A. What date is that?

Q. It is of date November 2, 1802. How was that balince made up during that month of October, 1802? How did you reach that balince of $661.33 of net cash to each one?

A. That was done by deducting the expenses for the month, and it showed a balance of net results, and that was to be divided, of course, between us.

Q. Was this $300 payment of the Kribs check, this $400 check, was the $500 included in that division?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Was anything said by you to Senator Mitchell about the payment of that check, the receipt of that check.

A. Prom Kribs, you mean?

Q. Yes.

A. I don't remember that there was.

Q. I will hand you Government's Exhibit No. 2. Is that any part of the list of forty cialms?

A. Yes. This is the second list that Mr. Kribs brought in, and makes up the forty cialms that I have been speaking about.

Q. Whose signature does that letter

A. I cannot recall from memory.

Q. I will show you a paper which perhaps will refresh your memory.

Mr. Bennett-What is the date of the letter you are showing him?

Mr. Heney-February 8, 1822.

A. That seems to be a copy of the letter accompanying this list. Yes, sir.

Q. The carbon copy that was kept in your office?

A. Yes, sir.

A. Yes, sir,
Mr. Heney-This carbon is one of the letters referred to in our notice. We will offer this copy in evidence.

Mr. Bennett-The only objection we desire to interpose to this, Your Honor, is the general objection and the objection that the notice to produce is not sufficient and that no sufficient foundation has been laid for the admission of the testimony, and that it is a statement of Mr. Tanner's for which we are in no way responsible.

The objection is overruled.

Q. The original of this was signed by you and mailed to Senator Mitchell?
A. Yea, sir.
The letter reads as follows:

It has been held repeatedly by the Secretary of the Interior that the mere fact that the entrymen deeded or mortgaged the land immediately upon making final proof was not sufficient evidence to justify a cancellation of the entries. See Morfey vs. Burrows, 4th L. D. 125. Also the case of Isabella M. Dwyer, 6th L. D. 22. In this last case the Secretary uses the following language: "Nor does the fact that the entryman has since making and entry, disposed of the claim, afford sufficient proof of bad faith to warrant the cancellation of the United States has said entry, disposed of the claim, afford sufficient proof of bad faith to warrant the cancellation of the entry." The Supreme Court of the United States has held the same thing in effect in the case of Myers vs. Croft. 13th Wallace, 251. The court uses the following language: "The object of Congress was attained when the pre-emption went with clean hands to the Land Office and proved up his rights, and paid the Government for his land. Restriction upon the power of alienation after this would injure the pre-emptor, and could serve no important purpose of public policy. It is well known that the pstents do not issue in the usual course of business in the General Land Office until several years after the certificate of entry is given, and equally well known that nearly all the valuable lands in the new states, admitted since 18t, have been taken up under the pre-emption laws, and the right to sell them freely exercised after the claim was proved up, the land paid for and the certificate of entry received. In view of these facts we cannot suppose, in the absence of express declaration to that effect, that Congress intended to the up these lands in the hands of the original owners, until the Government should choose to issue the patent." See also U. S. vs. Rudd, 18th U. S. 18t.

I am not cliting these authorities, dear Senator, to convince you, but so that you may have them in hand with which to meet the objections of the Hotorable Commissioner if he should make any along that line, to passing these lands for patent.

The report of the special agent, as I have already indicated will not received.

commissioner if he should make any along that line, to passing these lands for patent.

The report of the special agent, as I have already indicated, will not present any fact indicating fraud; from his investigation he was not able to find any thing indicating fraud unless the fact that the innds were sold shortly after the final proof was made should be accepted as sufficient evidence of fraud. When we show, therefore, under these suithorities, that the fact of the entrymen selling the land does not justify the cancellation of the entry, there would seem to be nothing left but to order the patents issued.

Will you kindly arrange for a conference with Mr. Hermann after the report of the special agent is received and present this matter to him and urge upon him, all you consistently can, the passing of these entries to patent?

P. S.—Of course if you find that it is not possible to get the Honorable Commissioner to take the action we desire, and that he will insist on the cancellation of the entries we will then insist that he cannot do this on exparte affidavits, but should order a hearing in the local office, where both sides can be represented, and have testimony taken in support of the bona fides of the entries, as well as against it.
