

ALL ASPECTS OF GRAFT

Justice Brewer Denounces It in All Forms.

TALKS TO INSURANCE MEN

Believes Equitable Exposure Will Benefit Insurance Business. Insidious Ways in Which Public Officials Graft.

MILWAUKEE, July 19.—Justice David Brewer, of the United States Supreme Court, delivered a short address before a large assemblage of life insurance agents in the Masonic building in this city to-night. He devoted most of his talk to modern graft, and praised President Roosevelt for his efforts to make public affairs pure and honest.

"This has been a year which may be characterized as one of great insurance upheaval," he said. "The result has been a public office in a public trust. There is today so much grafting going on among public officials as to startle us. I am not speaking now about the coarser kind of grafting, such as buying votes, paying money, etc., which we all condemn. I have reference to the more insidious ways in which the one holding public office is not carrying on the duties of that office with an eye single to his trust, in prostituting in one way or another that office for his own gain or the gain of his kind."

Judge Elam Recalls Strong Character of Benjamin Harrison.

Judge John D. Elam, of Indianapolis, member of the law firm of Miller, Elam, Fessler & Miller, one of the most important in the Middle West, is at Portland, accompanied by his wife. Judge Elam is an interesting man in very many respects, but the fact that he was for a number of years law partner with the late Benjamin Harrison, is perhaps most important. General Harrison, Judge Elam and W. H. H. Miller, afterward Attorney-General in Harrison's Cabinet, formed a partnership in 1842, which continued until 1855, when Harrison was inaugurated President.

Judge Elam Recalls Strong Character of Benjamin Harrison.

The danger of the skirt catching on the pommel, the necessity of sitting always too far back on a horse, the unavoidable extra pressure on the left side of the animal, the certainty of the saddle turning over the back, the slack, and the probable injury which the high pommel, or horn, would cause to the rider should she be rolled on, all avoided by relinquishing the side-saddle for the man.
