

ORDINANCE MAY HAVE BAD FLAWS

Police and Fire Departments May Not Get Increased Pay.

DEVLIN CRIES "INVALID"

Declares Proper Course Was Not Pursued and No Payments Can Be Made—Has Been Approved by Mayor.

At the farewell performance of the City Council last Monday, ordinances were passed authorizing an increase in the pay of members of the Fire Department, as well as captains of police and patrolmen of the Police Department, and yesterday afternoon the Mayor approved both measures.

Now it is claimed the ordinance raising the salaries of the Fire Department is invalid, and Auditor Devlin intimates that he will not approve any claims under its provisions in its present shape. He says further that under the charter the Council does not possess the power to fix salaries; the Executive Board must do that, and the Council may then approve the action of the Executive Board. It is alleged that the petition for the increase in salaries of the Fire Department was submitted to the Executive Board by Chief Campbell on May 5, accompanied by a recommendation that the prayer be granted on the grounds that the efficiency of the department was constantly being impaired by resignations on account of the poor pay.

Petition Reported Back.

The petition was reported back by Curtis and Fleider, the fire committee of the Executive Board, on May 19, but the records of proceedings show according to Auditor Devlin that the same petition was before the Council on May 17, it appearing that the committee from the Executive Board, in its eagerness to secure the passage of the measure, had taken this short-cut method of achieving results. The Council then referred the petition back to the Executive Board.

Auditor Devlin says the next Executive Board will have to pass upon all claims under the proposed increase, and that, if requested, he will necessarily have to submit an abstract showing minutes of proceedings, which, of course, will reveal the irregularities.

He states also that the petition of the firemen for an increase, as it came from the Executive Board, was not called for by the Council, but was in the box of the ways and means committee while the matter was under consideration, and while there may not be any trouble about it, the technical defects in the measure exist just the same.

How Ordinance Reads.

As finally passed by the Council the ordinance providing for the increase in pay of the Fire Department reads as follows:

Ordinance No. 14,729.

"An ordinance making an appropriation out of the Fire Department fund of the City of Portland for increase of salaries of firemen for the month of June, 1905; "The City of Portland does ordain as follows:

"Section 1.—That there be and is hereby appropriated out of the Fire Department fund, the sum of $5000 for the payment of the increase of the salary of the Chief of the Fire Department from $166.66 to the sum of $200; for the increase of the salaries of Lieutenants in the Fire Department from $70 to $80 per month; for the increase of the salaries of firemen, hydrantmen and captains in the Fire Department from $75 to $85 per month; for the increase of the salary of hosemen, laddermen, stokers, drivers, pipemen, supply driver and engine drivers from $65 to $70 per month, who have been in the service more than six months, and from $65 to $75 per month for those who have been in the service more than 12 months."

"That relating to the increase in pay of the Police Department provides:

Ordinance No. 14,728.

"An ordinance making an appropriation out of the Police Department fund of the City of Portland for increase of salaries of captains of police and patrolmen for the month of June, 1905; "The City of Portland does ordain as follows:

"Section 1.—That there be and is hereby appropriated out of the Police Department fund the sum of $6000 for the payment of the increase of salary of captains of police from $85 to $100 per month, and for the increase of salaries of patrolmen from $75 to $80 per month."

Surcease on the Trail

"A. A. G." Thinks the Hunt for Happiness Should End There.

By A. A. G.
I'm not quite certain what surcease is. It may be something like aftermath. At all events there seems to be an association between it and sorrow, and whatever it is you will find it on the Trail. I am certain of this, for you'll find everything else there except primordial quiet. If you're looking for that you'll search longer than Parisi hunted for the magical harpoon, down on the Trail. It's too busy there and as soon as the hour arrives for any one to hit it—the Trail—quiet hies up into Balth's Gulch, somewhere and stays there until the last barley-coarse baying the moon. But surcease—why it must be there, for everybody goes to the Trail, and as I understand it, everybody is looking for surcease. The Two-Horned Alexander must be somewhere along that Avenue of Happy Moments—probably in some of the tired animal shows, and I'm almost certain that the Mad Fakir of Swat beats a drum at the gates of Cairo. I saw his picture once in New York. What! That's circumstantial evidence at least. There may be different kinds of surcease, but even at that I'm sure it's all there. Carnegie seems to be looking for one kind—wants to separate from his money. Well, he can do it on the Trail. Putting in such sweet sorrow—and lots of it—on the Trail. Observe the qualifying adjective—anything that sweetens sorrow must be surcease.

INVITATION RENEWED.

Invitations to the opening of the Land of the Midnight Sun which were not presented Saturday evening owing to the inclement weather will be honored Wednesday, June 29.

REDFERN CORSETS.

The new shapes in this high-grade Corset are here. Every pair fitted and warranted. McAllen & McDonnell, sole agents for Redfern Corsets.

Pure food laws are good. The absolute purity of Borden's Vanilla has never been questioned.

In tanks. Something might be said about muscle dancers made in Massachusetts, Mont—but that's a suggestion unworthy a perfect gentleman.
A friend of mine had traveled all over, but had never seen Venice. Well, he saw it yesterday—on the Trail. Speaking of mysteries, there are some of the funniest sandwiches in those places where you eat—if you do—on the Trail. A curious lady couldn't understand the joke and wondered what made Milwaukee famous. She knows now. She drank three steins yesterday—on the Trail. Three steins of success.
Personally I've always wanted to see the biggest bar in the world. Yesterday I watched the most successful speller on the Trail. While I was listening to him a short man from Yamhill County, with long whiskers and a sad eye, asked me where he could see the famous, lullaby-dance. And I showed him. Later I was still listening to the speller when Yamhill returned. His eye was less sad. "I've seen 'em, he said. "I've seen 'em. Just like that. Well, there was another case of surcease—on the Trail. Wasn't there?"

ARMED MAN RUNS AMUCK

FLOURISHES PISTOL IN CITIZENS' FACES.

Is Finally Subdued and Taken to Police Station, Where He Gives Combat.

David Kennedy, a peddler of "phony" rings, ran amuck last night at East Burnside street and Union avenue because of too much rum. Besides scaring half a hundred people, he smashed up the front windows of the Star Brewing Company. Repeated calls to police headquarters by frightened citizens caused Captain Moore to send officers to the rescue. Kennedy, in his stride against the peace, was given free use of the street from the Burnside street bridge, where he started on the rampage, until he reached Union avenue. In crossing the bridge he flourished his revolver before the faces of a host of East Seventh street, and commanded her to come along with him. The woman broke from Kennedy and added her screams to the hub-bub. Kennedy next ventured to hold up an electric motor car, but was unceremoniously bundled to earth by one of the occupants. At Union avenue and East Burnside street he was smashed in the plate-glass window of the Star Brewing Company, and commenced a fight with George Washington, a colored porter. Washington, after a struggle, succeeded in dousing Kennedy, and took his revolver away. In the fight with the plate-glass window, Kennedy tore his wrist open, and was weakened somewhat by loss of blood.

W. A. Mack, of 72 East Tenth street, deputy game warden, and J. R. Hutchinson, of 215 Second street North, captured the man after his fight with Washington, and started to police headquarters with him. In the meantime Captain Moore chartered an automobile, and with the aid of citizens, and sent two policemen to quell the disturbance. Officer Wade, on a beat in the North End, hearing of the row, also started to investigate. The man, who took him in charge, and with the aid of Mack brought him to the station. Kennedy refused to be locked up, claiming that he was an American citizen, and had rights of his own. After a fight in the station, he was lodged in jail. Kennedy is charged with disorderly conduct and carrying concealed weapons.

Mrs. Yee Chew Has Trouble

Mrs. Yee Chew found the small feet of her native clime very inconvenient last Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. Yee Chew is the Oriental wife of a prosperous Portland Chinese. She came to Portland not very long ago from China, where the practice of binding the feet to make them small had been practiced upon her until navigation on a large scale is impossible unless she is provided with an conveyance. Mrs. Chew started out to see the Exposition yesterday in a carriage. She was fitted up with a special invitation to visit the Chinese booths, but her carriage was halted at the gate, for there is no order that carriages shall not be allowed about the grounds, inasmuch as they serve to mutilate the driveways, streets and boulevards. Her invitation was of no avail and she headed back, and so complained to Yee Chew. Yee made direct to the Administration building with his passports and the letters of recommendation he could muster together and laid his case before President Goode. His wife had to see the Exposition, and carry her no way around it, he said. He was finally informed that he must either carry her or secure an automobile, which vehicles are not under the ban.

TALK OF THE TAVERN.

Portland's Great Grill Is Popular Topic of Conversation.

Everywhere you go there is talk of the Tavern, and it is all in highest praise. The competent judges declare that it is the finest, most unique and most up-to-date of any grill and cafe in the Northwest. Its after-tenor suppers are the delight of the smart set; its noonday luncheons are the favorite of the best business men, and its shoppers' luncheons, served every afternoon in the Ladies' Annex, at 309 Alder street, are one of the distinct charms of life in Portland. Main entrance on Sixth street, between Washington and Alder.
