

MITCHELL MAY TAKE THE STAND

If So It Will Be For Purpose of Discrediting Tanner's Testimony.

ARE FEW MORE WITNESSES

It Is Believed That the Case Can Go to the Jury for Its Verdict by Wednesday Evening Next.

Promptly at 10 o'clock this morning the trial of Senator Mitchell will be resumed before Judge De Haven in the United States Court. United States District Attorney Francis J. Heney intimated that the prosecution would rest this afternoon, and as the defense has but few witnesses it is expected that the case will go to the jury some time Wednesday. There has been no indication on the part of the defense as to who is their star witness, nor has it said, in so many words, that Senator Mitchell will take the stand in his own behalf, but it is almost an assured fact that he will do so.

To Discredit Tanner.

If Senator Mitchell is placed on the stand, it will be done to discredit the testimony given last week by ex-Judge A. H. Tanner. The play of the defense has been, so far, to create a great sympathy for its client, and when it places him on the stand, it will seek to prove his carelessness in personal business matters, and the implicit trust that he had in his partner, ex-Judge Tanner, and undoubtedly it will attempt to make it appear that ex-Judge Tanner is responsible for all the trouble which has fallen upon the Senator's shoulders. Aside from the appearance of Senator Mitchell on the stand, and the arguments which will be made by the attorneys, it is not expected that the trial during the rest of the time that it will occupy the attention of Judge De Haven will contain anything in the nature of sensations. There was a rumor around the courtroom Saturday afternoon that Mr. Heney had several trump cards up his sleeve that he had yet to produce. What they are, of course, the prosecution has not given any intimation. The witnesses yet to be heard for the Government are Miss Spencer, private ex-Judge Tanner's son Harold, Harry Robertson, Senator Mitchell's former private secretary, Commissioner Richards, and several members of the Federal grand jury.

May Call Grand Jury.

When the grand jury was hearing the evidence in the Mitchell case, it is understood that Mr. Heney informed those who lived in the vicinity of Portland that they might be expected to testify in court. The story has it that Mr. Heney specially cautioned several men who served on the jury, that lived in Portland, to pay special attention to the testimony they heard. During the trial several members of that famous grand jury have been in daily attendance. The statement, however, of Mr. Heney on Saturday that the Government would be able to run its case by this evening indicates that not many of those jurors will be placed upon the witness stand. Ex-Judge Bennett stated that it would take only about one day to hear the witnesses for the defense, so, counting on one day for the arguments, the case should go to the jury by Wednesday evening.

Great Interest in Trial.

The Mitchell trial, from the fact of the importance of the man who is being tried, has attracted more attention than any of the land-fraud cases so far tried by the Government. Day after day the courtroom has been crowded, and long before the hour of opening the sessions arrived, large crowds stood waiting for the doors to be opened. Many distinguished persons have attended the trial so far. Men who have known and voted for Senator Mitchell, from all over the state, who are in the city visiting the Exposition, have dropped in at the trial. Each day those friends and acquaintances of Senator Mitchell would, during the recesses, shake hands with the defendant and wish him well. Considering the ordeal through which he is passing, Senator Mitchell is bearing up remarkably well. It can be plainly seen that he is under a great mental strain, but he shows little fatigue.

OLD PIONEER PASSES AWAY

D. T. Harrington Dies at the Good Samaritan Hospital.

D. T. Harrington, a pioneer of 1857, died at the Good Samaritan Hospital yesterday morning. He was born at St. John's, Newfoundland, November 22, 1828. When three years of age he went to Dover, New Hampshire, where he lived for five years under an apprenticeship to learn the trade of a blacksmith, at which trade he worked in Providence, Boston and New York. In 1852 he set sail for San Francisco on the ship Samuel Appleton. There were 212 passengers on board, the voyage being accomplished in 140 days. He was in San Francisco during the troubled times incident to the formation of a vigilance committee there, and in common with other law-abiding citizens, assisted the organization in maintaining good government for the city. Later he came here, where he became absorbed in Portland and her interests, and in the welfare of the state generally. Mr. Harrington was a widower, his wife having died about three years ago. There are four surviving children—Mrs. T. J. O'Brien, Mrs. Josie Brickerhoff, Miss Francis C., and J. B. Harrington. The funeral will take place at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning from the residence of his son at 48 Essex street.

The Wrong John Minto.

BALTIM. Cr., June 25.—(To the Editor.)—Permit me the use of your columns to inform your readers and the country press of Oregon that it was not John Minto who was elected president of the Pioneer Association on the 14th, but John Wilson Minto, generally using J. W. in his signature. He is a citizen of Portland, and has been for 20 years a citizen of Marion County, in or near Salem, craves no honors belonging to others, but is being addressed as president as a result of the wrong impression that has got out. I wish also to induce every word in today's Oregonian over the name of C. E. Moore, in regard to President Gatch, of the State Apgricultural College, as I believe John W. Minto would do with good cause. But, Mr. Editor, it is not the boys of Oregon alone who have cause to speak of Dr. Gatch with gratitude and honor as a native son like Moore and Minto, Geer and Giltry men. It is not often the writer ventures to join in a crowd, but on Pioneer day he found himself pressed close amongst the 1800 pioneers within a few minutes of the dinner bell, which, if sounded, was not heard. His near neighbors in the crowd were a lady (who in student days was Maggie) and husband and one of Mr. Gatch's assistant teachers of 50 years ago. I asked the lady if she remembered winning perhaps the first gold dollar Development Gatch ever saw. She had evidently forgotten, but I asked her friend, who was the facts. Maggie was one of four of her sex in the unruly play of full physical health. Professor Gatch near and alone contemplated the little coin, said, "Oh, go out in the street. I have a neat prize for the one of you first reaching me where I stand." Nothing loth, the race was run and Maggie received the gold dollar, and she got the story from one of the losers. She has I believe, sustained the theory of the old English teacher, "First in race play, first in race of life," as a rule.

WOOLEN MILL IS ASSURED

Structure Will Soon Be Erected at Sellwood.

The erection of a woolen plant at Sellwood is now considered assured, with the probability that the establishment will be in operation shortly after the end of the year. T. W. Clark, a well-known woolen-mill man, has devoted his energies to the establishment of this plant for the past six months. He has interested Clifford Bros., of North Dakota, and other capitalists there. The Cliffords have a plant in North Dakota, which they have agreed to move to Portland, if all conditions are met. They will, besides moving the machinery here, take $20,000 in stock. Other capitalists will buy the ground and erect the buildings for the plant and take $20,000 of the stock. A Portland house takes $15,000 and Nickum & Mowrey, sawmill men of Sellwood, take a $10,000 block of the stock. T. W. Clark also takes a large block of the stock of the concern. The plant will be located on the grounds formerly occupied by the Portland Woolen Mills Company, and will equal the capacity of the latter's plant in operation at St. Johns. Some of the plans have been prepared. The main structure will be 70x30 feet, and provided with fire protection—the sprinkling method. Those who have examined the Clifford plant in North Dakota say that it is a very complete affair. The owners want to get located in a more central district, where wool is cheaper and transportation facilities better. One of the Clifford brothers was in Portland last week and expressed himself satisfied, and returned home to prepare for removal of the machinery. "The matter seems to me as well settled as such things can be without the actual transaction taking place. And even if the present negotiation should not prove successful there are other capitalists ready to take up the proposition and establish a woolen mill. The opportunity there is too inviting to let slip," said J. M. Nickum.
