Director Defines Position.

PORTLAND, July 14 - (To the Editor.)ince I have been quoted in your column as saying that I favor a change in the location of the new High School building about to be erected on the East Side, I ask the privilege to define my position.

I voted for the site already owned by the district, believing that particular block to be the choice of the taxpayers. On further consideration of the and from personal interviews with residents of larger and older cities, I realize that we are about to commit wise-and-pound-foolish blunder. Populous cities are now spending large sums of money in the purchase of play-grounds and air space in an effort to rem-Now is the time for us to profit by
