from the official daily programme.

The price of night admission to the Lewis and Clark Exposition will be 25 cents hereafter. The new admission rate was announced yesterday afternoon by Exposition President H. W. Goode, and went into effect last evening for the first time at 6 o'clock. Hereafter the 50 cent rate will be dropped at 6 P. M., with the closing of the exhibits palaces.

The reduction follows the request made several days ago by Trail concessionaires plained to the Exposition man gement that people seemed unwilling to art with a half-dollar in the evening en the buildings are mostly closed.

Urged Sunday Opening.

At the same time they urged that they se allowed to keep open on Sundays, protesting their incomes were not large. While the request for the reduced night rate has been allowed it is not believed that Sunday opening will be tolerated. At least, there is strong opposition to it to open the Trail on that day would meet be made by the Exposition to the Trail men. The reduced night rate will undoubtedly have the effect of stimulating night attendance. Thousands of local people may be a compared to the congress of property of the property o night attendance. Thousands of local people may be willing to pay the new price of admission, and the reaction of Trall should be favorable. The Fair should now become generally popular as place for an evening's entertainment. As another incentive to night atten-nnce, arrangements are now being made to keep the Museum of Arts open at night. Since the lighting is artificial throughout, the wealth of famous master pieces and renowned paintings may b viewed as well by night as any other time. Announcement has been made that the museum will be open at an early date,

Should Stimulate Attendance.

The new night rate replaced a couper system whereby all purchasers of tickets were given a rebate coupon good for a quarter in trade at any concession or the grounds. This system was inaugurated several wekes ago at the instance of Trail attractions. It did not meet with a full degree of success, and hence the agitation for a straight rate of 25 cents. Argument was made that with the exhibit buildings closed it was not equitable to pay full fare, and that with the reduction the already heavy attendsince would be doubled or trebled.

None of the free attractions will be withdrawn under the new rate. There will be the usual open-air acrobatic feats and concerts by famous bands, and these, supplemented by the Trail and divers other attractions, should make the Exposition an irresistible drawing card for the even-

Saengerbund Coming in Force.

TACOMA Wash, July 11.—(Special.)— President John Anderson, of the Tacoma Saengerbund, is making elaborate prepa-rations for the trip to Portland of the German singing societies which take part in the Annual Nord Pacific Saengerfest. The Saengerbund is planning to overlook no opportunity to "boost Tacoma," and an elaborate scheme for advertising this city is being arranged.

The various German singing societies of the Northwest will gather in Tacoma July 20 and start for Portland that afternoon at 1 o'clock. The societies at Bel-lingham, Everett, Spokane and Seattle will take the train from Tacoma. It is expected that about 300 singers from this state and many of their friends will go to the Exposition. The train will be ap propriately decorated for the occasion.

COLORADO COMMISSION SUS-TAINS FAIR MANAGEMENT.

Declares Its Building Will Be Closed on Sunday and Thinks Trail Should Be Also.

If Trail Concessionaires win their fight for the privilege of Sunday opening it will not be until a new force that has appeared in the field has been vanquished. From a most unexpected quarter opposition to Sunday Trail opening broke out yesterday afternoon when the Colorado Exposition Board indorsed the attitude maintained to the present time by the Exposition. It is known, too, that other state and individual exhibitors are opposed to Sunday opening and when the issue comes will bring all possible into bear, tending to prevent Sunfluence to bear, tending to prevent Sun-day Trail amusements.

The action taken by the Colorado Exposition Board is based upon a desire to see Sunday observed along conventional lines. The labor question also figures in its action, for the commissioners take the stand that Exposition employes should not work more than six days in the week. They not only oppose Trail opening but decided to close the Colorado exhibit building on Sunday, although they will not ask that other states do like-wise. The board will also make an effort to have their mining exhibit in the Mining building closed on Sunday.

"We do not see the necessity for running daily amusement features into Sunday," said Secretary John T. Burns, in discussing the action of the board. There are six days in which to see Trail attractions and the seventh should be maintained along exactly the lines that have been decided upon by the Exposition management. Colorado has made an ap-propriation for an exhibit and building here, and as representatives of that state we do not feel justified in keeping our building open Sundays, but that is a matter for each State Commission to decide for itself. However the opening of the Trail should not be permitted. The shows there are wholesome enough and are un-doubtedly great amusement features, but they should be content with wix days business. I believe that if the matter is brought to an issue opposition will spring up on every hand as I have heard many expressions against Sunday Trail opening."

The Colorado Board at its meeting also made preparations for the reception of a big party of excursionists that is being organized to participate in Colorado day at the Fair, August 22 Secretary Burns, who has just returned from Denver, reported that the trade organizations of Denver, Colorado Springs and Pueblo in-tended to make Colorado day one of the great occasions of the Exposition. Strong effort is being made by the association to impress upon the Na-tional legislative body the necessity of of a bill. But the scope of the battle that is being waged against impure food is enlarging every year and is assuming such proportions that the advocates of pure food, assembled in Portland to attend the convention, are beginning to hope that Congress will at last awaken to the conditions. Horace Ankeny, State Dairy and Food Commissioner of Ohio, was one of the principal speakers at the convention yesterday. He described at length the many imitation articles unloaded upon the unsuspecting public, and told of the bad results that followed. As an illustration, he said that imitation syrup, prepared for about 30 cents a gallon, was sold as the genuine article at $2 a gallon. He said that oftentimes it contained no maple syrup whatever, being composed of many dif-ferent ingredients. He also said that state laws provide penalties for the sale of impure food, but that it was impossible to punish the retailer when he secured the imitation product in good faith from a jobber from another state. He said a National law directed at the manufacturers would be th only effective remedy. Milk Supply of Large Cities,

Another interesting address was de-livered by R. M. Patterson, Assistant State Food Commissioner of Illinois, who spoke on "Controlling the Milk Supply of a Large City." In the course of his address, he said that the milk supply was the greatest and most vital problem of pure-food work. He told of the necessity of milk, how carefully becoming impure, and the methods employed by unscrupulous dealers in de-ceiving the public. He stated that the 640,000 quarts of milk used in Chicago daily came from a distance of 50 miles on an average.

The members of the association are thinking seriously of endeavoring to interest the American Medical Association in the matter of pure food. It has been proposed to appoint a combined committee, consisting of members of the National Association of State Dairy and Food Departments, and the Ameriand Food Departments, and the Ameri-can Medical Association, to take the matter under consideration.
