HOOD STORMED FROM TWO SIDES

Fifty-Seven Climbers of Three Clubs Succeed in Reaching the Summit.

MAGNIFICENT

Some of the Visitors Continue Their Journey to the Other Side From Government Camp and Cloud Cap Inn.

HOOD RIVER, Or., July 11 .- (Special)-Fifty-seven mountain-climbing club members, representing the Slerra, the Appalachian and the Mazama clubs, gained the summit of Mount Hood today. No accidents marred the pleasure of the trip and so clear was the atmosphere that the top of Shasin was plainly distinct to the southward. The climbers from the south side reached the summit nearly two hours shead of those from Cloud Cap Inn.

The temperature was excesively cold, but by gaining a sheltered nook no discomfort was experienced. The party from Cloud Cap Inn, 35 in number, left the snow line about 7:30 in the morning and, with Peter Feithausen as guide, reached the summit soon after 2 o'clock. Those from the south side left Banger camp at 4:30 and got to the top between 12 and 1 o'clock. Guide Yocum, from Government Camp, piloted this party. A large number of photographs were secured at points along the trip. Many crossed down to Government Camp, while others came back by way of the north side. It was a jolly party which gathered to register their names on the summit, 11,225 feet above the level of the sea. It was one of the largest parties ever taken to the top from the Inn and the most successful of all the trips. Those who reached the summit were:

E. G. Knapp, San Francisco; Miss Lilia Mc-Kinney, San Francisco; Miss E. B. Catton, San Francisco; Miss Florence Mayhew Niles, Oegood Putnam, San Francisco; A. T. Bar-ton, San Francisco; Professor Joseph N. La-conte, University of California; Mr. and Mrs. Willoughby Rodman, Loe Angeles, J. N. Hitne, Des Moines; P. Salmon, Vancouver; Walter H. WIRE STRIKE IS THREATENED

Northern Pacific and Great Northern Systems Are Involved.

SPOKANE, Wash., July 11 .- Operators identified with the order of Rail-road Telegraphers on the Northern Pacitic and the Great Northern systems are expected to strike at noon tomorunless a final conference in St Paul changes the situation. The men demand an increase of $5 in the mintmum wages, which here are $55 and $60 month; some concession in respect to hours, and the reinstatement of mer discharged on the Northern Pacific. The latter demand is probably the most serious question to settle, as the com-pany says the discharges must stand to enforce discipline.

Superintendent A. Beamer, of the Northern Pacific, stated today that if the strike is called tomorrow he does not believe more than 13 per cent of operators on the Idaho division obey the call, because of the men's knowledge of the circumstances leading to the discharge of the men whose cases are at issue, and that the company had made full arrangements company had made full arrangements corner, the firemen lost control of corner, the firemen lost control of corner, the firemen lost control of

Joseph B. Keeney

WALLA WALLA. Wash , July 11 -(Special.)—Joseph B. Keeney, a veteran stage contractor of the early days in the West, died very suddenly in this city yesterday, at the age of 75. He left a widow, three daughters and two sons.

Mr. Keeney came to California from Indiana in 1853 and soon became identified with the star route contractors, who controlled nearly all the stage lines in California, Oregon, idaho and Montana. He was also at one time in his career identified with the Wells, Fargo Express Company. During the past ten years, and up to two years ago, he owned the stage route from Elgin, Or., to Enterprise and other towns in Wallowa County. He had accumulated considerable property in both Oregon and Washington.

City Officer a Very Popular Man and Relatives Will Make Good Any Deficit.

CORVALLIS, Or., July 11.—(Special.)— At the meeting of the City Council last night was read the resignation of E. P. Greffoz, who has served the city as Police Judge for the past ten years, and was re-elected to office less than two months ago without opposition. Con-nected with the resignation is the fact that two weeks ago Mr. Greffoz left Corvallis, ostensibly to visit the Fair, but whose whereabouts are, for the present, unknown to his family and friends. Three letters, one of them conveying the resignation, have been received, but neither gives any lukling of the missing officers. H. H. Turner and A. T. Kelliher Arrested at Salem.

CHICAGO MAN SHOWS FIGHT

Fraud Is Alleged to Have Been Prac ticed in Securing Tracts of Oregon School Land-Arraigned in the Afternoon.

SALEM. Or.; July 11 - (Special.) - Justice of the Peace H. H. Turner, of this city, and A. T. Kelliher, of Chicago, were arrested today upon indictments charging them with the forgery of applications for the purchase of state school land. The indictments were presented by the grand jury three months ago, but the arrests were not made until today, for the reason that Kelliher has been out of the state. The two men were arraigned this afternoon and were given until Thursday to plead to the two joint indictments filed against them. Specifically the charge is that in Au gust, 1902, the defendants forged applications to purchase state school land, signing the names "J. F. Austin and H. L. Palmer" to applications in the usual blank forms. The applications bear the to steal. seal and signature of Charles E. Lenon, a notary public in this city. The prosecution expects to show that Turner took the applications to Lenon and told him that the papers had been signed by the persons whose names appeared thereoand asked Lenon to affix his name and scal as notary. Lenon, desiring to be accommodating, acted as requested, though neither of the persons whose affiduvits he recorded had ever been see Kelliher's connection with the transact tion does not appear, but presumably the certificates of sale procured upon these applications were afterward assigned to him, and the prosecution expects to show that he was a party to the fraud.

Sheriff Culver smiled good naturedly and gently suggested that Keillher go up to the courthouse at once, thereby placing one of Oregon's largest land operators under arrest and precipitating a legal contest that promises to be a warm one. Turner promised to be in court at I o'clock without the formality of an ar-rest, but when court convened he was not there. The court waited a few moments and Judge Bennett suggested that the prosecution had no right to expect a man to be there unless a warrant had served on him. Sheriff Culver out and soon returned with Justice Turn-

Charged With Perjury in Idaho Land-Fraud Cases.

BOISE, Idaho, July 11 .- (Special.) -The first indictment by the special United States grand jury investigating timber frauds in Idaho was found to day. It charges Ivan R. Cornell, o perjury on two counts. The action was taken after Cornell himself had appeared before the grand jury for of affidavits.

The first count charges Cornell with having made false sworn statements June 19, 1903, in making his entry upon timber claim in the Lewiston land district, when he asserted that the entry was made for his own use and benefit, while in fact he applied for the purchase of the lands in question as the agent of George N. Kester, of Lewiston, and other persons to the grand jury unknown. count recites that in making the final proof on the timber claim in question he testified in response to questions that he had received the money from his father and other members of his own family four or five days previous, when, in fact, it was furnished him by Mr. Kester on the same day, September 10, 1903.

Cornell's timber and stone entry was for lots 6 and 7 and the east half of the southwest quarter of section 27, township 40 north, range 1 west, in Latah County. The entry was made June 19, 1903, and the final proof on September 10 of the same year. Both oaths were taken before J. B. West. Register of the Lewiston Land Office. Cornell had been on the stand Monday afternoon and was still retained a witness. When the indictment was re-turned to the court, a bench warrant for his arrest was issued by direction of Judge Beatty, and was served at once by Deputy United States Marshal Byron. The indicted man was arraigned immediately. A plea of not guilty was entered, with the privilege of entering a demurrer if it were found advisable. His bond was fixed at $1000, but it had not been furnished late in Candidacy Declared for Congress From First District.

CANDIDATES FOR CONGRESS.

Toose, T. R. Ray, W. C. Hawley. Jackson County-W. I. Vawter. Linn County-P. R. Ketly. Lane County-I. H. Bingham.

SALEM, July 11 -- (Special.)-Charles B Moores, of this city, has entered the for the Republican nomination for gressman from the First District, giving Marion County four aspirants. The others are: Walter L. Tooze, T. B. Kay and W. C. Hawley, though the latter two have not yet declared their intentions.

The entry of Moores into the contest promises to give the primary campaignr lively interest, for Moores is a campaigner of endless resources. In serious debate, witty repartee and story telling, he is always ready; he is a good "mixer," though not as good a handshaker as the unequaled Hermann; he is well posted on National subjects, widely acquainted over the district, and a tireless worker. His friends predict that if he does not win will at least make his opponents "go Tooze, Kay and Hawley are also good sublic speakers, and if the primary contest should develop into a stump-speaking campaign, the people of this Congressiona district will learn more about present-day problems in National politics than they have ever known before. In a primary campaign, where the contest is between Republicans, there can be no appeals to party records and party loyalty, for the question will not be whether the party has shown itself worthy of continuance in power, but rather which of the candi-dates is best fitted to represent the Republicans of Oregon in the contest against the Democrats.

What the aspirant for a nomination thinks or knows about National questions and what he can do for Oregon will receive the consideration of voters when they go to the primaries. After a candl date has been nominated and the Demo crats try to defeat him, the fight on party lines will begin. Marion County has more than half the probable candidates for the Congressional nomination. The others who are counted as candidates are: W. I. Vawter, of Jackson County; P. R. Kelly, of Linn, and I. H. Bingham, of Lane. All of these gentlemen are good public speakers.

Walter L. Tooze is the most polished orator of the list, but is not given much to humor. Kay and Bingham pay little attention to oratorical style, but strike out from the shoulder in a rough-andready way. Hawley is naturally a serious debater, and handles his subjects as one might expect a college professor to do after making a thorough study of political economy in all its phases. He is also a good story-teller. Vawter and Kelly are ready speakers and have a forceful way of putting their arguments, but sel-dom resort to stories in their public ad-

All the men named have excellent voice tention of their fellow-Congressmen. All have been active campaigners for the Republican party, and if they go on the stump before the primary election, it is safe to say there will be some speech-making that will be worth hearing.

Alleged Forgery in Illinois. SEATTLE, Wash., July 11 .- (Special.)—Edward J. Lewis, wanted at Wheaton, Ill., for forgery, says he was arrested because members of the same fraternity betrayed his confidence when he asked for temporary aid. The op portunity of dividing $500 reward of fered for Lewis' arrest is declared to have been the tempting balt that led to the fall of the brother fraternit;

Lewis is, or claims to be, a Mason He is charged with having forged mortgages at Wheaton and vicinity, upon which he realized amounts variously estimated from $40,300 to $100,-Since last October he has been a fugitive from justice, and in the meantime has traveled about the world. He has been in Seattle for three weeks. Immediately after Lewis' arrival here he went to the Police Station to see whether he was safe. He wandered in to ask the location of James street, a block distant. No one paid any attention to him and Lewis settled down in comfort. While awaiting a remittance, Lewis went to another Mason and made him self known. This man acknowledges he guaranteed Lewis' board bill, but inslats he did not betray the fugitive But Lewis claims he told the brother Mason that he intended to go to Everett, and another Masonic brother, who was at one time a student in the university where Lewis had officiated as umpire in college games, found him on the dock and pointed him out to the The arresting officers acknowledge Lewis was shown to them by a

RESOLVES AGAINST CHINESE

Aberdeen Chamber of Commerce Wires to the President.

ABERDEEN, Wash., July 11 .- (Special.) -At a meeting of the Chamber of Com-merce, action was taken looking to the improvement of Gray's Harbor, which is said to need a large appropriation for the completion of the south jetty and the building of the north one, besides a good deal of dredging. The attention of Washington representatives is to called, and especially by the chamber, to the needs of the waterway.

The chamber turned down a series of resolutions adopted by the Portland Chamber of Commerce in regard to Chinese immigration. For a long time Chiese have been kept absolutely from the Gray's Harbor country, except as to their temporary employment in the fish-can-ning factories. The resolution adopted by the chamber of this city is as follows: Resolved, That the Aberdeen Chamber of Commerce deplores the fact that greed for gain through Chinese slaves has blinded the Portland Chamber of Commerce into sendling out a circular letter to various Pacific Coast eitles asking that the bars be let down and that our country be made a prey to Chinese hordes, of which they never would or could become citizens; that it de-precates such action and protests against alowing our country to be overrun with a class of labor which would in five yes create a condition beside which the negro question would pale into insignificance.
