mailcar and the special car Jollet, con-taining Dr. Frank Billings, of Chicago, and a party of physicians on the way to the flames. The officials of the road here say that it was a miracle that numbers were not killed, as the train was running at a high rate of speed when it left the rails. According to their report, there was no spreading of the ralls, and they are un-able to account for the accident. As the cars left the track they partially up-ended, but did not break in two.

Most of the injured suffered from burns the flames spreading so rapidly that many were scorched before they could be removed from the wreckage. Dr. Blillngs and the physicians in his party at once took charge of the injured and dressed their wounds, pending the arrival of a relief train from Williston. All of the injured were able to resume their journey today except C. H. Stricker who is reported to be in a serious condi-tion. He was in the baggage-car, on his from St. Paul to Boise Idaho and way was badly cut and bruised. All mail and baggage was saved.

Linievitch Claims Crushing Victory

ST. PETERSBURG, July 6 .- General Linievitch, in a telegram to the Emperor dated July 5, and confirming the defeat of the Japanese at Sanvantse, when a Japanese battalion was annihilated, says that after the capture of the position and the flight of the Japanese, the latter were reinforced and resumed the fight, but all their attacks were repulsed.

The Russians captured considerable juantities of supplies, and held the position until ordered to retire. The Japanese losses, General Linievitch says, were enormous. Many Russians were wounded in such a manner as to prove that the Japa-nese were using dumdum bullets.

Direct Primary and the Senatorship

SALEM, Or., July 6-(To the Editor.)-In The Oregonian this morning there is a discussion of the probable effect of the direct primary law upon the question of electing United States Senators, and it is sugers in the war contributed by Americans second that the Legislative candidate who and Japanese realized 10.200 yen. This sum pledges himself to vote for that man for Senator who receives the most votes at the primaries will be sure of success. Let us suppose that there are two candidates for the Legislature from Multnomah County. One candidate pledges himself to support that man for United States Senator the receives the largest vote in the state at the Republican primaries. The other says, I am not answerable to anybody out-side of Multhomah County and I shall outof Multnomah County, and I shall sup port for Senator that man who carries the largest vote in Multnomah County without reference to the vote in the state at large. other things being equal, does anyone suppose that the man who takes the latter po-sition will not be elected? The direct primary law will not obliterate factional lines. Multinomah County may strongly favor a man whom Clackamas County bitterly opposes, and the representatives of the two countles going to the Legislature to represent their constituents cannot harmonize upon the favorite candidate of either county. Thus, working at cross purposes, these two Representatives Secret fraternities are especially con-cross purposes, these two Representatives will be faithfully representing their re-spective constituents, and either one, or

livered an address on "Secret Societies in Secondary Schools." He said: The committee, after carefully reviewing former investigations on secret societies in secondary schools, report that these societies should be discouraged for the following reasons:

Because they are unnecessary in high schools; because they are factional and sti up strife and contention; because they form premature and unnatural friendships; because they are selfish; because they are snobbish; because they dissipate energy and proper ambition; because they set wrong standards of excellence; because they ar narrow: because rewards are not based on meril, but on fraternity vows; because they inculcate a feeling of self-sufficiency in the members, because they lessen frankness and condiality toward teachers; because they are hidden and inculcate dark lantern methods; because they faster a feeling of self-importance; because high school boys are too young for club life; because they: foster the tobacco habit; cause they are expensive and foster habits of extravagance; because of the changing membership from year to year making then liable to bring discredit and disgrace to the school: because they weaken the efficiency of, and bring politics into the legitimate organizations of the school; and because they demined in public schools which are essen-tially democratic, and should not be breed-ing-places for social differentiation. The something to rouse them to a lasting sense of their vast duties as Christians," said Bishop Joseph F. Berry, president of the Epworth League, today. "Our church, as well as other churches, is so permeated with the spirit of commercialism that the spirit of Christ is crowded into the background. Thirst for wealth and social position seems to have a strong hold on the minds of cur young people and heroic measures are necessary to keep them from being swept away on the great wave of commercial ism. I am optimistic, however, and am hopeful for the future." The league has now about 1,080,000 mem-bers. Bishop Berry said, and is con-
