OLD RESIDENT BURIED.-The funeral o Deacon C. F. Plympion, a resident of Portland for the past 25 years, was held yesterday afternoon from the Hassalo-Street Congregational Church, of which he had been a prominent member since he came to Portland. A very touching service came to Portland. A very touching service was conducted, and a large audience was present. Many beautiful tributes were received and placed on the casket. Rev. Charles E. Chase, present pastor, assisted by Rev. Daniel Staver, of Forest Grove, conducted the services. His work in the church, of which he had been a constant official member from the time he came to Portland, was set forth by the pastors, and his blameless life was held up as an example worthy of emulation. At the close the interment took place in Lone Fir Cemetery.

OLD HEIDELBERG.

Turner Halle Annex Transformed Into Unique European Tavern.

Another evidence of Portland's advance-ment along metropolitan lines is to be found in "Old Heidelberg," the appropriate name given to the transformed Turner Halle Annex, corner of Fourth and Yamhill streets, which will be thrown open to the public this afternoon. One can well imagine himself in one of the far-famed taverns of the fatherland upon entering Old Heidelberg, every detail of the con-struction, furnishings, decorations, etc., struction. furnishings. decorations, etc., being true to the famous originals. The furniture, of weathered oak, is old Rhine-tsh in design, the chairs being high backed and most comfortable. The metal-arched ceiling is a work of art in itself, while the rarest taste is shown in the freecoe work and wall decorations, which include reproductions of characteristic tavern access. Another attractive feature of Old nes. Another attractive feature of Old Heidelberg is the artistic glass front, many thousand pieces of glass rondels being used in bringing out the effective The citizens of Portland will no doubt congratulate Messrs. Charles Kerchner and Henry Hanno, the popular proprietors of Tuener Halle, for giving this city this of Turner Halle, for giving this city this most attractive tavern, which has taken the place of private boxes, in compliance with the city ordinances, and which is intended only for ladies and gentlemen. Fine lunches and imported Rhine wines and beers will be features of Old Heidelberg's bill of fare. Old Heidelberg, being different from onything else in the tavern line in this city, promises a distinct charm of its own, and a cordial invitation is extended the citizens of Portland to inspect it.
