Max Bailey Figures in It as Co-Respondent.

WITNESSES FOR HUSBAND

One Testifies That Mrs. Suess Said She Would Rather Live on Bread and Water With

Bailey Than at Home.

At the trial before Judge Sears yesterday of the divorce suit of William Suess against May L. Suess, the co-respondent, Max Bailey, was a conspicuous figure in the testimony given by numerous witnesses. They saw him at dances with Mrs. Suess and at her home when her husband was not there. The litigents were marired in Port-land on Christmas day, 1894, and have no children. Suess is employed as a sawyer at Inman, Poulsen & Co.'s mill, and receives a salary of $175 a month. The evidence showed that he provided liberally for his wife and owned a neat home in Feurer's addition. There is no disparagement in the ages of the parties, but a certain degree of incomnights to go out with her friends. At dances Max Bailey was her most constant attendant. A witness for Suess testified that on one occasion she called on Mrs. Suess

Mrs. Elia Bartlett, who is a sister of Mrs. Suess, and her husband, H.-W. Bartlett, both testified to having called on Mrs. Suess at 327 Salmon street, at the residence of Mrs. Kyle, another sister, since the divorce suit was commenced, and found Max Bailey there,

Miss Kate Hannegan was an interonce lived at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Suess and went to dances with her afterwards. They were good friends. The witness knew Max Bailey and met him at dances when he paid attention to Mrs. Suess and accompanied her home. On one occasion the three went boat-riding together, and Mrs. Suess took a seat in the boat from where, as she re-marked, "she could look at Bailey." Miss Hannegan also testified that Mrs. Suess confided in her that she loved Bailey and hoped her husband would get killed in the mil so that she could narry Balley.

Several witnesses gave testimony that when she went to the coast, Mrs. posed as an unmarried woman and did not want to be addressed as Mrs. or to receive letters so addressed.

E. E. Thomas, a brother-in-law of Mrs. Suess, testified that she told him she loved Bailey and would rather live on bread and water with Balley than in good home furnished by her husband. Thomas said he told her if she would supply the bread Max would probably furnish the water. Thomas further testified that about a year ago Mrs. Suess told him she was going to San Francisco after she obtained a divorce from her husband to marry a man named Mattoon. Various other witnesses testified, including Miss Nellie Coucher, Mrs. A. Coucher, Joseph Fay, J. H. Turner, Delis Krantz and James sterson. They all knew Max Bailey. The trial will be resumed today. CLUBS FOR BOYS PLANNED

Consideration.

As an adjunct to the Juvenile Court Judge Frazer is planning the organiza-tion of a Juvenile Aid Association, the purpose of which will be to form boys into clubs of various kinds, and to break up gangs of boys which encourage bad practices and lawbreaking. Baseball clubs will be organized, and swimming and oth-er sports encouraged under proper con-Recently 52 boys were arrested for swimming who had no bathing suits. They explained that they had to walk four miles to reach the free baths, as all live distant at the North End, and even if they had bathing suits there was no place to dress and undress. Judge Fre zer has arranged to hold a meeting with the boys Saturday, and to have a house erected which they may use in dressing Edward Holman, who is at the head of the Free Bath Association, has subscribed $50 for the purpose.

STIFF BREEZE INTERFERED

Why Blaze of Red Light on Hood Was Not Seen.

George M. Weister and E. H. Mooreouse have returned from their Mount Hood trip, where they went to set off the red fire on the night of July 4. They made the trip successfully, ried 50 pounds of red fire to the highest point of the mountain and lighted it at exactly 9 o'clock on the night of the Fourth. While it was not noticeable from the Exposition grounds, many people who were in town saw the light distinctly, and from The Dalles and Hood River it gave a brilliant illumipatibility. They quarreled frequently, and Mrs. Suess took advantage of the absence of her husband at the mill tain at the time, fanning the flame of nights to see out with her friends. ster and Mr. Moorehouse are convinced tain at the time, fanning the flame of the fire down and out instead of allowing it to blaze up and show a broad surface of light, that the illumination from Portland would have been entirely satisfactory. The lights of the and was unable to engage her in conversation. The next day she met Mrs. Suess and learned that the reason she refused to talk was because she had refused to talk was because she had refused to talk was because she had refused to talk was because in the mination of The Oregonian building and of the 1955 sign from the other. at the Fair grounds each night were so plainly visible that the long flash of light across the sky which they make could be seen moving about as the lights were turned. Mr. Moorehouse says if a powerful searchlight was placed on the summit of Mount Hood miles around the country and prove one of the greatest advertisements for the Northwest which man could

BECAUSE HE OWED BILL

Guard Arrested for Not Paying for His Board.

It is believed that Guard Dudley Beamer, of the Lewis and Clark Exposition staff, will not be prosecuted on the charge of owing a board bill of $6, for which he was arrested while on duty in the Mining building late Wednesday night. It is thought the matter will be adjusted nicipal Judge Cameron yesterday, Deputy District Attorney Haney stated that it would have to be postponed until Saturday, Major McDonell, commanding the Exposition Guards, took upon himself the responsibility of producing Beamer in court, and the guard was released on his own recognizance Guard Beamer was arrested by Ser-geant of Police Baty, commanding the first relief at the Upshur-street station, and not by Patrolman Raney, as previously published. Rancy Beamer to headquarters, as a matter of accommodation, after Sergeant Baty had made the arrest inside the Mining building. made by me," said Sergeant Baty yes terday. "I went personally and served the warrant on Beamer. I have had much experience in military life, and it Annex to Juvenile Court Is Under from duty without first seeing to it that his place was filled by another guard. The arrest was not known at guard headquarters at the time, for Beamer would borrow the money to pay the board bill and perhaps settle the matter that way.

"After a guard had taken Beamer's place in the Mining building, I took Beamer to the Upshur-street station and asked him if he wished to go to headquarters in a wagon, or to ride on to accommodate him, I detailed Patrolman Raney to escort him."

Italian Officers on River Trip.

An executive committee composed of nant, entertained the officers of the Italian cruiser Umbria by a trip up the Columbia through the Cascade Locks and back yesterlay on the Balley Gat-zert. The officers from the cruiser who made the trip were: Commander Cav. Carlo De Luca, Lieutenant G. Manzoni, Lieutenant C. de F. Cinstano, Second Lieutenant Guiseppe R, Briscia, Second Lieutenant Filippo Alberlelli, Captalu Alfreda Luzzati, Sub-Lieutenant Raffaele Cada. Accompanying the executive committee as guests were the fol-lowing ladies: Mrs. S. A. Arata, Mrs. Marie Aliman, Mrs. Jennie Wagner, Mrs. Jennie Anderson, Miss Elsie Giannini. The officers were greatly pleased with the trip and took many photographs of the scenery while on the Street-Car Record Is Broken.

Cars of the Portland Consolidated Railway Company carried 60 per cent more engers Tuesday last than were car ried by the two street railway companies on the corresponding date of last year and fully 20 per cent more than on the first day of the Fair when the entire population of the city seemed to have turned out to witness the street parade. While figures are not given out it is understood that more than 200,000 passengers were handled during the day and the only line on which cars were run later than usual was that to St. Johns, extra chry went to the barns without any necessity for making a trip. It is a record of in-terurban traffic that will probably not be broken for a long time.
