COLUMBUS O. June 28.-After a continuous session lasting six hours, with several striking features, the Ohio Democratic Convention today named a state ticket to be voted on at the state election

The office of State Tressurer was the only one for which but one name was presented for consideration, eight contestants lining up in the race for Governor, and two ballots being necessary for both that place and Supreme Judge.

After the temporary officers were elected as the permanent officials of the convention, Chairman Daugherty sprung a sensation by reading a communication from National Committeeman John R. McLean, who wrote from Washington offering his resignation, which was at once Pattison's nomination came on the second ballot, and had been predicted by his managers in statements issued yesterday, and it was brought about notwithstanding the fact that the four counties having the most delegates in the convention were voting for other candidates.

In the way of demonstrations, the greatest came at the close of Chairman Daugherty's speech, when an impromptu tribute to William J. Bryan, as the party leader in the Nation, brought out a storm of cheers that lasted fully a minute, and it was repeated later in the convention. when other speakers referred to the former National candidate of the party.

Daugherty Attacks Republican Party M. A. Daugherty, of Lancaster, was introduced as temporary chairman by Chairman McKinney, of Marietta. He spoke in part as follows:

n part as follows:

The Democracy formulated its demand for he extension of the powers of the Interstate formserce Commission to regulate rates before he Republican party awake to the injustice and wrongs inflicted upon the public by the arrying companies. The coulition between he Republican party and these carrying comments is so well known and of such long tanding that there is justification for the whipped that party into a pretense of activity whipped that party into a pretense of activity colly against its own will.

It has been the historic position of the Democracy, a position new firmly held by it, that corporate power created by the state to subserve the public weifare is always subject to the control of the Government, whose creature it is. And the remedy of Democracy is regulation, and not Governmental ownership.

Against Government Ownership,

Whenever Democracy shall cease to contend Whenever Democracy shall cease to contend against the constant aggression of privilege, pressing on with its ever-tightening collar, whenever Democracy shall no longer marshall its legions in the defense of equal rights and shall haul down its flag in inglorious surrender, then the day of Governmental ownership and the stagnation and decay of Socialism is at hand. The last resort of the people against the oppression of privilege is Government ownership. No man who knows the bistory, the teachings, the traditions and principles of the Democracy dare associate its name with that of Socialism. Between Democracy and Socialism there is no peace and no reconfiliation, Claims President as a Democrati, Surprise is expressed that a Democratic club in Chicago should have entertained the President. But Democrats know what Republicans dislike to hear, and if the President is now being horne on the crest of the popular wave, it is because it is understood that he sanctions three eignificant plants in the Democratic platform and proposes to employ all the power of his Administration in supervision of transportation rates and the reduction of the tariff, each and all of them Democratic to the core, and to do this against the controlling influences of his own party. Popular favor was never so showered upon President Roussvelt as it is when he is sowing the Democratic seed prepared for him by Democratic hands.

The Democracy faces the future with hope, with rourage and with confidence. Time and the progression of events will vindicate its

Mr. Daugherty's speech was frequently applauded, and the mention of William J. Bryan aroused a storm of cheers, which was renewed at the end of the address. Mayor Tom L. Johnson brought up again the planks on which he was defeated last year, and today won by a vote of 11 to 5 orders. The Secretary r on that declaring for taxation of railroads as other property is taxed, although he was defeated, 5 to 12, on the 2-cent railroad fare proposition. The temporary organization was made permanent, and the last form was made permanent, and the last form was made as presented. It is the planks on which he was defeated last platform was adopted as presented. It is Declaration of Principles.

Democracy of Ohio, in convention as-led, announces the following declarations We note with satisfaction the determination of the National Administration to purchase supplies for the Panama Canal in the markets of the world, and not to pay tribute to our protected memopolies. We trust that the day may soon come when the common people of this country may enjoy the same privilege, and not be compelled to pay the manufacturers for the necessaries of life a higher price than these articles are sold for by the same manufacturers to foreign purchasess.

these articles are sold for by the same manufacturers to foreign purchasers.

We demand of our Representatives in Congress to aid in the enactment of such laws as will prevent all rebates and ascret contracts by milways and still guarantee the same service to every citizen.

We favor conferring upon the interstate Commerce Commission the power when it finds a rate unreasonable to fix a reasonable rate.

War Promised Upon Graft.

War Frombed Upon Graft.

The Democratic party piedges itself in this state election. If successful, to use its utmost endeavor to eliminate the graft and political corruption that has been nourished and fastened upon the state by the Republican party in the last few years. We have seen the blighting effect of boss rule in one of surriches, and we call upon the voters, by expective of party, to unite in preventing its permanent lodgment in control of our state.

We believe in free and unqualified homerule. Pres from mate interference, each city, town and village should be allowed it of cities for twelf all matters of local polity, especially as between public or private ownership of all public utilities, including street railways as water works and lighting systems, and

We declare that the present laws for assen-ing the property of aream raticoads and other public service corporations should be so changed as so compet the assessment of these proper-ties at not less than their saluals value, and to prevent their exaction of finite States. Sen-ators by direct vate of the people. We favor the initiative and referendum, espe-cially with reference to the issuing of munici-pal and county boods and the granting of pub-lic franchises.

King's Refusal Bears No Weight.

CHRISTIANIA, June 28.-The best authorities agree that King Oscar's refusal to nominate a Prince of the House of Bernadotte for the Norwegian throne makes no change in Norway's constitu-tional situation. According to the con-stitution of May 17, 1874, which is still in force. Norway is even now a Kingdom, with its throne vacant, and hence King Oscar's declination has not decided the question as to whether the future governent of Norway will be under a republic

It is pointed out that if King Oscar pereists in his refusal to nominate a member of his house to the throne of Norway, that country is free to confer the crown upon another Prince.

General Board of the Navy Is Given a Very Important Place - Ranks and Titles of Officers Are Defined.

WASHINGTON. June 28.—Important changes which have been made in the naval regulations by the Bureau of Navigation with the approval of the President and Secretary of the Navy were made public at the Navy Department today. In the revised regulations the general board of the Navy is given a prominent place the revised regulations the general board of the Navy is given a prominent place by the incorporation in the chapter of a paragraph giving the composition of the board and a section defining its duties. The board is to have a membership of seven, as at present, with the Admiral of the Navy at its head.

The duties of the board as given are to devise numerous measures and plans for the effective orenaration and mainten-for the effective preparation and mainten-ance of the fleet for war. Also to advise the fleeretary of the Navy as to its dis-position and distribution, and of the re-inforcements of ships, officers and men of the Navy and marine corps; to prepare and submit to the Secretary plans of campaign, including co-operation with the campaign, including co-operation with the Army, and the employment of all ele-ments of naval defense, such plans to be constantly revised in accordance with the latest information received. It is to consider the number and types of ships proper to constitute the fleet, the number of officers and men required to man them and to advise the Secretary as to estimates thereof to be submitted to Congress, as well as to the location, capacity and protection of coal depots, naval stations, reserves of ordnance and am-munition and supply depots. It is also required to co-ordinate the work of the naval war college, office of several in-telligence and board of inspection and sur-vey, and to report on naval operations, maneavers, tactics, training and such ther subjects as the Secretary may lay

The wearing of swords aboard ship on ordinary occasions has been practically aboliabed by the new wording of the regu-lations respecting their use, a woven service revolver belt and revolver taking the place of the sword. It is explain the department that a sword is an unhandy weapon under modern conditions on board ship or in boats, and it serves no useful purpose on occasions other than those of ceremony. The award will be morn, however, at ceremonies and at in-fantry and artillery drills on shore. The regulations governing visitors going aboard vessels under construction have been revised so as to give such permis-sion only to those known to the senior officer present as American citizens of good standing and repute. Visitors representing foreign governments or known to be other than American citizens, it is provided, shall not be permitted to go aboard such vessels except by permission of the Navy Department, and then shall be accompanied by a naval officer on duty at the works where the vessel is

The ships to which Captains may be or dered to command are limited to battle-ships and armored cruisers, while com-manders have had their duties affoat extended to the protected cruisers of the first rate and Lieutenants are made eligthle for the command, of destroyer or torpedo flotillas.

Articles defining the rank and titles of officers of the line and staff of the Navy have undergone revision, and in a memorandum issued at the Navy Department noting the changes which have been made in the regulations this explanation is "Up to the year 1990 there was little or officers, but during the past four or five years much friction has been created by officers using titles which do not pertain to them or to their duties in the Navy. The amended regulations regarding titles are based upon statute law as interpreted are based upon statute law as interpreted by Attorneys-General."

New provisious made in this connection require that "except when otherwise pro-vided by law or regulation every com-manding officer of the Navy when desigrated by title shall be given the title borne on the face of his commission that indicates his office." and that all officers of the Navy shall be addressed officially of the Navy shall be addressed officially by the titles prescribed in the regula-tions. The article gives the rank and titles of chiefs of bureaus, which has been recust, provides that an officer be-low the rank of rear-admiral filling the office of chief of a bureau shall, while holding such office, have the rank and except as otherwise provided by law or regulation, the title of rear-admiral.

It then prescribes that the chiefs of the bureaus of medicine and surgery, supplies and accounts, steam engineering and construction and repair, while holding and construction and repair, while holding these offices, shall have respectively the titles of surgeon-general, paymaster-gen-eral, engineering chief and chief construc-tor. A staff officer serving as chief of the bureau of docks and yards to retain his title in the corps to which he belongs, and the judge-advocate-general to have the rank and title of captain in the Navy or colonel in the marine corps,

Officers retiring while serving as chiefs of bureaus or as judge-advocate-general retain the rank and titles held while serving. Staff officers on the retired list have the titles appropriate to the corps

CHICAGO, June 28.-The failure of the CHICAGO, June 28.—The failure of the grain and stock brokerage firm of Knight. Donnelly & Co., which occurred several days ago, has assumed gigantic proportions. Although Receiver Potter has not yet finished examination of books of the concern, enough was learned today to approximate the Habilities. They will aggregate not far from $5,000,000. The assets may sum up $15,00,000, although these may dwindle considerably owing to the character of many of the loans made by the firm.

Late tonight it was announced that one of the causes of the failure was a defai-cation of approximately $30,000 by a clerk employed by the firm. R. H. Donnelly, one of the firm, said that if the shortage had been known a few days earlier the bankruptcy proceedings might have been there avoided. The clerk has not been arrested days.
