

DECLINE IN SUGAR

Market Takes a Sharp Drop of Twenty Cents.

DUE TO FALL IN RAW

Scarcity of Fruit Still Checks Trading on Front Street—Better Demand for Wheat, but Offerings Are Light.

SUGAR—20-cent decline in all markets, due to break in raw sugar at New York. FRUIT—Trade still checked by lack of offerings. VEGETABLES—Market well supplied with tomatoes. POTATOES—Local Oregon plentiful and selling at wide range. BUTTER—Front-street receipts show no falling off. EGGS—All kinds in strong demand at old prices. POULTRY—Chicken firm, but ducks and geese not wanted. WHEAT—Stronger on better California demand. Available supply light. FLOUR—Local movement good, but no export business.

After showing much steadiness for the good part of a month, the sugar market resumed its retrograde movement yesterday, declining 20 cents on all refined grades. The drop was solely in response to a similar fall in the spot New York market. The market was a hundred to a hundred and twenty cents a hundred in the afternoon. Lower prices for raw sugar at New York caused the break in refined grades there. The Eastern market at the decline exhibits no strength whatever, and a further drop would cause to curtail on the part of the trade. It is a hard-to-mouth proposition with the refiners who are only buying raw as they need them.

FRUIT STILL SCARCE

Front Street Was Never So Bare of Stocks Before.

Never in the history of the jobbing trade has front street been so bare of fruit as it was yesterday. Aside from a lot of water-melons and a few small shipments of local fruit, nothing at all came in in the forenoon. All dealers have big orders placed at shipping points but are unable to get the goods. It is an unfortunate condition, as the demand is very strong now, and an enormous business would be done were stocks available. Two cars of Fresno peaches, destined for northern points, that had been in a wreck at Danmar, were sold by the railroad company here. About half the lot was saved. A car of cantaloupes arrived too late for the day's business. About 75 boxes of Crawford peaches made up the available lot. These were sold quickly at $1.10 a box, some of the crates were offered and brought $1.125. These were largely very overripe on hand. Rings readily brought 10¢ per crate, and the commonest offerings were in demand at 7 cents. One firm that was fortunate enough to have a supply of lemons on hand did a thriving trade in them at 25¢.

Plenty of tomatoes came in from local points, and some green ones from California. Green corn, beans, lettuce and cucumbers were also plentiful from receipts of the day before. New Oregon peaches, some of which were sold at the wide range of 75 cents to $1.10. New California were offered at $1.125. There is no longer any demand for old potatoes.

STRONGER DEMAND FOR WHEAT

But Trading is Light as Available Supplies Are Small.

More strength was shown in the wheat market yesterday, owing to the urgency of the California demand. Trading, however, was not much increased, as the available supply was small. Nearly all the grain in the Northwest now is in the hands of millers. Some of these have cleaned out their surplus stock, but those who still have stocks on hand will hold them. Needing some old grain to mix with the new, millers were quoted yesterday at $2.05 a bushel, and $1.95 a bushel for the Valley. No cents is given as the outside quotation.

The flour market has shown no new developments in the past week. Local trade is of normal proportions, but there is practically nothing doing in an export way.

BUTTER STILL PLENTIFUL

No Increase Yet in Receipts from Country.

Butter continues in heavy supply on front street. The trade expects receipts to fall off by this time, as the pastures have begun to dry up, but there is no sign yet of a decrease, and the market therefore continues weak. Eggs sold well yesterday at former prices. No many Oregon came in, but there was a plentiful supply of Eastern to draw upon. There was a strong demand for chickens that cleaned up all the arrivals. Geese and ducks were not wanted.

Bank Clearings.

Bank clearings at the Northwestern cities yesterday were as follows:
