Oregon Supreme Court Also Declare Invalid the Proceedings for the Improvement of Tenth Street in Portland.

SALEM, Or., July 17 .- (Special.)-The SALEM, Or., July II.—(Special.)—The Supreme Court today awarded to the Oregon Iron & Steel Company the right to the possession of the meteoric rock found on the company's premises in Clackamas County in 1902, and removed therefrom by Ellis Hughes. The Supreme Court holds that the meteor was a deposit by nature, and became a part of the realty as soon as it had fallen, and therefore was the preserty of the company owning the the property of the company owning the proceeding, in violation of the provisions of the city charter.

In a suit on an usurious contract, the Supreme Court refused to apply the building and loan association rule, but indicated its opinion that the debt should be forfeited to the common school fund.

Oregon Iron and Steel Company, respondent, va Elite Hughes, appellant, from Clackamas County. T. A. McBride, Judge: affirmed; opinion by Chief Juellee Wolverton. Held, that a meteoric rock is a part of the real property upon which it falls, and evidence that Indians worshipped the rock and dipped their arrows in the water held in the Indians had dug the rock from the ground and acquired fittle to it as personal property. The question whether Indian ownership and abandonment is sufficient ground upon which to predicate title in the finder is not decided.

Gregon Transfer Company, the Cook & Klernan Transfer and Storage Company and Mary H. Couch, appellants, vs. City of Fortland, respondent, from Multinemal County; A. L. France, Judge; reversed; opinion by Junice Bean.

Proceedings were brought in the Fortland City Council for the improvement of Tenth street from Washington to Marshall and from Northrup to Front, the intervening space has been already improved. This suit was brought to enjoin the improvement for the reason that separate parts of a street were to be improved under one proceeding. In the court below the suit was dismised, but on appeal the decision is reversed, the Supreme Court holding that under section 375 of the city charter "the improvement of each street, or part thereof, shall be made under a separate proceeding.

The court holds that this provision does not resulted that a separate proceeding.

under a separate proceeding.

The court holds that this provision does not require that a separate proceeding be brought for each block, nor that each block shall be considered a separate part of a street because the cross street has already been improved, but where as in this case, the city expressly divides the street into sparate parts, with different classes of improvements, the proceeding must be regarded as one for the improvement of different portions of the street.

J. G. Darr, respondent, vs. Guaranty Savings & Loan Association et al., appellants, from Multinomah County; M. C. George, Judge; reversed and remanded.

This sult was brought to secure the cancellation of a mortgage upon the ground that the debt which it was given to secure had been fully paid. The mortgage provided for the payment of 6 per cent interest, a premium of 7 per cent and monthly dues of 60 cents on each $100 of the loan. The plaintiff sought to bring himself within the principle laid down by the Supreme Court in the building and ican association cases, in which it was held that where usuations contracts had been made through a misunderstanding of the statute governing building and loan associations, the payments would sit be credited upon the debt, with legal interest, but the debt would not be declared forfeited to the school fund.

The Supreme Court holds that in this case the plaintiff has not shown that the defendant is a building and ican association or that he is a member thereof. So far as appears "the contract is clearly neurious and the debt ought to be forfeited to the school fund." The case is remanded with lasting-pears "the contract is clearly neurious and the debt nught to be forfeited to the school fund." The case is remanded with instructhe debt augnt to be forfeited to the achool-fund." The case is remanded with instruc-tions that the demurrer to the complaint be austained and that such further pro-ceedings be taken as may be proper. M. E. Pogue, appellant, vs. N. Hamilton, Judge; reversed; opinion by Juntice Bean.

Held, that when the holder of a mortgage upon land upon which there are liens really agrees, in consideration of the payment of money to him, to protect the purchaser of each land against the liens, this is not an agreement to warrant title nor to answer for the debt of another, but is an original agreement of indemnity and need not be in writing. The cause of action under such agreement does not accrue until the purchaser has been injured by its breach.

J. H. McClung, appellant as W. E. Mc-Phesson, respondent, from Multinomah County; Alfred P. Sears, Jr. Judge; reversed and remanded; opinion by Juntice Moore.

This was a suit for the possession of the Tremon House, in Portland. In the Justice Court McClung prevalled, but in the Circuit Court McPhereon won. The Supreme Court reverses the Circuit Court and orders that judgment he rendered in accordance with that given in the Justice Court, in favor of McClung.

F. E. West, respondent, vs. J. W. Higgins, defendant, and Aetna Indemnity Company, appellant, and J. A. McKinnon, respondent, vs. same parties, and Octavia Ausplund, respondent vs. same parties, from Mulinomah County; Arthur L. Prazer, Judge; all three cases affirmed in opinions by Justice Moore.

Judge McIlhenny's action was based on the ground that Secretary of State Swanger failed to make a personal investigation of the affairs of the bank before making an application for a receiver. The court stated that the receiver had been appointed on representations which it had developed were based by Secretary of State Swanger on his impression of the conditions prevailing at the bank and its method of conducting business, and not on facts secured by a thorough investigation.

Miss Deimere, a passenger on one of the trains, became frightened, and in endeavoring to scale a high cliff fell a distance of 29 feet, breaking her left leg.

The jaguar and a polar bear occupied two compartments in a large cage that was loaded upon a flatcar of the train belonging to a circus. The cage was too high to enter the mouth of the tunnet, and as the cage struck the roof of the tunnel it was torn off. The keeper threw on the air brakes, stopping the train. He threw rocks at the bear and fired blank cartridges at the jaguar to keep them from escaping.

The animal was finally driven into a small cage, but before the door could be closed the train started and the jaguar again leaped for liberty. It dashed through the tunnel, but upon emerging at the other end found itself in a narrow cut. After some effort the animal was again captured and placed in his cage.

Strange Sights at Italian Celebration of Religious Feast.

NEW YORK, July II .- More than 100,000 Italians today congregated in the "Little Italy" of Hariem to celebrate the feast of Our Lady of Mount Carmel. They came from as far east as Boston and as far west as Pittsburg. From 30 miles around New York Italians came on foot, many of them barefoot as a still greater pen-

All day was spent in semi-religious feativities. About the colony were scattered altars of wood and timed before which the Italians knelt in the streets and on which many of them laid wax reproductions of fingers, limbs or other parts of the body which the prayer to the saint would heal. At a sireet parade the rear was made up of barefooted women and children carrying candles melting under the combined heat of their own light and the sun. Candles, many of which were expensive importations from Italy, were an important part of the feativities and it is estimated that more than seven tons of them were used to-day.

Hundreds of pilgrims from out of town were forced to live in the streets and 300 parolimen were detailed to preserve order.
