Probably the most noted visitor to the Exposition yesterday was Rabbi Emil G. Hirsch, the famous Jewish scholar and orator, of Chicago, who is in Portland at the invitation of the directors of the Lewis and Clark Exposition. Rabbi Hirsch preaches the sermon at the Audinext Sunday afternoon at 3:30

Rev. Earl Morse Wilbur, dean Oakland Theological School, will conduct the services. Dr. Hirsch has been the rabbi of the binal Congregation in Chicago since 1880, and is considered the most elequent and most learned as well as the most distinguished Jewish preacher in America. He was president of the Chicago Public Library Board from 1888 to 1897, and is professor of the Rabbinical Philosophy in the University of Chicago. He is distingubhed also as an editor and for interest in all public affairs. Declares It Is Fine.

The people of the Northwest have taken full advantage of the opportunity of showing the Easterners that this part of the country plays an important part in the progress and advancement of these great United States." Dr. Hirsch remarked that the travel from Vancouver, B. C., to Portland was so heavy, that he was una to obtain a sleeper. He was informed by the railroad officials that it would be at least two weeks before he could hope to secure a berth.

Strike Most Unjustifiable.

"Of all the strikes in the history of the United States, the present Chicago strike is the most unjustifiable," said he, Dr. Hirsch is intimately acquainted with the labor troubles in Chicago, as he was endeavored to effect an adjustment of the teamsters' strike. "I am satisfied there is some occult purpose behind the strike. The teamsters first went out on a preto help the garment workers, who willing to come to an agreement after they had been out of work a few

Clark County Sends a Big Contingent to the Centennial.

"Vancouver Grows Without Watching," Causes Jocund Raillery at Parody on Tacoma's Words.

ADMISSIONS, 15,461.

The large contingent of visitors from Vancouver and Clark County helped to swell the attendance at the Expo sition, there being 15.461 admissions to the grounds yesterday.

"Wach Tacoma Grow," which has been very much in evidence at the Exposition for the past several weeks, dwindled into insignificance yesterday upon the arrival in Portland of the Washingtonian neigh-bors from the other side of the Columbia River with the slogan of the day, "Van-couver Grows Without Watching." The popular exploitation phrase of the visitors from Vancouver was everywhere. It was inscribed on huge banners, thousands of posters, dodgers, cards and badges. It was also on the lips of the people, both at the Exposition and on the streets of Portland, for the clever satire on "Watch Tacoma Grow" spread like contagion, infecting with equal enthusiasm men, women and children. Yesterday was Clark County day at the Exposition, and the residents of Vancouver and the surrounding cities in the same vicinity, turned out nearly 2000 strong. Yesterday morning, before the departure of the excursionists to Portland, 1800 badges relating to the exploitation of Clark County were distributed, and there were those who did not receive ribbons. Early yesterday morning, the Vancouver contingent embarked on the ferry and crossed the Columbia River, from where they were carried to Woodlawn. At Woodlawn they boarded a special train of 16 trolley cars. Part of the visitors went on three chartered steamers, entering the grounds at 'the river entrance

With Sixteen Trolley-Cars.

The 16 trolley cars which brought the enthusiastic and eager Vancouverites to Portland yesterday morning were a mass of streamers, banners and bunting. Flags also adorned the cars. Nearly all of the excursionists were equipped with tin horns, which they loudly "tooted" all the way to the Exposition. Along the line and as they were passing through the streets of Portland, the dodgers and posters were scattered by the hundreds. All of the visitors were well supplied, and took pride in trying to distribute the most. As the cars rolled through the down-town streets, they were cheered by the crowds, to which the visitors replied with answer-

Arriving at the main gates of the Exposition, the happy Vancouverites and Clark County visitors formed in a parade Driven Pumps From Transmission Section Cal and marked to the Washington building, preceded by the Administration Band. Here still more cards and posters were ing cities. At night the paper cards literally covered the Exposition grounds. There were fully 1500 people in line at Exposition grounds, the visitors who can the chartered steamers meeting larger party of excursionists at the sas they entered the grounds after sting from the special trolley cars.

At the cast entrance of the Washington lding, the visitors broke ranks to paricipate in the Clark County day exercises. The exercises were held on the east veabout 12 o'clock, in the presence of thou-sands of people. President H. W. Goode delivered the address of welcome to the ouver and Clark County visitors on behalf of the Exposition corporation. He spoke feelingly of the neighboriy spirit that had been shown by the visitors, saywhile the other will inspect the Oregon Water Power & Railway Company's dam and power site at Cazadero. "We feel a personal interest in your great Exposition, being a sister city and separated only by that mighty river, the mbla," said Mayor E. G. Crawford, of Vancouver, who delivered the respond-ing oration. "Our people have assembled here today not only for the purpose of showing our good-will and appreciation of the great Exposition, which has done more to advertise the whole Northwest than anything yet conceived, but also to pay tribute to the public-spirited men who have made this Exposition possible.

"We doff our hats to him who conceived the idea of holding such an Exposition; Dan McAllen, the irrepressible; to the memory of the first president of the or-ganization, the lamented H. W. Corbett, whose indorsement and munificent sub scription gave impetus at its very birth; to your public-spirited citizen, H. W. Scott, the able editor of the greatest newspaper west of Chicago, and the peer of any published elsewhere, thus combini personal efforts with the intensifying power of the press; to your energetic president, H. W. Goode, and his corps of officers and assistants, whose efforts have made possible the unqualified success of the Exposition; and last, but not least, to your enterprising business men, whose liberal support has insured its unmeasured

"The year 1906 will mark a new epoch n the growth and development of the Pacific Northwest, and we of Vancouver hope to share our proportion of the development. Without being even the son of a prophet, I venture the assertion that the population of Portland will double in the next decade, and I can see no reason why Vancouver should not keep pace with her big sister. We expect to have a bridge across the Columbia within the next few years as well as sa railroad down the north bank of the Columbia, and when this comes to pass we hope to participate with Portland and the cities on Puget Sound in the shipment abroad of the products of the Inland Empire, now being so rapidly developed.
