DUNBAR TO RULE STATE FOR MONTH

Democrats Wonder What Will Happen if Senatorial Vacancy Occurs.

CHAMBERLAIN GOING AWAY

Possibility of Senator Mitchell Resigning Arouses Speculation as to Democrats Who Might

Be Chosen

Uneasiness rules the Democratic camp. because Governor Chamberlain is about to leave the state for a month or more while he revels in the joys of Elkdom and permits the reins of government to rest in the hands of F. I. Dunbar, Republican Secretary of State. The Democratic pulse is beating more hurriedly under the inspiration due to the remote chance of the appointment of a Democratic Senator, and jealous eyes are fixed upon the Gub ernatorial chair lest it be shorn of its Democratic Influence at an unexpected and critical time. but then it is argued that the Republicans are naughty people, and would do anything to "do" a Democrat. Therefore they would take a chance at cheating the party out of a possible Senator if circumstances should shape themselves to give the opportunity. If Senator Mitcheil should re-sign, or if the Senate should ask for his regignation or any other accident hannen to empty the position he now holds, and the Governor should be out of the state and out of reach, it is feared by the Democrats that Secretary of State Dunbar would use his constitutional right as de facto Governor and name a Republican to serve for the remaining time left Sen-

Prominent Democrats in Line.

At least six men in the ranks of the Oregon Democracy are being mentioned as possibilities for Senatorial honors, provided the opportunity for their appointment should arise. First, perhaps, comes the name of Colonel James H. Raley, of Pendleton. He has been at the head of the Eastern Oregon wing of the party for many years, and has stood high in the councils of the clan throughout the state for as long. During the serious illness of Senator Mitchell a few years ago, be was mentioned very prominently as the choice of the Governor for appointment had the need for appointment arisen, and it is probable that had Senator Mitchell died at that time, the Eastern Oregon lawyer would have now been Senator from

C. E. S. Wood, of Portland, is also on the list of eligibles. No one doubts that he is qualified for the position, and could meet the calls failing to the duty of a Senator, but, it is thought, his radical ideas on many questions place him under a handicap in the race, should it be run. He was indersed as the candidate for United States Senator by the Democratic party at the last state election,

Friend of the Governor.

John M. Gearin, of Portland, is a warm friend of the Governor, and has been his able supporter and lieutenant, and is also named as one who would receive the serious consideration of the Chief Executive of the state.

A. S. Bennett, of The Dalles, is also in the running, though it is thought probable that his connection with Senator Mitchell In the land fraud case just finished and in others yet to come would influence the Governor against his appointment, not that such connection affects him here, but that it might cast some shadow upon his influence with the Administration.

W. H. Holmes, of Salem, one of the fathers of the old-time Oregon Democracy, is another who is made bright by the reflection of probability. Mr. Holmes is an old-time Democrat, a lawyer of the and who wields influence with more than his party following. He, too, is spoken of by those who seek to name the lucky man that might be.

John H. Smith, of Astoria, ex-State Senstor from Clatson County, and one of the Democratic leaders from his section of the state, is also close to the Governor and stands under the shadow. Mathink he would trot well in harness with the other Senator from Astoria.

Judge Thomas O'Day, another of the Portland possibilities, is now in the lime light, and his friends, many of them, look upon him as a man to be favored by the Governor, provided the Governor should

Besides these are many others throughout the state who are being mentioned, the ranks of those who might be measured

IN THE MUNICIPAL COURT

At the age of 25 years, William O'Brien did not know a skyrocket when he saw one. At least, that is what he declared to Judge Cameron yesterday, when ar-raigned on a charge of violating the ordi-nance regulating firecrackers.

Do you mean to tell the court that you have lived 25 years and yet do not know what a skyrocket is?" queried Deputy City Attorney Pitzgeraid of O'Brien. That is exactly what I mean to tell,"

was the reply, "Your fine will be $10," pronounced Judge Cameron, without a moment's hesi-Sergeant of Police Taylor was the arresting officer. He said O'Brien was en-dangering life and limb when taken into Others who celebrated the Fourth of

R. Crampton, who was arrested by Policeman Price, failed to appear, and his bail of $19 was forfeited. He was taken into custody at Fifth and Alder streets for discharging a revolver, loaded with blank cartridges. He was another Fourth of July enthusiast.

Apos Polos, a Greek, was the only person arrested July 4 for selling explosives and 1:30 P. M. Leave Voncouver, 10 A. M. contrary to regulations of the ordinance. He was arrested by Policeman Riley at that he did not know just what the law was concerning firecrackers, and that he consideration of this, Judge Cameron placed the fine at $5. A Fourth of July incident not down on he regular programme occurred late in the afternoon when a clash took place between Mrs. James M. Jordan and Mrs. Minnie Ball. Children of the latter en-tered the Jordan yard at East Forty-third and Alder street and caused the trouble. When Mr. Jordan came home the row was in progress. He was angered at it. and its said to have informed Mrs. Ball to go home. There may have been some superfluous talk, in fact it was slieged that he called Mrs. Ball "an old hen." This was too much for mertal to bear, and when Mr. Ball reached home and learned of the affair, he swore out a war-rant for Mr. Jordan and had him arrested When the case was called yesterday, Mr. Ball was not present to presente, and the case was dismissed.

James Higgins, of Spokane, was called to the stand to testify in the case against E. T. Sprague, charged with the theft of a gold nugget from the Klondike exhibit on the Trail at the Lewis and Clark Ex-

Higgins declared that he saw Sprague take a nugget from the exhibit, slip it into his vest pocket, change it to his trousers pocket and again to his coat

When arrested, Sprague had the nugget in the pocket of his coat, and was locked up on the charge of theft. Sprague claims he was given the nugget in San Fran-cisco, by a friend.

Sprague is employed by a sewing ma chine company, and worked at the Fair exhibit for some time, he states. He positively denies the charge of theft, and says it is a case of mistaken identity of the nugget. The case will be heard again this morning.

Judge Cameron yesterday demonstrated ored thieves in Portland, neither to permit them to dictate to him or to annoy citizens. He fined Lizzie Davenport $60 on a charge of vagrancy, because it was her second appearance before him, and fined two other women $10 each on a simeron asked whether the two women arrested with Lizzie Davenport wished to leave the city or be fined.

"I don't want any one to tell me when to leave town." Teplied one of the women, whereupon Judge Cameron fined her and

Judge Cameron's act was commented upon by policemen who were present. They were highly pleased, for negroes of both sexes have been swarming in from all directions for several weeks, and have ecome very Insolent in the North End districts. It was common talk among them that they proposed to renew their activity here, and to demand more liberty than formerly. Many of them have been very insulting to policemen, and some have even threatened to have certain officers removed from the beats for inter-

Lizzie Davenport was originally arrested by Sergeaut Hogeboom and Policemen Sloan and Daiy, on a charge of robbery. She was accused of taking $60 from Fred Williams, but when it came to a show-down, he refused to prosecute, and that charge was dismissed.

W. M. Davis appeared as counsel for the women, and appealed the Davenport

SENTENCED TO SIX MONTHS, SERVED THREE.

Governor Chamberlain Grants Freedom Upon Recommendation of District Attorney Manning.

Willard Hill, a young man from As-oria, sentenced in March last by Judge Hogue in the Municipal Court onths on the rock pile for living off the earnings of a fallen woman, was released from custody yesterday by Sherlff Word, Governor Chamberlain having granted Hill a pardon on the recommendation of District Attorney Manning. Hill's sentence would have expired on September 11.

After his conviction in the Police

Hill appealed to the State Circuit Court, and endeavored to escape punishment by marrying the woman. Judge Hogue objected and the marriage ceremony was not performed. Failing in his attempt to fix up the case, Hill withdrew his appeal, and was resentenced by Judge George. While working on the rock pile Hill endeavored to create trouble for J. F. Johnson, one of the guards, by making a statement that Johnson had writ-ten to Hill's brother in Astoria and received money from him. Johnson w the money he received. Johnson denied the story.
