Columbia Southern Line Will Build Fifty Miles.

RESULT OF RAILWAY TRIP

Officials Will Make Recommendations to Harriman That Will Undoubtedly Lead to Construction of Line South.

Burly extension of the Columbia Southern Railway for a distance of 50 or 60 miles south from Shaniko will in all prob-ability be the present year development that will follow the recent inspection trip into interior Oregon of officials of the northwestern grand division of the Harri-man system. General Manager O'Brien is now having prepared comprehensive reports covering every feature of the region that bears upon tonnage that may be expected for transportation immediately and that it is estimated can be produced under development that is now assured. Accurate data is being compiled of the acreage actually under cultivation, with full details as to crops grown and yield harvested up to this time as a basis for determining the tonnage for future seasons. It will take some time to complete his statistical information, after which the entire report, including views and recommendations of heads of the various departments, will be submitted to Presideat Harriman. How much time will be consumed in consideration of the reports and recommendations by Mr. Harriman, members of the directorate and principal financial interests of the system is conural, but it is believed that soon after middle of July official announcement be forthcoming of the decision to build an extension.

Agricultural development in the Agency the extension to that locality and routes may be chosen that will serve the present ements admirably and at the same be so located as to open up much

We saw a great deal of good country and a great deal of country that did not look so good," and General Manager O'Brien, "and reports of our observa-tions are now being compiled as a basis for a decision of the question. Recom-mendations will also be submitted with the information thus arranged for sub-mission, but I am not at liberty to state what these recommendations will be."

With the Columbia Southern operating to a point even 10 miles nearer Bend than at present the remaining section would be where roads are of a character that rapid transportation may be sup-plied by automobiles, as is now being done, until further demonstration has been made of the possibilities of agricul-ture under the influence of irrigation. ture under the influence of irrigation. With proved success of the reclamation projects of the Deschutes region for which lands have been segregated under the Carey act, and introduction of variety and diversity of crops, there will then be no doubt that traffic justifies further extension of the rails. Three days of the time devoted to inspection of the country was spent in traversing the lands included in the different projects of that section. It is realized that not only will irrigation mean larger yields of all crops that it is disclosed may be successfully grown, but will insure crops every year, whereas but will insure crops every year, whereas in a large part of the great grain belt of the Northwest Summer fallowing is the present rule with crop yield only alternate years. Experiments being prosetuted under direction of an engineer of the irrigation service near Bend will go fur toward revealing this year the adapta-bility of that region to diverse grains. it is already satisfactorily shown that forage growths yield quite as abun-dantly and of quality not surpassed by any other region of the country.

Fulton Remains in Portland.

Rumored changes in the traffic depart-ment of the Northern Pacific that have been epeculated upon somewhat and in which numerous promotions and shifting of officials had been predicted, is silenced by the positive announcement from St.
Paul that there will be no such changes.
This is now confirmed by S. G. Fulton,
