

BOX ORDER IS FAR-REACHING

Its Rigid Enforcement Is the Intention of Chief of Police.

LIQUOR MEN VISIT MAYOR

They Declare That If It Is Followed Out to the Letter, Ladies' Grills in Restaurants of City Will Be Closed.

Box Order Issued.

Chief of Police Gritzmacher issued the following order yesterday morning, addressing it to the Captains:

Inasmuch as the order issued some days ago to the officers to notify saloon and restaurant keepers in whose places spirituous and malt liquors are sold, to remove boxes, etc., from their places of business was not generally understood as to the time of removing the same therefrom; therefore, it is the wish of His Honor, Mayor Lane, that every saloon and restaurant keeper be notified once more that unless such boxes, etc., are removed from their places of business by Saturday, July 15, 1905, warrants will be issued for the violators of the ordinance governing such cases.

This also includes all signs on doors and other entrances signifying that such entrances are for any particular class of persons.

This order also includes all places wherein women are employed, or permitted to sing or dance or play musical instruments, and it further includes all so-called variety theaters wherein liquors are sold and women allowed to act, sing and dance.

The Captains of Police will instruct the officers of their respective districts at once to notify all saloon and restaurant keepers on their districts of this order.

That Mayor Lane fully intends to carry out his anti-election promises relative to certain local reforms, is now pretty generally conceded. He argues that he is not responsible for the creation of the laws, but is liable for their enforcement, and that he is governed accordingly. So the chances are he will set a merry pace within the next few days in connection with the enforcement of several old ordinances bearing upon subjects that have heretofore been regarded as of the dead-letter variety.

The order of the Acting Chief of Police is one of the direct results of the Mayor's instructions, and it seems to be a foregone conclusion that no life threat is implied therein.

Conference Is Held.

In an endeavor to find a solution of the box problem a conference was held yesterday morning in the Mayor's office between a committee of the Brewers and Wholesale Liquor Dealers Association and a committee appointed by Mayor Lane. The liquor interests were represented by F. W. Wessinger, Theodore Galland, F. H. Rothchild and A. Crofton. The Mayor's committee consisted of State Senator C. W. Nottingham, O. P. M. Jamieson, Miller Murdoch and John Bain, the last three being members of the Municipal Association.

It appears that the present box ordinance is more drastic than even its framers had supposed, and the Mayor has stated that under its provisions he would be compelled to prevent liquor being served in any apartment whatever of any restaurant or saloon, except in the main bar or dining-room.

Would Close Ladies Grills.

The representatives of the liquor interests pointed out that the ladies grill room in such resorts as The Quella, The Tavern, Kruse's and other cafes. They claimed that this construction of the ordinance would prevent any person from entering such party, and that it would be impossible to serve banquets, large or small, except in the public dining-room. They contended also that the present ordinance absolutely prevented any person having any privacy at meals, and averred that there was no reason why the entire restaurant-going public should be interfered with in order to prevent the abuse of boxes.

Representatives of the Municipal Association stated that the sole object of the box ordinance was to prevent the abuse of meals or drinks served in private, and on this basis were assured of the hearty co-operation of the brewers and wholesale liquor dealers.

Those present at the meeting refused to make any statement as to the conclusion reached, but it is understood that they generally agreed that the object sought could be attained by a modification of the box ordinance. It is probable that the conference will ask the Council to amend the ordinance so that some privacy may be obtained by those people who eat and drink down town, and at the same time prevent, so far as is possible, the abuse of boxes by young girls who frequent them.

GOVERNOR HERRICK HERE

Ohio's Chief Executive Comes to See the Exposition.

Governor Myron T. Herrick, of Ohio, has come to Portland to see the Fair. He arrived yesterday, with a party of friends. The Governor is on his annual vacation tour, and will spend several days in different parts of Oregon. With him are Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Turner, T. W. Rankin and W. F. Burdell, of Ohio.

Governor Herrick is interested in irrigation, and in the Government's reclamation projects. Therefore he has determined to examine conditions in Oregon on his present trip, making a personal inspection of several of the works. The Ohio Society has planned to entertain Governor Herrick during his stay in the city. This afternoon at 2 o'clock the society will give a reception in his honor at the Oregon building. The programme will be opened with music by the Administration band, and there will be an address of welcome by President Goode and a response by Mr. Burdell. Governor Herrick will also speak.

SCHLESSINGER IN TROUBLE

Woman Patient Accuses Him of Beating Her.

Louis Schlessinger, calling himself a spiritual healer of great renown, was on trial before Municipal Judge Cameron yesterday, on charges of assaulting and beating Emily Heverin, and of practicing medicine, without a license. The complainant gave her testimony, after which the defendant, who totters under the weight of 83 years, took the stand and denied her allegations. The case was then continued for further hearing and for arguments by counsel.

Emily Heverin swore that she heard Schlessinger lecture, declaring he could cure all manner of diseases without surgery. She went to him, she said, and he immediately told her she had a cancer and would die if operated on by surgeons. He said he could cure her, and gave her medicine in the form of roots, which she swore, completely overcame her, and resulted in terrible illness. She paid him $10, which she demanded back after regaining her health sufficiently to go to his office. She was accompanied by her mother, Schlessinger, she said, declared he had never known her, ordered her out and assaulted her when she demanded her $10.

A druggist was called to examine the root given by Schlessinger, and it was pronounced to be common herb, root. Schlessinger testified it was some wonderful root imported from India.

Schlessinger declared he never makes charges for his services; that he did not charge Emily Heverin for the herbs he gave her, and that he did not assault her. Schlessinger has traveled extensively, and has been arrested numerous times. He was ordered out of Spokane recently.

DR. JOHN WELCH IS DEAD

Passing of One of the Best-Known Dentists in Northwest.

Dr. John Welch, a prominent and the oldest dentist in the city, died yesterday afternoon at his home, 80 East Sixteenth street North, after a lingering illness. Dr. Welch was born in Mineral Point, Wis., in 1826, and in 1850 came to California with his father, and after migrating for some time returned East. He received his academic education at the Rock Island (Ill.) Seminary, and began the study of dentistry with Dr. W. J. Lawrence, of Lyons, Ia. He was married to Miss Elizabeth Clements in 1857, and moved to Oregon in 1863, settling first at Oregon City, where he engaged in the practice of his profession until 1876, when he came to Portland and opened an office, still retaining his business at Oregon City.

The Late Dr. John Welch.

In Portland Dr. Welch at once took high rank within the profession. In connection with his dental business he conducted an extensive dental supply depot in Portland, and furnished supplies throughout the Northwest. He was a member of the O. O. F., and served for some time on the State Board of Dental Examiners.

While Sylvester Pennoyer was Mayor of Portland, Dr. Welch was appointed a member of the Board of Fire Commissioners, serving two years. He was a genial citizen, well known and popular in Portland and in the state. He was delegate to both conventions which nominated Bryan. He leaves a wife and the following children: Dr. William Edward Welch, Pittsburg, Kan.; Dr. John C. Welch, Mrs. E. E. Caywood, Henry, Catherine, Beuben, Annie and Benjamin, Portland. He also leaves a brother, W. M. Welch, of Silverton. The funeral will take place from the late residence at 11 o'clock tomorrow morning.
