROMOTION.

Civil Service Examination for Firemen Will Be Held.

An examination, for promotion of captains and lieutenants in the Fire Department is scheduled to take place before the Municipal Civil Service Commission, July 17. It will be confined to members of the department below the rank of lieutenant who have served at least one year in the department, the subjects of examination and relative weights on a scale of 100 being as follows:

Spelling—30 simple words in ordinary use; 20 arithmetic—simple problems in addition, multiplication and subtraction; 20 penmanship—marked on legibility, rapidity, neatness and general appearance in the exercise of the fourth subject; 30 copying from plain copy; 20 general knowledge of duties—competitor will be required to give the location of at least 40 fire hydrants and 20 cisterns in use in the city of Portland; 25 fire alarm boxes will be given in the first and second districts, which competitor will be required to locate. Questions relative to the duties of a captain of a truck engine and chemical company, and questions taken from the "Standard Book" will be included under this subject.

Competitors who pass this examination will be entitled to be placed on the eligible list for appointment to the positions of captain and lieutenant in the Fire Department. Those falling below a standard of 75 will be dropped.

City Offenders Before Municipal Judge Hogue

After a whispering conference lasting two full hours, Municipal Judge Hogue and Attorneys H. K. Sargent and Ralph Moody yesterday arranged to have "The Girl in Blue" leave the city, without even having to stand trial on a charge of conducting a lewd performance. The complaint was laid by Chief of Police Hunt, with whom Judge Hogue is at odds.

In connection with the case, Judge Hogue caused five new complaints to be filed against the woman. The court, before deciding the case, exacted a promise from her manager that she should leave Portland immediately and not return.

However, according to statements made by officials, it is thought the woman and her manager are playing a shrewd game of waiting. It is said they anticipate more favorable conditions in the course of a little time, and that they took the steps agreed upon yesterday in order to escape being fined.

City Attorney McNary, who seldom visits the Municipal Court, was present for a short time yesterday morning. He held a brief consultation with his deputy, Mr. Fitzgerald. During the two hours' conference between Judge Hogue and counsel for the defense, Mr. Fitzgerald said but little. He had several witnesses present to give testimony of the most damaging kind against the woman, he stated, but because of the fact that Judge Hogue wished not to try the case, no witnesses were heard.

Representatives of the Travelers' Aid Society were present to watch the proceedings, and also to call the attention of the court to the fact that a girl of 14 years is with the accused woman. This fact was communicated to Judge Frazer, of the Juvenile Court, and an effort is being made to locate the child and take her from the woman.

If the contention of Municipal Judge Hogue is correct, a man who drinks a glass of beer, which he did not order, does not have to pay for it. The same holds true with all kinds of drinks, the court contends.

Following out this line of argument, Judge Hogue yesterday instructed Deputy City Attorney Fitzgerald to file a charge of larceny against J. B. Moore, proprietor of the Cosmopolitan Saloon. It was drawn and signed by Charles Southworth. The case will be heard in the Municipal Court today.

Moore was a co-defendant with Barney Jones in a present and a battery case. Both were found guilty and fined $10 each. The court said he would fix that sum in order to keep Moore in the proceedings Southworth testified that Moore, who was on duty behind the bar at the time of the assault, placed two glasses of beer out Southworth and his friend, Paul Paulson, were invited to drink. They did. Moore then demanded pay. Southworth laid down a dollar, which Moore is charged with taking and refusing to return any change.

OLD GUARD ON G. A. R. DAY

OUTLINE OF THE PARADE IS ANNOUNCED.

General Owen Summers, Grand Marshal, Issues Instructions to Those Who Will March.

The formation of the column follows: Four mounted police as flankers to clear the way. Commandeers C. H. Hunt, commanding police escort.

Two platoons of Portland police. Grand Marshal General Owen Summers. Special aides to the marshal, Comrades J. S. Post, T. E. McDevitt, F. R. Neale. Other aides will be announced in later orders.

Department officers of the G. A. R., Oregon, both present and past. Delegates to the Department of Oregon. George Wright Post, Lincoln-Garfield Post, Sumner Post, Meade Post and Ben Butler Post.

Carriage with distinguished officer of state and other comrades from the Department of Oregon will take their position in line. Second Division—Band. Department officers of Washington, present and past. Delegates to the Department of Washington.

Ellisworth Post, Vancouver, Wash. Comrades of other states and of the State of Oregon and Washington, not already assigned. Women's Relief Corps and others in carriages.

It is the desire of the committee that all should be in line promptly at 10 o'clock A. M., June 21, at 1919 A. M. the column will march on Third street.

It is the wish of the committee that all those participating in the parade should carry small American flags and the bands are requested to play old familiar patriotic airs.

Division commanders, aides and leaders of bands will report to the marshal at 9:45 A. M., Friday, June 21, at the intersection of Third and Taylor streets.

GENERAL OWEN SUMMERS, Grand Marshal. The following is the outline of the parade of the "Old Guard," on G. A. R. day, June 21:

Formation of division in column of four, with right resting on the east side of Third street, on Taylor street, facing west.

Column of formation, aides and commanders of platoons will observe a general alignment in column of fours, distance between each set of fours should be as near as possible, eight feet, and each individual comrade should be allowed to occupy a separate position, so as to conform to the alignment of each set of fours.

The line of march will be short, not occupying more than 45 minutes, but will cover as near as possible the principal part of the city, as it is not the desire of the committee to disrupt the daily traffic but that a suitable demonstration should be made, on this occasion. The following will be the formation of the column and the line of march, as herein stated. The marshal reserves the right to make such alterations as emergency may require.

The line of march will be west on Taylor to Third, north on Third to Stark, west on Stark to Fourth street, south on Fourth street to Washington, west on Washington to Fifth street, south on Fifth to Morrison, west on Morrison to Sixth, north on Sixth to Washington, west on Washington to Tenth, north on Tenth to the Armory, where the column will be dismissed from the literary exercises as arranged on the programme.
