ESCAPE IN TWO ROWBOATS

Two Japanese in Gang, Who Break Partitions Between Cells and Pry Apart Steel Plates on the Roof.

TACOMA, July 4 .- One of the most daring jall breaks ever recorded in the Northwest took place at about midnight last night at the Federal Prison, at McNell's Island, and eight desperate criminals, serving terms of from one year to 20 years, are now at large. Thuse who es-

Incomy Wade was the ringleader of the gang and the convicts centered their plans of escape about his cell. The partitions be tween the cells were of brick. Wade was in cell 15, and McCarty cut through the partition of cell 47 into Wade's cell. Malone cut through cell 20 into cell 35, and then, together, with Stickney, who was in cell 15, out through into cell 15, The four convicts who were in the secon tler of cells then cut their way through the roof into the third fler, where Convict Leslie was in cell 21. The two Japanes were imprisoned in cell 33, and cut their way into cell 32. Castle was imprisoned in cell II, and cut his way through into cell 12, where all of the escaped conv essembled and broke through the roof. nvicts

The roof was of sheet steel, one-fourth f an inch thick. One of the sheets of steel was bent downward and the other pushed up, and through this opening the convicts left the prison.

Once on the roof, the convicts scaled the walls with ropes made from blankets in their cells. Two of the men had also made clothing of their blankets before the cecape was made. Everything would indicate that the men, immediately upon get-ting on the outside, made their way to wharf and boarded the Government ach Irms. This they attempted to man, 2700 but failed to handle it right, with the result that the dynamo broke and left them stranded.

Not discouraged by this failure, the con-victs worked the sounch near shore, disembarked and bounded two rowboats, which were tied to shore. It is presumed they then rowed out until daybreak, when they put up at some beach and started out in quest of clothing. If they again take to the boats, it is thought they will not do so until after dark.

George Wade is supposed by the United States Marshal's office to be the leader of the gang. He has given the Federal offiers a good deal of trouble during the last 14 years, and has made four escapes.

statutes respecting gambling, whether in Oregon City or elsewhere in Clackamas County, will be considered, and, when ac-companied by sufficient evidence, will be thoroughly and vigorously prosecuted," stated Deputy District Attorney C. Schue-bel today. In so declaring himself Mr. Schuebel is acting under instructions from District Attorney Allen. Sheriff Shaver stands ready to enforce the mandates of he district prosecutor. This ultimatum is final, and the result will unquestionably be the suppression of gambling of all kinds throughout the county. Evidence upon which to base and substantiate a formal complaint has been gathered, and the issuance of information against all violators in the county, no excepting the Milwaukle poolroom man-agement, it is rumored, will take place within a few days. Said Mr. Schuebel: "Oregon City is now paying more than 200 per month for police protection and the enforcement of laws. It is the duty of these officers to do so, but if they are in-competent and refuse to enforce the laws as they are awayn to do, and insist on putting the situation up to the District Attorney, Mr. Allen will act.
