

WILL SEND NO KING

Oscar Refuses to Furnish Norway a Sovereign.

MAINTAINS HIS POSITION

Dethroned King Will Not Let Son or Grandson Rule Norway—Appeals to Constitution—Swedish Army Mobilizing.

STOCKHOLM, July 4.—King Oscar granted a private audience to the correspondent of the Associated Press at the royal palace today. In a lengthy conversation His Majesty expressed his views on the situation, and said emphatically that he would never allow any of his sons or his grandsons to accept the Norwegian throne.

"When the King of Norway considers that the welfare of the country demands that he shall veto a bill passed by the Storting, his right to do so is unconditional and he would be false to his oath if he did not exercise this right in accordance with his conscience."

"The constitution gives the Storting the power to pass a measure over my veto, prescribing, however, that this can only be done by a bill having been passed by three consecutively elected Stornings. The Consular bill was only passed by one Storting."

"As King of Norway, it was of the utmost necessity that I should always keep before my eyes the first article of the Norwegian Constitution, which reads: 'The Kingdom of Norway is an independent, indivisible and inalienable country, united to Sweden under one King.' Therefore it was imperative, before approving a bill separating the consular system of Sweden and Norway, that I should consider the welfare and interests of both countries, and I had a perfect right as King of Norway to refuse my sanction to any such bill."

"The refusal of the Norwegian Cabinet to counter-sign my veto was inexcusable, as the constitution prescribes that the King may decide according to his judgment and that all his orders must be counter-signed by the Cabinet."

"Thus the Norwegian constitution, my own conscience and my consideration of the welfare of both kingdoms were the guide to my action in vetoing the Consular bill."

"This is the first interview granted by King Oscar to any correspondent."

NOT PREPARING FOR CONFLICT

Norway and Sweden Only Carrying on Army Maneuvers.

CHRISTIANIA, July 4.—There has been no mobilization whatever in Norway or Sweden. Of the Norwegian army units in both countries only contingents have been called together for the ordinary exercises. In Norway these exercises are taking place on the usual drill grounds. Some few companies of Swedish troops are watching three Swedish companies coming from Norway, but these troops are some distance from the frontier.

SWEDES CALLED TO ARMS.

Army Will Mobilize to Give Force to Her Terms.

STOCKHOLM, July 4.—The Associated Press is in a position to state that an order for the mobilization of the Swedish army has been issued, and that a proclamation to this effect will probably be issued within a week. The mobilization is intended as a means of giving added force to any proposal for settlement which the special committee appointed by the Riksdag may make to the Norwegian Storting.

Prepares to Fight Hungary.

LONDON, July 4.—The correspondent of the Daily Mail at Vienna asserts that Archduke Francis Ferdinand has initiated military preparation with a view to the eventualities of Hungary attempting to recede from the dual monarchy.

CHURCH AND STATE DIVIDED

Complete Freedom of Religion Provided by French Bill.

PARIS, July 4.—The text of the bill separating church and state has been almost completely revised by the committee, with the consent of the House, since its introduction. The broad principle of reform, however, is permitted to stand, fulfilling the long-expressed desire of advanced Republicans to see the state entirely untrammelled by connection with any religion or sect. The system swept away by this bill dates from 1801, when the famous concordat was signed by Pius VII and Napoleon. This gave religion governmental status, the churches being government property with the clergy paid by the state and the entire church administration being under the direction of a member of the president's cabinet. The general principle of the measure as adopted by the Chamber is as follows:

"The republic assures liberty of conscience and guarantees the free exercise of religion, subject to the restrictions of public order. The republic neither recognizes stipends nor subsidies any sect, but provides funds for college, hospital and asylum chaplains.

The most active contest took place over the proposition whereby the priceless riches of the church, consisting of collections made during many centuries of paintings, tapestries and statuary were to be passed to the state. This was finally modified so that civil organizations retain the goods of the church.

One of the last amendments adopted prohibited members of the clergy from holding municipal offices during the eight years succeeding the adoption of the law.

ALL PLOT OF GOVERNMENT

English Correspondent Says Police Provoked Rebel Outbreak.

English Correspondent Says Police Provoked Rebel Outbreak.

LONDON, July 4.—(Special.)—The Standard today prints a sensational story from its Odessa correspondent, who declares that he has unimpeachable authority for the statement that the Russian government brought to a head the revolutionary movement in Odessa and that its agents engineered the recent insurrection which cost thousands of lives. The story declares that 150 agents provocateurs belonging to the Third district, disguised as peasants, lived among the working people for many months and got to know all of the secret movements of the Social Democratic revolutionaries. The arrival of the rebel ship Potemkin, which was expected, gave the agents a plausible story to tell to the Odessa people and incite them to mob violence. The correspondent declared that the whole Black Sea fleet had mutilated and would soon arrive in Odessa to join the Socialists there.

Early in the afternoon the people moved to great hopes by the stories of the agents, began the outbreak. They pillaged the warehouses on the water front and the torch was applied to the buildings. The arrival of the rebel ship Potemkin, which was expected, gave the agents a plausible story to tell to the Odessa people and incite them to mob violence. The correspondent declared that the whole Black Sea fleet had mutilated and would soon arrive in Odessa to join the Socialists there.

The correspondent says that he has it from numerous eye-witnesses that no less than 7000 persons were killed during the 30 awful hours of the night's massacre. Among the killed were numbered the three officers of the hematology institute, the waters of the harbor to escape the terrible fire of the machine guns. At daybreak the streets were strewn with the bodies of dead and in order to get rid of them it is reported that the czar's police threw thousands of bodies into the glowing heaps of burning buildings along the water front. It is claimed that in this way four-fifths of the dead were disposed of without burial.

This manner of butchery, it is said, was designed at St. Petersburg and secretly engineered by the czar's police. An actual method of crushing out the insurrection in South Russia.

Rebels Proclaim General Strike.

ST. PETERSBURG, July 4.—The executive committee of the Social Revolutionists has issued a stirring appeal summoning the workmen and all classes of society interested in the overthrow of the present regime to show sympathy with all those who fought for freedom at Lodz, Warsaw, Odessa and other places, as well as with the sailors who mutinied at Odessa and Libau, by inaugurating a general political strike. The workmen's leaders here have supplemented this by the proclamation of a general strike for Thursday. Over 25,000 men are already out, and more or less disorder has occurred.

Pianos from North Beach points to be returned on the last trip of the Fourth of July.

Small Debts to Other Banks.

A statement was published yesterday to the effect that Mr. Devlin owed other banks in Topeka nearly a half million dollars. This proves to be greatly over-estimated. Mr. Devlin's obligations to all the other banks in this city than the First National do not aggregate as much as $100,000. F. W. Freeman, cashier of the Merchant National, said today: "We have no loan of Mr. Devlin personally; one of his companies some time ago borrowed $3000 from our bank, but this loan is secured by gilt-edged collateral worth as much as the bank loaned him. That is the extent of our dealings with Mr. Devlin and his companies."

May Save Devlin Property.

A determined effort is being made by the Devlin interests to pull out of the hole a committee of creditors and the creditors of the Devlin estate will make every possible effort to save it from insolvency. The committee representing the chief creditors intend to raise all the money needed to safeguard the interests of the people to whom Mr. Devlin owes money. The committee will act in conjunction with the creditors that have been formed to handle the Devlin estate. With the interests of the creditors safeguarded by the committee, trustees may be appointed to handle the difficulty in getting the corporation started and bringing the Devlin business out of its present difficulties without insolvency. It is not known just how much money will be needed, but it is thought that something like $250,000 will be sufficient.

Bank Cannot Reopen.

C. S. Glead stated that in his opinion the First National Bank would not be able to resume business if the condition of the bank: The obligations to depositors amount to about $1,200,000. Against these deposits there is the property transferred yesterday and the other Topeka real estate securities turned over to the bank by Mr. Devlin, amounting in all to $300,000. In addition there are the insurance policies turned in by Mr. Devlin, the actual cash value of which is stated at about $200,000. The assets of the bank, exclusive of the Devlin property turned in yesterday, amount to $1,650,000. Of this there is Devlin collateral with a par value of $600,000. The actual cash value of this collateral cannot yet be determined. The other notes held by the bank amount to $200,000. At the time the bank was closed yesterday morning there was approximately $150,000 in cash on hand.

Mrs. Devlin's Sacrifice.

The men engaged in clearing up the affairs of the First National Bank praise the participation of Mrs. C. J. Devlin in her husband's affairs. The insurance policies which she assigned for the benefit of the creditors were entirely hers and might have been held for herself, clear of all connection with the bank. She has assigned them to the insurance, except that which went to the children. The same is true of her dower interest in $769,000 worth of real estate.

PETERMAN'S ROACH FOOD. A BOON TO HOUSEKEEPERS. The most improved method to free a house of large or small roaches is to use the contents of a box of "Peterman's Roach Food" at one time. Shake it on joints so some of it will penetrate and remain to keep the premises continuously free of roaches. It is as effective as any other remedy on the market, and it will not scatter them in other places to live on and multiply. It is a quick-killing cream, is invaluable to kill bedbugs, and is equally effective with brush on beds when apart, on backs, and in picture frames, mouldings, etc. It will remain permanent, and is the only remedy that kills those that go over where it has been lightly brushed on. It will not rust iron, harm furniture or bedding. Peterman's "Discovery" (liquid) in flexible cans handy to force in joints for quick application, will kill bedbugs and their eggs instantly. Peterman's "Anti Food"—A strong powder to kill and drive away ants. Peterman's "Rat-mouse Food" makes rats or mice wild; they will leave and not return. Take no other, as time may be even more important than money.
