WHITE SWAN ONE OF SPEAKERS

Indian Chief Addresses the Methodist Congress on Christianity.

TALKS IN YAKIMA TONGUE

Rev. John Flinn, Veteran Circuit Rider, Expresses His Happiness

> at the Conference and Talks of Past.

Before delving into the questions of latter-day evangelism, the Methodist Congress yesterday harked back to the begin-nings, and venerable pioneers sat attentive through the morning session, recall ing something of their own enthusiastic youths in the interests of religion, such as the speakers told of to them. And to bind the congress more firmly to the past, Chief White Swan, of the Yakimas, spoke. The old Indian, who was haptized by Jason Lee, was dressed in the costume of his tribe, presenting a picturesque appearance, and though he spoke in the Yukima language, his interpreter followed him closely, and the full effect of his native oratory could be felt. He told of the first missionaries and their seemingly hopeless attempts to interest the savages in retion, and many an old missionary sitting

Chief White Swan's Address. "But," said the Indian, marking his words with action, "we began to feel a burning down here in our hearts, and we rose up, and, taking off our outer clothing, and prayed." White Swan, in speaking, threw off his blanket and his outer jacket and kneeled before the audience in his shirt. But, interesting as White Swan made himself, he could not carry his audience into the past so completely as Rev. John Flinn, one of the old circuit riders, such as were called "Father" in the scattered nunities which they visited period-r. He is a remarkably well-preserved man for his years, and though an Irish-man by birth, reminds one more of the old Southern preacher, who can only be read about these days.

"I am happy today," said the old minister, "but I have never been so happy as when riding on my wide circuits." He closed by introducing George Waters, a Yakima Indian, one of the first converts Methodism in the Oregon country. Other speakers were D. G. LeSourd, T. F. al, T. L. Jones and A. J. Joslyn. Rev. L. E. Rockwell presided, and Bishops foore and Thoburn and W. B. Hollings-ead were on the platform. Dr. R. A. ### Services in Evening.

At the evening session the general topic speakers all advocated aggressive methods. The Methodists of this day are as much inclined as John Wesley himself to seek out the unbeliever and secure his attention even against his will. The speakers of last night, W. T. Euster, of Moscow, Idaho, Clarence True Wilson illustrated hallad singer, is possessed and W. W. Van Orsdel, took up the various phases of the question, particular-iy in regard to the minister's part, which is of course the leading one. Dr. Clarence True Wilson, of the Grace Methodist Episcopal Church, placed particular stress on the good that could be done by the devout minister who tended daily to his people and never slacked in his efforts. Dr. Wilson's fellow preachers were expecting such an address from him and believe that in it he wished to disparage such evangelistic movements as that conducted by Dr. Chapman here some months ago.

WILL ASK FOR A DEPOT

Committee of East Siders to Confer With General Manager O'Brien.

At a meeting of the general committee working to secure a freight and passen-ger depot on the East Side, held yesterday afternoon, Joseph Buchtel presiding, George C. Flanders, John J. Ross and M. W. Kincald, special committee on statistics, submitted a report. This committee canvassed the section between East Clay and Burnside streets and Grand avenue and the Willamette River, and interviewed 65 firms, who do more or less business from this section, with the following re-

"We find that the tonnage for 64 of these firms amounts to 71,722 tons a year. or 6977 cars, figuring on a basis of 12 tons to the car; this means freight shipped in and out. After carefully figuring this over, we find that 45 per cent of all this tonnage goes out over the Southern Pacific Company and the O. R. & N. The Standard Oil Company's local shipments over the Southern Pacific and O. R. & N. Co.'s lines are approximately 5418 tons per annum, or 456 carloads. This does not include incoming or outgoing freight in carload lots. W. have gone into this matter carefully, and the above figures are very conservative. We have been careful in all cases not to overestimate, but on the other hand we

Mr. Flanders, of the Standard Oil Company, said that the railroad fa cilities in Portland were not now sufficient and girl romance, such as has not been for handling freight, and that an East Side depot would furnish a crying relief to shippers. It was decided to lay these statistics before General Manager J. P. O'Brien at once. For this purpose a com-mittee consisting of fifteen business men and citizens will be appointed to confer with the general manager. This committee will be named by tomorrow by the chairman, after consultation with those interested in securing the freight and pas-

"A FOOL AND HIS MONEY." Effort to Save Restaurants From Order.

BOX ORDINANCE QUESTION

Attorneys Are Secking That Its Application May Not Be Enforced Where Meals Are Served to Their Patrons,

Indications are that further legal steps will be taken to prevent the enforcemen of the box ordinance in its most stringent There will be no attempt to petuate boxes, because it is conceded by saloonkeepers that boxes are a thing of the past, but an effort will be made to have the courts decide that liquors can e sold in open rooms, attached to sa-cons, and where meals are served. There are quite a number of such places, and there are also several restaurants where liquors and wines are served. Thomas O'Dzy and John F. Logan are said to be vestigating the matter to determine if any further action of a legal nature be taken to prevent the operation of the ordinance, so far as it refers to open dining-rooms attached to saloons or restaurants. The Supreme Court has already decided that the ordinance as a whole is good. Its main provisions are:

Section 1-No person engaged in ceiling spir-ituous, mait or fermented liquors or wines in quantities less than one quart in any saloon, barroom or restaurant in the City of Port-land shall sell any liquor to be delivered or used or that shall be delivered or used in any side room, back room, upper room or other apartment in the same or an adjoining and shall not maintain therein therewith any alcove, booth or bo or shall have or maintain any private or separate entrance for any particular class of customers, or any words or sign upon any trance signifying that such entrance is ladies or families or for any particular class of persons, or is a private entrance to such barroom, ealoon or restaurant or to any other of persona or is a private entrance to such barroom, calcon or restaurant or to any other apartment used in connection therewith; provided, that nothing berein contained shall probablit the serving of such liquor to guests in a hotel having a valid license to sell the

There is considerable dispute regarding the meaning of some of the provision especially the one relating to a room con-taining more than 160 square feet of floor space, and whether or not drinks may be dispensed in such a room.

To all he has replied that the order as originally given still stands and cannot be altered; that it was meant to be strictly enforced, and that it is going to be enforced.

August Erickson, proprietor of a large aloon, concert hall and restaurant on street, between Second and Third, has asked to be permitted to keep his restaurant, run in connection with the saloon, open all night. He thinks the request reasonable, inasmuch as he says he is willing to lock up the barrooms inside an iron fence, and sell no drinks during forbidden hours. He also wants to retain his orchestra, composed of women, which is a big feature of his place. This request, made of Chief Gritzmacher, will have to be settled by City Attorney Mc-Nary.

He alleges further that Gibbonr was 79 years old and incompetent to make a will when he did so; that Dr. McKay was a stranger in blood to Gibbons, and that Mrs. Simmons, who was an adopted daughter, was bequeathed a disproportonate share of her rightful interest.

On March 24, 1882, Neppach and C. A Himple purchased 3216 acres of timber land near Gordon Creek from the Oregon & California Railroad Company through Paul Schulze, its land agent. Neppach paid $1286 as a partial payment and was to pay the balance in installments, and he subsequently succeeded to the right of Himple. A question arose whether under the grant of the United States Government the land belonged to the Oregon & California Railroad Company or the Northern Pacific Railroad Company, and a suit was brought. Pending the determination of the suit in the United ment for the lands was extended by Schulze. Neppach contended that Paul Schulze informed him that as he was land agent for both railroad companies he (Neppach) could complete the purchase no matter which company the suit was decided in favor of.

After many years' delay the case was finally decided in favor of the Oregon & California Railroad Company. Neppach offered to take the lands and complete payments and his offer was refused. The company contended that the time of payment had never been ex-tended; that Paul Schulze was not vested with any such authority, and that the extension agreement, if there was one, was not in writing, and was not valid. There were other important questions involved. Neppach demanded the lands, alleging the value of the 226 acres to be more than $250,000. The com-pany refused to deliver, and through Paxton, Beach & Simon, attorneys, he entered suit. On December 19, 1901, a jury in Judge Frazer's court returned verdict in his favor for $47,000 damages motion for a new trial was de The railroad company next appealed to the Supreme Court and lost. Neppach at that time offered to take the lands and pay for them and forego the money judgment. A motion for a rehearing was denied. Good digestion calls for strong digestive organs, and strength comes from a supply of good rich blood. For this reason Mr. Baysson took Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for the cure of indigestion.

"They have been my best doctor," he says. "I was suffering from dyspepsia. The pains in my stomach after meals were almost unbearable. My sleep was very irregular and my complexion was sallow. As the result of using eight boxes of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, about the merits of which I learned from friends in France, I have escaped all these troubles, and am able again to take easure in eating." A very simple story, but if it had not been for Dr. Williams' Pink Pills it might have been a tragic one. When discomfort begins with eating, fills up the intervals between meals with pain, and prevents sleep at night, there certainly cannot be much pleasure in living. A final general breaking down must be merely a question of time. Mr. Joseph Baysson is a native of Aix-les-Bains, France, but now resides at No. 2439 Larkin street, San Francisco, Cal. He is one of a great number who can testify to the remarkable efficacy of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills in the treatment of obstinate disorders of the stomach. If you would get rid of nausea, pain or burning in the stomach, vertigo, nervousness, insomnia, or any of the other miseries of a dyspeptic, get rid of the weakness of the digestive organs by the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. They are sold by druggists everywhere. Proper diet is, of course, a great aid in forwarding recovery once begun, and a little book, "What to Eat and How to Eat," may be obtained by any one who makes a request for it by writing to the Dr. Williams Medical Co., Schenectady, N.Y. This valuable diet book contains an important chapter on the simplest neans for the cure of constipation.
