Members of the house of delegates, the legislative and business body of the Amer-ican Medical Association, was called to order for the fifty-sixth annual convention in the Chamber of Commerce auditorium, at 11:10 o'clock, yesterday morning. President J. H. Musser presided, and the opening proceeding was the annual address, in which the delegates were felici-tated upon the achievements of the year and timely suggestions given for future

The house of delegates is organized to dispose of the matters pertaining to the annual sessions of the association that would entall interminable debate if taken to the floor of the convention, and is the branch that discharges all business relities of the organization. Reports returned are usually concurred in, as in other legislative bodies, and the house is, therefore, the most influential gathering of medical men of the continent, with powers only second to that of the entire organization, and in many features superior, because it is the division to which is

Basis of Representation.

Under the basis of representation in the house of delegates, a total rollcall of 159 may be attained but the highest ever recorded by the secretary was at Atlantic City, where 16 responded. The Portland gathering will not fall far short of that, for up to last evening 80 had placed their names on the registration list. Numbers of members are yet to arrive from C. Morris.

Beginning today, sessions of the house of delegates will be held only in the afternoon, convening daily at 2 o'clock, and in order to be more convenient to the sec-tions and general headquarters, will meet in a room of the Atkinson School instead of at the Chamber of Commerce.

Dyspepsia of Women ABSOLUTELY NEEDLESS AGONY

Caused by Uterine Disorders and Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound A great many women suffer with a form of indigestion or dyspepsia which does not seem to yield to ordinary treatment. While the symptoms seem to be similar to those of ordinary indigestion as the medicines universally are tion, yet the medicines universally pre-scribed do not seem to restore the pa-tient's normal condition.

Mrs. Pinkham claims that there is kind of dyspepsia that is caused by a derangement of the female organism, and which, while it causes a disturbance similar to ordinary indigestion, cannot be relieved without a medicine which not only acts as a stomach tonic but has peculiar uterine-tonic effects

As proof of this theory we call attention to the case of Mrs. Maggie Wright, Brooklyn, N. Y. who was completely cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound after everything else had failed. She writes:

thing else had failed. She writes:

"For two years I suffered with dyspepsia which so degenerated my entire system that I was unable to attend to my dally duties. I felt weak and nervous, and nothing that I ste tasted good and it caused's disturbance in my stomach. I tried different dyspepsia cures, but nothing seemed to help me. I was advised to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial, and was happily surprised to find that it acted like a fine tonic, and in a few days I began to enjoy and properly digest my food. My recovery was rapid, and is five weeks I was a well woman. I have recommended it to many suffering women."

No other medicine in the world has received such widespread and unquali-received such widespread and unquali-fied endorsement, or has such a record of cures of female troubles, as has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.
